David Martin Seeking Senate Seat

State's GOP Head Is Fourth In Race

Curtis Says He 'Probably' Will File; Split Appears As Candidates Multiply

By JIM LARSON
Star Staff Writer

A wide split appeared in the top ranks of the Nebraska Republican Party Thursday night, with the big-wigs grabbing for the top prize of the 6-year U.S. Senate term.

The Associated Press reported that David Martin of Kearney, state Republican chairman, Thursday paid a $50 filing fee at Kearney as a candidate for the United States senator.

And Rep. Carl T. Curtis of Minden told the Lincoln Star that he "probably" would file for the post.

That left the race with four candidates and two "probables." Gov. Robert Crosby filed earlier Thursday for the position and State Senator "terrible Terry" Carpenter of Scottsbluff filed Wednesday. Walter A. Nielsen of Omaha filed last week before the death of Sen. Dwight Griswold.

Expect Split

The other "probable" is Theodore W. Metcalfe, lieutenant governor in 1931-33 and the father of the idea of issuing commissions as "admirals in the Nebraska Navy." Metcalfe announced from Omaha that he would probably file Friday.

It was possible that Martin's payment of the $50 filing fee in Kearney was to allow filing for the short (November-January) term as U.S. senator, but observers generally felt he had in mind the six-year term.

Some observers expect the numerous filings to split the regular party vote badly, with Carpenter, a "maverick," likely to gain by the division.

Curtis said he was awaiting "for the assurances from some of my friends as to their assistance and I anticipate it (the assistance) will be forthcoming."

Curtis indicated he would file soon, saying he presumed the assistance would be assured "in the near future."

Deny 'Pow-Wow'

Curtis was in Lincoln on his way back to Washington.

He was registered at the Cornhusker Hotel, as were Martin and Civil Defense Director Val Peterson, former Nebraska governor.

Curtis and Martin both denied holding any political pow-wow.

Peterson, said he had 'no comment at all' to any questions about the senate seat.

Martin previously had said he would make an announcement at noon Friday concerning his political plans.

No Comment

And in Lincoln Thursday night, the state chairman refused to comment on his filing, sticking by his original plans to hold a press conference at 9 a.m. Friday to make a statement for release at noon.

Martin also made no comment when he paid the fee at the office of Buffalo County Treasurer S. A. Wilson.

Martin, 47, is a native of Kearney. He has been active in the state Republican party since 1940, serving as state chairman since November, 1949.

GOP Offices

In his post as state chairman, he is also secretary-treasurer of the Midwest and Rocky Mountain State Chairmen's Association and a member of the GOP National Committee.

He has served as a national convention delegate, junior Founders Day president and national committeeman for the Young Republicans.

Martin has managed the L. D. Lumber Co., formerly operated by his father, since 1932. He now operates three yards.

Following his graduation from Kearney High School and Dartmouth College, he held posts with power companies in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Crosby Filing Opens Field For Governorship

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Interest shifted rapidly Thursday from who would get the "caretaker" appointment to the U.S. Senate to replace the late Sen. Dwight Griswold to who will now enter the Republican primary race for the full term and what new candidates may now file for governor.

Gov. Robert Crosby in filing for the senate opened the way for other ambitious gubernatorial candidates to get into the race without having to oppose an incumbent. The governor had not previously announced his future political plans.

Crosby Files For Senate Story On Page 10

Crosby indicated he will use the full-term race as a yardstick for his appointment of an interim successor to Griswold.

Won't Name Candidate

"I don't expect to appoint any one who will be a candidate for the full term," Crosby said in answer to questions. In his usual meticulous way of telling all details, he continued, "I am anxious to appoint one who will give full time to duties and not be distracted by undertaking personal campaigns."

While he said he did not want an opponent to his own ambitions "distracted by undertaking personal campaigns," the governor did not comment on distractions from his job as governor to seek a seat in the senate.

As to when he will appoint a successor to Griswold to serve approximately nine months the governor said, "very soon. I hope yet this week."

Many of the names advanced earlier as "possibilities" for appointment it was admitted were mentioned by friends only to give them a little "free publicity."

Among those believed to have a chance, although it was admitted that Crosby has a flair for doing the unexpected, include Martin, former Sen. Fred A. Seaton, assistant secretary of defense; Julius Cronin of O'Neill, president of the state bar association; Mrs. Arthur Bowring, Merriman, vice-chairman of the state committee; S. R. McKelvie, Valentine, former governor; and the governor's administrative assistant, James Diesing of Omaha.

Rumors were circulating Thursday night that Mrs. Arthur Bowring was to be appointed to fill the U.S. Senate vacancy left by the death of Sen. Dwight Griswold, but Gov. Robert Crosby denied the rumor.

Mrs. Bowring, a Merrimam ranch owner, is vice chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

Terry Raps State GOP Leadership

SCOTTSBLUFF (AP)—Asked to comment on the filing of Gov. Robert Crosby and State GOP Chairman David Martin of Kearney, for the U.S. Senate, State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff said Thursday night:

"I think it is a fine thing that both Crosby and Martin have filed and that now is the time for the people of the Republican Party in Nebraska to determine whether or not they are satisfied with the existing leadership or want a complete change, which I surely would give them but which no one else would."

Carpenter added it is still his opinion there is "nothing wrong with the Republican Party in Nebraska that a change in leadership won't correct." He has filed for the nomination.

Carpenter sees the Republican Party in the state suffering internal convulsions and said "as long as the party is having internal pains, this is the ideal time to determine the matter for some time to come."

The Scottsbluff state senator wondered about the relationship between Crosby and Martin.

"Martin said he would not run against Crosby for governor," Carpenter said. "I wonder now what has happened to that Damon and Pythias relationship. You would think the same friendship should prevail whether the governorship or a senatorship were at stake.

KANSAS CITY JURY FINDS:

Shoulders Lied In Greenlease Case

. . . Story On Ransom Tagged False

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Louis Shoulders, ex-St. Louis police lieutenant, Thursday was convicted of lying about the handling of the $600,000 Greenlease kidnap ransom, half of which still is missing.

After deliberating two hours and 15 minutes, a Federal District Court jury convicted Shoulders on the second ballot.

Sentence was deferred pending disposition of a motion for a new trial. Shoulders was granted 15 days to file the motion.

The maximum penalty on a perjury conviction is five years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

The former officer was convicted of lying before a Federal Grand Jury when he said two suitcases containing ransom money recovered from Carl Austin Hall were taken into a St. Louis police station shortly after Hall was arrested and booked.

Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady were executed last December for the kidnap-slaying of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease Sept. 18 in Kansas City.

A total of $303,720 of the ransom paid by the boy's father still is missing.

The government charged that Shoulders committed perjury in maintaining the money-packed suitcases were brought into the police station 15 to 20 minutes after Hall was booked Oct. 6. The prosecution said the suitcases weren't brought in until more than an hour later.

At Liberty

Shoulders, who broke down at one point in his testimony Wednesday, took the verdict without a show of emotion and left the courthouse hurriedly. He will remain at liberty under a $10,000 bond.

It was the second perjury conviction as the result of a Grand Jury's investigation into the missing ransom money. Elmer Dolan, suspended St. Louis patrolman, recently was convicted of a similar perjury charge. Dolan, who helped Shoulders arrest Hall, filed a motion Thursday for a new trial.

The former officer told the Grand Jury that Hall was booked and "in the meantime, I think" Dolan took one of these suitcases back into Shoulders' office. Wednesday Shoulders said the two suitcases were brought into the station after Hall had been booked and put in a cell.

'Informer' Angle Enters A-Bomb Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The strange case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, who directed the building of the first atomic bomb and now is cut off from all atomic secrets, developed a strange new angle.

Another high-ranking scientist, Dr. Edward U. Condon—who likewise has been under fire on security grounds—was quoted as saying in 1949 that it looked as if Oppenheimer was "turning informer" in the hope of shielding himself from Red charges.

Several newspapers published letters they said Condon wrote—one to Oppenheimer himself—after the noted physicist testified before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1949. Two Senate committees were reliably reported to have copies of these letters.

Thursday the New York Journal American and the Daily News said Dr. Condon, head of the U.S. Bureau of Standards at that time, told Oppenheimer in a letter soon afterward:

"One is tempted to feel that you are foolish as to think you can buy immunity for yourself by turning informer x x x you know very well that once these people decide to go into your own dossier and make it public that it will make the revelations that have been made so far look pretty tame.

Rain, Snow And Dust Pay April Visit

Nebraska's changeable April weather was due to settle down again Friday after a day that saw needed showers fall in much of the state and light snow in the west. Lincoln's rainfall totaled .13.

Forecasters said the cool air mass, scheduled to drop temperatures near or below the freezing level in much of the state early Friday, would hang on through the day.

Much of central and eastern Nebraska received much needed rain Thursday as a cool air mass moved across the state. In the west, Sidney, Chadron and Scottsbluff were among points getting light snow, the Associated Press said.

Other spots in central and western Nebraska were blitzed by severe dust storms Thursday afternoon and cars on the highways had to resort to headlights to make much headway.

Rainfall was refreshing, but far from plentiful. Osceola reported .60, while Gresham had .50. Other reports included Seward .18, Stromsburg .36, Wahoo .22, York .14, David City .10 and Crete .03.

Also receiving moisture were Burwell .09, Chadron .29, Grand Island .11, Lexington .08 and Omaha .23.

State Reformatory Escapee Nabbed In Short Order

A 34-year-old State Reformatory escapee, Harley Donaldson, was apprehended by York County authorities Thursday evening after he walked from a work detail earlier in the day.

Donaldson was sentenced to the reformatory on a bad check charge on Feb. 10. He had a term of 16 months.

The apprehended escapee was a trustee on a dairy detail with 10 other men. Reformatory officials said Donaldson walked away from the detail alone shortly after 4 p.m. He was missed a few minutes later.

New Row With Army May Delay Hearings

ROY M. COHN

'Bill Of Particulars' Centering Around Pvt. Schine Released By Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army's "Bill of Particulars" against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was made public Thursday, after parts of it leaked out, and brought from the senator's camp a charge of "one-sided smear."

It appeared that the new row could delay the start of public hearings.

In 29 specific allegations, the Army said McCarthy and his aids sought by "improper means" — including threats — to get special treatment for Draftee G. David Schine. And the document asserted:

Schine

"These requests and threats are believed to have been made with the knowledge and consent of Sen. McCarthy."

McCarthy's chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, himself a principal target of the Army's formal complaint, promptly protested its publication and declared the McCarthy forces won't supply any further information until (1) the "leak" has been investigated and (2) assurance is given there will be no repetition.

DELAY POSSIBLE

So there may be another delay in the Senate Investigations Subcommittee's public hearings, set to start next Thursday, into the Army's charges and McCarthy's counter complaint — that the Army tried to "blackmail" him out of investigating alleged subversives. McCarthy has turned the chairmanship of the subcommittee over to Sen. Mundt (R-SD) for purposes of these hearings.

Mundt told a news conference he would take up Cohn's telegram with other subcommittee members, probably Monday, and said he does not "anticipate" it will cause postponement of the hearings.

"I sincerely hope that there will be no further unauthorized leaks or releases of material intended for the consideration of our subcommittee and that as we adopt rules of procedure they will be complied with equitably and fully," Mundt said.

The Army's detailed charges were made public by Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a subcommittee member, after parts of them had become available to some reporters the previous night.

Says Threat Made

The document says Cohn threatened to "expose the Army in its worst light" if the wealthy young Schine, former subcommittee consultant, did not get a New York area assignment.

Cohn, who said he had consulted McCarthy, sent a telegram to Mundt Thursday charging the subcommittee rule against "premature publication of parts or all of the specifications for the forthcoming hearing" had been violated. It added the Army specifications contain "many false, misleading and distorted statements" and omit "highly relevant events."

The Army report was signed by Joseph N. Welch, the Boston lawyer who was engaged to represent Secretary of the Army Stevens and others in the inquiry.

Radford Declares:

Red Threat Could Last 100 Years

Editors Told Nation Not Near Depression

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communist threat to world peace could last 100 years and the Western world must make its defense plans accordingly, Adm. Arthur W. Radford declared.

In a strategy briefing given to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said:

Radford

1. France and Italy sooner or later must "face up to their problems realistically" and realize that their future prosperity and security lie in unity with Western Europe, including Germany.

2. The current ill feeling between Israel and the Arab states is a "bar to any unity of action between them and is a menace to peace in the area."

3. Loss of Indo-China to the Communists would greatly strengthen the Communist world's military position and its economic resources. It also would have political and economic effects far beyond Asia.

The newspaper editors also were addressed by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., who said a free press has been a major contributor to American greatness since colonial times and must not be "gagged."

Helpful Effect

Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, one of the first speakers at the opening session of the three-day editors' convention, expressed confidence that the nation is "not now headed for a depression." But he said speedy passage of the big tax overhaul bill now before the Senate Finance Committee would have a "tremendously helpful effect upon the economy."

Ridgway Says:

Retaliation Plan Would Bring Fear

General Comments On Dulles' Views

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway predicted that the massive retaliation policy, as originally outlined, would raise "serious apprehensions" among this country's European Allies.

A transcript of hearings before a House Appropriations Subcommittee on the Army appropriation request for the next fiscal year, issued Thursday night, showed that last February Ridgeway was asked by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) about published reports concerning Secretary of State Dulles' views.

Ridgway

Mahon read to Ridgway a portion of a news column which said that Dulles proposed that aggression be met by "instant retaliation directed not at the periphery but at the centers of Communist power." Mahon said he wondered "if it would not be bad for our country for this sort of understanding to become fixed in the minds of the people abroad, even in the minds of the aggressor." He asked the view of the army's chief of staff, Ridgway replied:

"Well, sir, I hope that my personal view, which of course I give in response to your question, will not be in the slightest degree considered as criticism of a statement by one of our constitutional authorities.

"I think it will raise serious apprehensions in the minds of many segments of foreign populations, notably those of the Western world presently allied with us."

In a speech Jan. 12 Dulles said the United States would depend primarily on "a great capacity to retaliate instantly by means and at places of our own choosing" to any Communist attack.

Later he explained the United States has no intention of depending merely on its capacity for massive atomic attack to scare off aggression. He said the United States would deal separately with each case in the most appropriate manner, making full use of local defense forces.

His Jan. 12 speech had led to some expressed fears that the United States might touch off World War III in responding to a minor Communist assault.

O Street Viaduct Cause May Benefit From Federal Aid Boost

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

With Nebraska's allocation of federal highway aid jumping from approximately $9,000,000 to nearly $14,000,000 a year under the bill just passed by Congress, prospects for construction of the viaduct on O street were termed considerable brighter.

The new law reinstates an old provision that 10 per cent of any class of funds can be transferred to another class if needed. This action was at the recommendation of the state highway administrators association of which L. N. Ress of Nebraska was president.

The state officials sought to have the amount that could be transferred increased to 25 per cent but Congress merely reinstated the old 10 per cent figure which an earlier session eliminated.

If the transfer funds are retroactive as indicated it would make possible transfer of $660,000 from the 1952-53 appropriation and another $660,000 from the 1954-55 appropriation from the funds allocated for secondary roads which the state cannot match, Ress indicated.

However, he would make no positive statement until after copies of the bill as passed are received here. He also said it would be possible to tell how much surplus secondary funds will be available between now and June 30, 1955.

The state was unable to take advantage of secondary funds appropriated for 1950-51 and as a result $3,000,000 was made available for a new airport road in Omaha which was changed from a primary to a secondary road classification.

The same method was tried in Lincoln in order to build the O street viaduct, Ress recalled, but the change in administration halted the practice.

Under present rate of construction on secondary roads, Ress said it appeared probable that the state will be unable to use $3,000,000 before it lapses back on June 30, 1955.

The increase in federal funds available increases the problem of the highway department in taking advantage of all federal funds available to the state. The state has been barely able to match the $9,000,000 it has been getting with the revenue presently available.

The federal bureau of roads in an air mail letter to the state Thursday indicated that the state's share of the new appropriation will increase primary road funds from the present $4,400,000 to $6,130,000.

Secondary funds where the big surplus occurs because counties do not take advantage of federal matching will be increased from $3,300,000 to $4,370,000. Funds for urban street use will be hiked from $700,000 to $1,000,000.

The proposed inter-state roads which the government has been advocating as a defense measure would have $2,430,000 available instead of the present $485,000. These roads must be built to a standard higher than presently used in Nebraska and be of limited access and by-pass congested areas.

Nebraska now has $4,800,000 of secondary funds available if funds for matching could be provided, Ress said.

The viaduct as originally proposed for Lincoln would have cost $1,500,000 for construction with the railroad companies paying the cost of purchasing necessary right-of-way.

There was definite optimism in the highway department that under the new law the state and city could before secondary funds lapse work out a satisfactory plan for viaduct construction.

By agreement the county made O street to 9th street a "corridor" of county road as was done in Omaha. Under the new bill it may be necessary to change it back to a primary urban highway to get advantage of grade crossing separation funds.

Shoulders Lied In Greenlease Case

. . . Story On Ransom Tagged False

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Louis Shoulders, ex-St. Louis police lieutenant, Thursday was convicted of lying about the handling of the $600,000 Greenlease kidnap ransom, half of which still is missing.

After deliberating two hours and 15 minutes, a Federal District Court jury convicted Shoulders on the second ballot.

Sentence was deferred pending disposition of a motion for a new trial. Shoulders was granted 15 days to file the motion.

The maximum penalty on a perjury conviction is five years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

The former officer was convicted of lying before a Federal Grand Jury when he said two suitcases containing ransom money recovered from Carl Austin Hall were taken into a St. Louis police station shortly after Hall was arrested and booked.

Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady were executed last December for the kidnap-slaying of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease Sept. 18 in Kansas City.

A total of $303,720 of the ransom paid by the boy's father still is missing.

The government charged that Shoulders committed perjury in maintaining the money-packed suitcases were brought into the police station 15 to 20 minutes after Hall was booked Oct. 6. The prosecution said the suitcases weren't brought in until more than an hour later.

At Liberty

Shoulders, who broke down at one point in his testimony Wednesday, took the verdict without a show of emotion and left the courthouse hurriedly. He will remain at liberty under a $10,000 bond.

It was the second perjury conviction as the result of a Grand Jury's investigation into the missing ransom money. Elmer Dolan, suspended St. Louis patrolman, recently was convicted of a similar perjury charge. Dolan, who helped Shoulders arrest Hall, filed a motion Thursday for a new trial.

The former officer told the Grand Jury that Hall was booked and "in the meantime, I think" Dolan took one of these suitcases back into Shoulders' office. Wednesday Shoulders said the two suitcases were brought into the station after Hall had been booked and put in a cell.

'Informer' Angle Enters A-Bomb Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The strange case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, who directed the building of the first atomic bomb and now is cut off from all atomic secrets, developed a strange new angle.

Another high-ranking scientist, Dr. Edward U. Condon—who likewise has been under fire on security grounds—was quoted as saying in 1949 that it looked as if Oppenheimer was "turning informer" in the hope of shielding himself from Red charges.

Several newspapers published letters they said Condon wrote—one to Oppenheimer himself—after the noted physicist testified before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1949. Two Senate committees were reliably reported to have copies of these letters.

Thursday the New York Journal American and the Daily News said Dr. Condon, head of the U.S. Bureau of Standards at that time, told Oppenheimer in a letter soon afterward:

"One is tempted to feel that you are foolish as to think you can buy immunity for yourself by turning informer x x x you know very well that once these people decide to go into your own dossier and make it public that it will make the revelations that have been made so far look pretty tame.

Rain, Snow And Dust Pay April Visit

Nebraska's changeable April weather was due to settle down again Friday after a day that saw needed showers fall in much of the state and light snow in the west. Lincoln's rainfall totaled .13.

Forecasters said the cool air mass, scheduled to drop temperatures near or below the freezing level in much of the state early Friday, would hang on through the day.

Much of central and eastern Nebraska received much needed rain Thursday as a cool air mass moved across the state. In the west, Sidney, Chadron and Scottsbluff were among points getting light snow, the Associated Press said.

Other spots in central and western Nebraska were blitzed by severe dust storms Thursday afternoon and cars on the highways had to resort to headlights to make much headway.

Rainfall was refreshing, but far from plentiful. Osceola reported .60, while Gresham had .50. Other reports included Seward .18, Stromsburg .36, Wahoo .22, York .14, David City .10 and Crete .03.

Also receiving moisture were Burwell .09, Chadron .29, Grand Island .11, Lexington .08 and Omaha .23.

State Reformatory Escapee Nabbed In Short Order

A 34-year-old State Reformatory escapee, Harley Donaldson, was apprehended by York County authorities Thursday evening after he walked from a work detail earlier in the day.

Donaldson was sentenced to the reformatory on a bad check charge on Feb. 10. He had a term of 16 months.

The apprehended escapee was a trustee on a dairy detail with 10 other men. Reformatory officials said Donaldson walked away from the detail alone shortly after 4 p.m. He was missed a few minutes later.

New Row With Army May Delay Hearings

ROY M. COHN

'Bill Of Particulars' Centering Around Pvt. Schine Released By Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army's "Bill of Particulars" against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was made public Thursday, after parts of it leaked out, and brought from the senator's camp a charge of "one-sided smear."

It appeared that the new row could delay the start of public hearings.

In 29 specific allegations, the Army said McCarthy and his aids sought by "improper means" — including threats — to get special treatment for Draftee G. David Schine. And the document asserted:

Schine

"These requests and threats are believed to have been made with the knowledge and consent of Sen. McCarthy."

McCarthy's chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, himself a principal target of the Army's formal complaint, promptly protested its publication and declared the McCarthy forces won't supply any further information until (1) the "leak" has been investigated and (2) assurance is given there will be no repetition.

DELAY POSSIBLE

So there may be another delay in the Senate Investigations Subcommittee's public hearings, set to start next Thursday, into the Army's charges and McCarthy's counter complaint — that the Army tried to "blackmail" him out of investigating alleged subversives. McCarthy has turned the chairmanship of the subcommittee over to Sen. Mundt (R-SD) for purposes of these hearings.

Mundt told a news conference he would take up Cohn's telegram with other subcommittee members, probably Monday, and said he does not "anticipate" it will cause postponement of the hearings.

"I sincerely hope that there will be no further unauthorized leaks or releases of material intended for the consideration of our subcommittee and that as we adopt rules of procedure they will be complied with equitably and fully," Mundt said.

The Army's detailed charges were made public by Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a subcommittee member, after parts of them had become available to some reporters the previous night.

Says Threat Made

The document says Cohn threatened to "expose the Army in its worst light" if the wealthy young Schine, former subcommittee consultant, did not get a New York area assignment.

Cohn, who said he had consulted McCarthy, sent a telegram to Mundt Thursday charging the subcommittee rule against "premature publication of parts or all of the specifications for the forthcoming hearing" had been violated. It added the Army specifications contain "many false, misleading and distorted statements" and omit "highly relevant events."

The Army report was signed by Joseph N. Welch, the Boston lawyer who was engaged to represent Secretary of the Army Stevens and others in the inquiry.

Radford Declares:

Editors Told Nation Not Near Depression

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communist threat to world peace could last 100 years and the Western world must make its defense plans accordingly, Adm. Arthur W. Radford declared.

Radford

In a strategy briefing given to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said:

1. France and Italy sooner or later must "face up to their problems realistically" and realize that their future prosperty and security lie in unity with Western Europe, including Germany.

2. The current ill feeling between Israel and the Arab states is a "bar to any unity of action between them and is a menace to peace in the area."

3. Loss of Indo-China to the Communists would greatly strengthen the Communist world's military position and its economic resources. It also would have political and economic effects far beyond Asia.

The newspaper editors also were addressed by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., who said a free press has been a major contributor to American greatness since colonial times and must not be "gagged."

Helpful Effect

Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, one of the first speakers at the opening session of the three-day editors' convention, expressed confidence that the nation is "not now headed for a depression." But he said speedy passage of the big tax overhaul bill now before the Senate Finance Committee would have a "tremendously helpful effect upon the economy."

Ridgway Says:

Retaliation Plan Would Bring Fear

General Comments On Dulles' Views

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway predicted that the massive retaliation policy, as originally outlined, would raise "serious apprehensions" among this country's European Allies.

A transcript of hearings before a House Appropriations Subcommittee on the Army appropriation request for the next fiscal year, issued Thursday night, showed that last February Ridgeway was asked by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) about published reports concerning Secretary of State Dulles' views.

Ridgway

Mahon read to Ridgway a portion of a news column which said that Dulles proposed that aggression be met by "instant retaliation directed not at the periphery but at the centers of Communist power." Mahon said he wondered "if it would not be bad for our country for this sort of understanding to become fixed in the minds of the people abroad, even in the minds of the aggressor." He asked the view of the army's chief of staff. Ridgway replied:

"Well, sir, I hope that my personal view, which of course I give in response to your question, will not be in the slightest degree considered as criticism of a statement by one of our constitutional authorities.

"I think it will raise serious apprehensions in the minds of many segments of foreign populations, notably those of the Western world presently allied with us."

In a speech Jan. 12 Dulles said the United States would depend primarily on "a great capacity to retaliate instantly by means and at places of our own choosing" to any Communist attack.

Later he explained the United States has no intention of depending merely on its capacity for massive atomic attack to scare off aggression. He said the United States would deal separately with each case in the most appropriate manner, making full use of local defense forces.

His Jan. 12 speech had led to some expressed fears that the United States might touch off World War III in responding to a minor Communist assault.

O Street Viaduct Cause May Benefit From Federal Aid Boost

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

With Nebraska's allocation of federal highway aid jumping from approximately $9,000,000 to nearly $14,000,000 a year under the bill just passed by Congress, prospects for construction of the viaduct on O street were termed considerable brighter.

The new law reinstates an old provision that 10 per cent of any class of funds can be transferred to another class if needed. This action was at the recommendation of the state highway administrators association of which L. N. Ress of Nebraska was president.

The state officials sought to have the amount that could be transferred increased to 25 per cent but Congress merely reinstated the old 10 per cent figure which an earlier session eliminated.

If the transfer funds are retroactive as indicated it would make possible transfer of $660,000 from the 1952-53 appropriation and another $660,000 from the 1954-55 appropriation from the funds allocated for secondary roads which the state cannot match, Ress indicated.

However, he would make no positive statement until after copies of the bill as passed are received here. He also said it would be possible to tell how much surplus secondary funds will be available between now and June 30, 1955.

The state was unable to take advantage of secondary funds appropriated for 1950-51 and as a result $3,000,000 was made available for a new airport road in Omaha which was changed from a primary to a secondary road classification.

The same method was tried in Lincoln in order to build the O street viaduct, Ress recalled, but the change in administration halted the practice.

Under present rate of construction on secondary roads, Ress said it appeared probable that the state will be unable to use $3,000,000 before it lapses back on June 30, 1955.

The increase in federal funds available increases the problem of the highway department in taking advantage of all federal funds available to the state. The state has been barely able to match the $9,000,000 it has been getting with the revenue presently available.

The federal bureau of roads in an air mail letter to the state Thursday indicated that the state's share of the new appropriation will increase primary road funds from the present $4,400,000 to $6,130,000.

Secondary funds where the big surplus occurs because counties do not take advantage of federal matching will be increased from $3,300,000 to $4,370,000. Funds for urban street use will be hiked from $700,000 to $1,000,000.

The proposed inter-state roads which the government has been advocating as a defense measure would have $2,430,000 available instead of the present $485,000. These roads must be built to a standard higher than presently used in Nebraska and be of limited access and by-pass congested areas.

Nebraska now has $4,800,000 of secondary funds available if funds for matching could be provided, Ress said.

The viaduct as originally proposed for Lincoln would have cost $1,500,000 for construction with the railroad companies paying the cost of purchasing necessary right-of-way.

There was definite optimism in the highway department that under the new law the state and city could before secondary funds lapse work out a satisfactory plan for viaduct construction.

By agreement the county made O street to 9th street a "corridor" of county road as was done in Omaha. Under the new bill it may be necessary to change it back to a primary urban highway to get advantage of grade crossing separation funds.

Slave Labor Growing, U.N. Told

Red Ruse Described By Varga

BY PIERRE J. HUSS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.,—(INS) — Twenty-three national and internationau organizations warned U.N. Thursday that the Communist regimes in Europe under Soviet orders are camouflaging but rapidly increasing secret police arrests and use of slave labor.

The warning was contained in a series of documents given to the seven-nation U.N. committee which has investigated forced labor over the past three years and is making a full report next week to the Economic and Social Council.

Bela Varga

Among the signatories were a number of exiled prime ministers, foreign ministers and former political leaders whose countries are now behind the Iron Curtain, including Monsignor Bela Varga of Hungary and Stanislav Mikolajczyk of Poland.

Estimates previously given U.N. on slave labor in communist-ruled countries ranged up to 14,000,000 men, women and children. The estimates at the end of 1953 were revised up toward the 20,000,000 mark.

The 23 organizations stressed in all documents that on the basis of underground evidence, of testimony from escapees in the past two years and from war prisoners recently released by the Russians, the Red drive for more and more slave labor in all enslaved nations is mounting alarmingly.

The documents alerted U. N. to the fact, however, that the seven-nation committee's investigations have impelled the Red regimes to eliminate from their individual "legal systems" all reference to forced labor, secret police, deportations and concentration camps.

The 23 organizations pointed out to U. N. that the courts in Communist-dominated lands now deal with cases calling for routine prison sentences. Bela Varga and others underlined this in the documents by citing the various decrees enacted by Red regimes to hide the use of slave labor, which is labelled under various titles such as "socialist discipline of work."

Varga commented:

"This change which seemingly abolishes forced labor is nothing but a ruse. The new penal code in Hungary or elsewhere does not mention forced labor because the Communists have added this slavery-to-all punishment involving deprivation of freedom."

The stack of documented evidence for the first time included a disclosure of slave labor conditions in the sealed-off satellite of Albania.

Nuci Lotta, an escaped Albanian jurist, stated that in that mountainous Balkan land, transformed by Russia in to a Soviet naval and air base, there are 10 concentration camps imprisoning 10,000 political captives under cruel conditions. They work 12 hours daily draining swamps, building canals or digging tunnels and are fed a starvation diet. They freeze to death in winter and die of heat and fever in the summer.

NU Foreign Students Stop At Minden

During their tour of Nebraska, foreign students from the University of Nebraska visited places of interest in Minden, including the Pioneer Village where the above photo was taken. Other activities at Minden included a public affairs dinner given by the Minden Chamber of Commerce. The 25 students represent 17 foreign countries. Other towns visited during the trip sponsored by the NU Mortar Board included Holdrege, Kearney, Hastings and Grand Island. (Photo Special to The Star)

News Around The Globe

Asia Pact 'Taking Form'

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles announced that unity among the 10 nations proposed as an alliance to combat Communism in southeast Asia was "taking definite form."

He said he believed loss of southeast Asia and the Pacific islands to the Communists could be prevented "without extending the Indo-China war, if the free nations having vital interests in the area are united."

Dulles said he was "well-satisfied" with his talks in London and Paris this week regarding the possibility of a unified front against Communist forces in Indo-China.

Victim Charged

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A man for whom a funeral was held a week ago as a tourist court fire victime has been charged with his wife and one of his "pallbearers" with first degree murder.

They are Albert L. Paglino, 28-year-old meatcutter; his 23-year-old wife Betty Anne, and James A. McCormick, a pallbearer at a funeral held for Paglino last Friday. Still unidentified was the charred body which Paglino's relatives claimed and buried as his.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission, in a precedent setting action, ruled that a newspaper may oppose a television station application on grounds that station would be its competitor for advertising and cause "economic injury" to it.

The commission voted 4-3 to permit the Clarksburg Publishing Co., publisher of the Exponent and Telegram at Clarksburg, W. Va., to become "an interested party" in consideration of television service for that city.

'Living In Dream'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Abraham Chasanow, a civilian employee of the Navy for 23 years said he has been fired as a security risk—without explanation—even though he was cleared by a Navy board.

"I feel as if I'm living in a dream," the 43-year-old Chasanow old a news conference, "as if it's something that can't happen in this country." His attorney, Joseph A. Fanelli, said he could not account for adverse statements against Chasanow but that he suspected anti-semitism may have been a factor and that slipshod investigative methods also may have been involved.

$24,000 Pledged To 'Advance For Christ' Program

A total of $24,000 has been pledged to the "Advance for Christ" missionary program of the Augustana Lutheran Church by eight churches in the Wahoo District. Of this, about $7,000 is in cash.

The pledges are part of the national goal of $2,000,000 of which half is to be used for American missions and half for foreign missions.

The victory announcement of the response throughout the church will be made in local churches Easter Sunday modning. The Wahoo District pledge is expected to exceed $28.000.

Co-directors for the Wahoo District "Advance for Christ" are Dr. Sam Dahl of Lincoln and the Rev. Earl Hedman of Fremont.

Members of the district include First Lutheran Church Lincoln; Immanuel Lutheran of Ceresco, Grace Lutheran and Bethlehem Lutheran of Wahoo, Alma Lutheran of Mead, Edensburg Lutheran of Malmo Sinal of Fremont. Elim Lutheran of Hooper and First Lutheran of Oakland.

City's Holy Week Services Feature Messages Based On Easter Miracle

"The gospel of the cross is 100 per cent invitation," the Rev. Albert C. Burroughs told persons attending the second in a series of noon Holy Week services sponsored by the Council of Lutheran Churches-Missouri Synod.

The Rev. Mr. Burroughs, executive secretary of stewardship and missions in Kansas, said many voices say that the great word in God's vocabulary is "do."

"It is true," he said, "we are to do the will of God. But the heart of the gospel tells us what God has done for our salvation. It excludes all effort on our part. It is the story of God's love in action, giving His only Son on the cross that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."

Hjalmer Hillman, meditation speaker at the United Church men's noon service, said that the faith of Jesus and His disciples was tested during Holy Week just as the faith of men is being tested now.

"How are we using our faith?" he asked. "To bind us closer to our religion, our church, or letting everyday problems, trials and challenges turn us away from God?

Hillman said a man will reveal his own quality by what he sees in things and what he gets out of them.

"He will come out of these crises worse or better," he said. "In many instances, it takes the greater strain to bring out our greater strength. Difficulties, crises, tragedies, wreck some people, but in others call out the character that the world can never forget. It proves to our fellowmen how we are using our faith."

Miss Dorothy Holland, speaker at the United Church Women's service, said that Christians know that "all things work together for good to them that love the Lord" and yet there are many times when fear and doubt clouds faith as problems arise.

"Christ's words of love and compassion to His disciples at this time of uncertainty have been of the most quieting and comforting of all Biblical passages down through the ages," she said. "Christ has given us a powerful tool to overcome our fears and that tool is prayer. But prayer too can be difficult unless we have given ourselves completely to Christ."

Red Party Is Outlawed By Texans

. . . Shivers Signs Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (INS) — Texas outlawed the Communist Party and penalties up to 20 years imprisonment were provided for any subversive activities.

Gov. Allan Shivers—who had urged the death penalty for Communists — signed the bill passed by the state legislature Tuesday making the tough new law effective immediately. He said:

"We'll try the 20-year maximum for a while and see how it works out."

The unprecedented piece of legislation was finally passed on the same day that U.S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell declared himself flatly against such a law on the national level. He said it would be unconstitutional and might tend to impede the work of the FBI.

Only By Courts

Gov. Shivers, however, asserted that the constitutional question could be answered only by the courts. Shivers said:

"I would personally like to see the federal government outlaw the Communist Party. I don't subscribe to the argument that it deprives them of free speech. I don't think the framers of the Constitution intended for subversives to be able to hide behind it and at the same time attempt to destroy it."

The new Texas law also outlaws any other form of subversive activity or organization designed to over throw the government by force and violence, but it automatically makes the act of being a Communist a crime.

Punishment for the offense ranges from one to 20 years in prison or fines of $1,000 to $20,000. The law also provides for issuance of search warrants to hunt evidence and injunctions to halt the operations of any organization charged with the crime.

Auditorium Rehearing Briefs Filed By City, Intervenors

Briefs in support of their motions for a rehearing in the auditorium case have been filed with the Supreme Court by City Attorneys John H. Comstock and Jack M. Pace, for the defendant city, and by Attorney H. B. Muffly, for intervenors.

The two briefs charge the court erred in making certain findings and ered in not making a finding in other cases.

In deciding against defendants and intervenors, the Court stated the city had to proceed with construction of an auditorium at 15th and N and could not hold another election on the proposal.

The city's brief claimed the court erred in completely disposing of the litigation by ruling on an appeal from an order sustaining a demurrer and thereby denied the defendants their statutory rights to answer and to a hearing on the merits in the lower court.

Both defendants and intervenors argued the court erred in finding the appellees or electors of the city could not repeal or abandon the auditorium project.

Defendents stated that the court failed to find who would be injured or damaged if the auditorium project were abandoned.

Intervenors claimed the court erred in finding that any of the proceeds from the bonds authorized under earlier charter provisions had been used in the furtherance of the construction of the auditorium.

While the rehearing is being asked, the city will continue to plan for construction of an auditorium. The City Council, said Mayor Clark Jeary, wants no unnecessary delay.

Jeary and two other Council members have been making studies with contractors on building costs with an eye toward construction of the auditorium as nearly as possible in conformity with original plans for the building.

Bethany Christian Easter Pageant Friday, Sunday

An Easter pageant, "The Cross Triumphant," will be presented for the second time during the Lenten season, Friday at 8 p.m., at the Bethany Christian Church. The final performance for the season will be on Easter morning at 5 o'clock.

Through the spoken word and music, the dramatic incidents of the later days of Christ's life on earth were arranged by Faythe K. Leavitt into a pageant using a cast of nearly 100 persons from the Bethany community. The beautiful setting and elaborate costumes have contributed to the presentation now being given for the eighteenth year.

Mrs. Farel Hyland and Mrs. Henry Leacock are the directors with Mrs. Clifford Johnson in charge of the music. Mrs. Ernest Wood is organ accompanist and Bill Gingles, pianist. Francis Leacock, Jane Ann Lowe, and Marjorie Matson Smith are prelude organists.

The cast includes:

Don Mills	Prologue Reader
Robert Mahoney	Pilate
Farel Hyland	Caiphas
Darrel Leacock	The Rabbi
Warner Lehmann	The Centurion
Helen Cox	Pilate's Wife
Edna Stone	Mary, the Mother
Leone Spencer	Mary Magdalene
Ethel Lehmann	The Angel

Scribes, Jews, Pharisees, apostles, travelers, women, and guards as well as the children and choral group are additional members of the cast.

Home Is Ransacked; Purse With $50 Taken

A coin purse containing $50 was taken from the home of Mrs. Hattie Williams of 2211 R Street.

A clothes closet in her bedroom was also ransacked and kitchen items, rice, beans and other articles were taken.

Police said entrance was apparently gained by the use of a key.

Camera Stolen

Slave Labor Growing, U.N. Told

Red Ruse Described By Varga

BY PIERRE J. HUSS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.,—(INS) — Twenty-three national and internationau organizations warned U.N. Thursday that the Communist regimes in Europe under Soviet orders are camouflaging but rapidly increasing secret police arrests and use of slave labor.

The warning was contained in a series of documents given to the seven-nation U.N. committee which has investigated forced labor over the past three years and is making a full report next week to the Economic and Social Council.

Bela Varga

Among the signatories were a number of exiled prime ministers, foreign ministers and former political leaders whose countries are now behind the Iron Curtain, including Monsignor Bela Varga of Hungary and Stanislav Mikolajczyk of Poland.

Estimates previously given U.N. on slave labor in communist-ruled countries ranged up to 14,000,000 men, women and children. The estimates at the end of 1953 were revised up toward the 20,000,000 mark.

The 23 organizations stressed in all documents that on the basis of underground evidence, of testimony from escapees in the past two years and from war prisoners recently released by the Russians, the Red drive for more and more slave labor in all enslaved nations is mounting alarmingly.

The documents alerted U. N. to the fact, however, that the seven-nation committee's investigations have impelled the Red regimes to eliminate from their individual "legal systems" all reference to forced labor, secret police, deportations and concentration camps.

The 23 organizations pointed out to U. N. that the courts in Communist-dominated lands now deal with cases calling for routine prison sentences. Bela Varga and others underlined this in the documents by citing the various decrees enacted by Red regimes to hide the use of slave labor, which is labelled under various titles such as "socialist discipline of work."

Varga commented:

"This change which seemingly abolishes forced labor is nothing but a ruse. The new penal code in Hungary or elsewhere does not mention forced labor because the Communists have added this slavery to all punishment involving deprivation of freedom."

The stack of documented evidence for the first time included a disclosure of slave labor conditions in the sealed-off satellite of Albania.

Nuci Lotta, an escaped Albanian jurist, stated that in that mountainous Balkan land, transformed by Russia in to a Soviet naval and air base, there are 10 concentration camps imprisoning 10,000 political captives under cruel conditions. They work 12 hours daily draining swamps, building canals or digging tunnels and are fed a starvation diet. They freeze to death in winter and die of heat and fever in the summer.

News Around The Globe

Asia Pact 'Taking Form'

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles announced that unity among the 10 nations proposed as an alliance to combat Communism in southeast Asia was "taking definite form."

He said he believed loss of southeast Asia and the Pacific islands to the Communists could be prevented "without extending the Indo-China war, if the free nations having vital interests in the area are united."

Dulles said he was "well-satisfied" with his talks in London and Paris this week regarding the possibility of a unified front against Communist forces in Indo-China.

Victim Charged

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A man for whom a funeral was held a week ago as a tourist court fire victime has been charged with his wife and one of his "pallbearers" with first degree murder.

They are Albert L. Paglino, 28-year-old meatcutter; his 23-year-old wife Betty Anne, and James A. McCormick, a pallbearer at a funeral held for Paglino last Friday. Still unidentified was the charred body which Paglino's relatives claimed and buried as his.

Loans Cited

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation to permit the prosecution of alleged housing frauds dating back to 1949 was ticketed for quick action as 1,149 corporations were reported to have received government-insured building loans that exceeded construction costs.

GIs To Remain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will publish in the immediate future formal assurances that American troops will be maintained in Europe as long as necessary to help guard the security of the Western nations and protect the peace of the continent, it has been learned.

American Held

CHICAGO (AP) — A Chicago woman reported that her sister, a citizen of the United States, is being forced to remain in Communist Romania and has taken a job as a hod carrier.

'Political Grounds'

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The American Society of Biological Chemists adopted a resolution urging investigation of reports that some scientists are being denied funds for research on political grounds.

Opposition OKd

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission, in a precedent setting action, ruled that a newspaper may oppose a television station application on grounds that station would be its competitor for advertising and cause "economic injury" to it.

The commission voted 4-3 to permit the Clarksburg Publishing Co., publisher of the Exponent and Telegram at Clarksburg, W. Va., to become "an interested party" in consideration of television service for that city.

'Living In Dream'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Abraham Chasanow, a civilian employee of the Navy for 23 years ,said he has been fired as a security risk—without explanation—even though he was cleared by a Navy board.

"I feel as if I'm living in a dream," the 43-year-old Chasanow old a news conference, "as if it's something that can't happen in this country." His attorney, Joseph A. Fanelli, said he could not account for adverse statements against Chasanow but that he suspected anti-semitism may have been a factor and that slipshod investigative methods also may have been involved.

$24,000 Pledged To 'Advance For Christ' Program

A total of $24,000 has been pledged to the "Advance for Christ" missionary program of the Augustana Lutheran Church by eight churches in the Wahoo District. Of this, about $7,000 is in cash.

The pledges are part of the national goal of $2,000,000 of which half is to be used for American missions and half for foreign missions.

The victory announcement of the response throughout the church will be made in local churches Easter Sunday modning. The Wahoo District pledge is expected to exceed $28,000.

Co-directors for the Wahoo District "Advance for Christ" are Dr. Sam Dahl of Lincoln and the Rev. Earl Hedman of Fremont.

Members of the district include First Lutheran Church Lincoln; Immanuel Lutheran of Ceresco, Grace Lutheran and Bethlehem Lutheran of Wahoo, Alma Lutheran of Mead, Edensburg Lutheran of Malmo Sinal of Fremont, Elim Lutheran of Hooper and First Lutheran of Oakland.

City's Holy Week Services Feature Messages Based On Easter Miracle

"The gospel of the cross is 100 per cent invitation," the Rev. Albert C. Burroughs told persons attending the second in a series of noon Holy Week services sponsored by the Council of Lutheran Churches-Missouri Synod.

The Rev. Mr. Burroughs, executive secretary of stewardship and missions in Kansas, said many voices say that the great word in God's vocabulary is "do."

"It is true," he said, "we are to do the will of God. But the heart of the gospel tells us what God has done for our salvation. It excludes all effort on our part. It is the story of God's love in action, giving His only Son on the cross that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."

Hjalmer Hillman, meditation speaker at the United Church men's noon service, said that the faith of Jesus and His disciples was tested during Holy Week just as the faith of men is being tested now.

"How are we using our faith?" he asked. "To bind us closer to our religion, our church, or letting everyday problems, trials and challenges turn us away from God?

Hillman said a man will reveal his own quality by what he sees in things and what he gets out of them.

"He will come out of these crises worse or better," he said. "In many instances, it takes the greater strain to bring out our greater strength. Difficulties, crises, tragedies, wreck some people, but in others call out the character that the world can never forget. It proves to our fellowmen how we are using our faith."

Miss Dorothy Holland, speaker at the United Church Women's service, said that Christians know that "all things work together for good to them that love the Lord" and yet there are many times when fear and doubt clouds faith as problems arise.

"Christ's words of love and compassion to His disciples at this time of uncertainty have been of the most quieting and comforting of all Biblical passages down through the ages," she said. "Christ has given us a powerful tool to overcome our fears and that tool is prayer. But prayer too can be difficult unless we have given ourselves completely to Christ."

Red Party Is Outlawed By Texans

. . . Shivers Signs Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (INS) — Texas outlawed the Communist Party and penalties up to 20 years imprisonment were provided for any subversive activities.

Gov. Allan Shivers—who had urged the death penalty for Communists — signed the bill passed by the state legislature Tuesday making the tough new law effective immediately. He said:

"We'll try the 20-year maximum for a while and see how it works out."

The unprecedented piece of legislation was finally passed on the same day that U.S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell declared himself flatly against such a law on the national level. He said it would be unconstitutional and might tend to impede the work of the FBI.

Only By Courts

Gov. Shivers, however, asserted that the constitutional question could be answered only by the courts. Shivers said:

"I would personally like to see the federal government outlaw the Communist Party. I don't subscribe to the argument that it deprives them of free speech. I don't think the framers of the Constitution intended for subversives to be able to hide behind it and at the same time attempt to destroy it."

The new Texas law also outlaws any other form of subversive activity or organization designed to over throw the government by force and violence, but it automatically makes the act of being a Communist a crime.

Punishment for the offense ranges from one to 20 years in prison or fines of $1,000 to $20,000. The law also provides for issuance of search warrants to hunt evidence and injunctions to halt the operations of any organization charged with the crime.

L. A. Garnaas, 76, Dies; Was Lincoln Resident 36 Years

Leonard A. Garnaas, 76, 3529 Vine, died Thursday night.

A retired employee of the State Highway Department, he had lived in Lincoln since 1918. He formerly lived in North Dakota.

He was a member of Capitol Lodge 11 of the IOOF and was a member of the Odd Fellows for 50 years, formerly a member at Sioux Falls, S. D.

He is survived by his wife, Ida A.; a son, Earl E., of Lincoln; two brothers, Levi of Nevada, Mo., and Frank of Coffeyville, Mo.; two sisters, Mrs. Emily Banks of Charleston, W. Va., and Viola Garnaas of Los Angeles, Calif.; a grandchild and a great grandchild.

Auditorium Rehearing Briefs Filed By City, Intervenors

Briefs in support of their motions for a rehearing in the auditorium case have been filed with the Supreme Court by City Attorneys John H. Comstock and Jack M. Pace, for the defendant city, and by Attorney H. B. Muffly, for intervenors.

The two briefs charge the court erred in making certain findings and ered in not making a finding in other cases.

In deciding against defendants and intervenors, the Court stated the city had to proceed with construction of an auditorium at 15th and N and could not hold another election on the proposal.

The city's brief claimed the court erred in completely disposing of the litigation by ruling on an appeal from an order sustaining a demurrer and thereby denied the defendants their statutory rights to answer and to a hearing on the merits in the lower court.

Both defendants and intervenors argued the court erred in finding the appellees or electors of the city could not repeal or abandon the auditorium project.

Defendents stated that the court failed to find who would be injured or damaged if the auditorium project were abandoned.

Intervenors claimed the court erred in finding that any of the proceeds from the bonds authorized under earlier charter provisions had been used in the furtherance of the construction of the auditorium.

While the rehearing is being asked, the city will continue to plan for construction of an auditorium. The City Council, said Mayor Clark Jeary, wants no unnecessary delay.

Jeary and two other Council members have been making studies with contractors on building costs with an eye toward construction of the auditorium as nearly as possible in conformity with original plans for the building.

Bethany Christian Easter Pageant Friday, Sunday

An Easter pageant, "The Cross Triumphant," will be presented for the second time during the Lenten season, Friday at 8 p.m., at the Bethany Christian Church. The final performance for the season will be on Easter morning at 5 o'clock.

Through the spoken word and music, the dramatic incidents of the later days of Christ's life on earth were arranged by Faythe K. Leavitt into a pageant using a cast of nearly 100 persons from the Bethany community. The beautiful setting and elaborate costumes have contributed to the presentation now being given for the eighteenth year.

Mrs. Farel Hyland and Mrs. Henry Leacock are the directors with Mrs. Clifford Johnson in charge of the music. Mrs. Ernest Wood is organ accompanist and Bill Gingles, pianist. Francis Leacock, Jane Ann Lowe, and Marjorie Matson Smith are prelude organists.

The cast includes:

Don Mills	Prologue Reader
Robert Mahoney	Pilate
Farel Hyland	Gaiphas
Darrel Leacock	The Rabbi
Warner Lehmann	The Centurion
Helen Cox	Pilate's Wife
Edna Stone	Mary, the Mother
Leone Spencer	Mary Magdalene
Ethel Lehmann	The Angel

Scribes, Jews, Pharisees, apostles, travelers, women, and guards as well as the children and choral group are additional members of the cast.

Ruffled Tempers Held As Pilgrims Pass From Jerusalem To Israel

By WILTON WYNN

JERUSALEM, Jordan Section (AP)—Israel and Jordan held their ruffled tempers long enough to let Easter Pilgrims—but not their leader—pass from inside the walls of Arab-held old Jerusalem into Israel.

The pilgrimage went through the Mandelbaum Gate in the no-man's-land between the embattled neighbor nations to the spot where Christ ate the Last Supper with his disciples.

The leader had to remain on the Arab side as a presumably suspect old enemy of Israel. Israel security police checking the pilgrims one by one, crossed his name off the list of those who could pass.

"Happily, the Mandelbaum Gate is not the gate of Heaven," said the leader, a brown-robed Francisan monk. He shrugged and turned back toward his home at the foot of the Mount of Olives. The pilgrimage went on without him.

The barred leader is a former Irish rebel named Father Eugene Hood, who fled from Ireland to Palestine a quarter of a century ago He worked here first as a Palestine police inspector and then donned the Franciscan robes.

1948 War

Legends about Father Eugene say he took up arms and fought against Israel in the Palestine War of 1948. He has crusaded militantly to keep the holy places of Jerusalem out of Israeli hands. Presumably, his record in the Palestine conflict kept him out of Israel Thursday.

For Holy Land pilgrims from all over the world Father Eugene is master of ceremonies in Arab-held old Jerusalem on Holy Days. He represents the Roman Catholics on the committee responsible for co-ordinating the Holy Day services of many faiths in Jerusalem. He is looked to from around the world to arrange accommodation and tours for pilgrims.

All day Thursday Father Eugene was besieged by tourists who could find no accommodation in Jerusalem's hotels; most have been booked months in advance. For most of these visitors he found places to sleep — in monasteries, convents, hostels or churches.

The highlight of Thursday's services was in the Church of the Garden of Gethsemane, where Father Eugene lives and works. There, 2,000 Easter pilgrims observed Holy Hour, conducted by Father Eugene's Franciscans, custodians of the garden where Christ agonized.

Eight Olive Trees

Lying at the foot of the Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsemane still contains eight massive olive trees old enough to have been those which sheltered Christ on the night before crucifixion. The church beside the garden covers a massive stone before its altar. This is said to be the stone where Christ prayed and above which an angel appeared to lend Him strength for the ordeal of His arrest, trial and cruxcifixion.

In what Father Eugene calls the most beautiful service of Holy Week, the pilgrims heard the story of Christ's agony read in Latin and Arabic from four gospels while an all-male choir sang the responses.

The pilgrims observed absolute silence for a full hour as the service was conducted by the Franciscans. It was carried around the world by a Voice of America broadcast.

In a nearby garden on the Mount of Olives similar services were conducted by Lutherans and Anglicans.

Across the valley, in the Moslem cemetery near Jerusalem's Golden Gate, throngs of white-caped Moslem women visited the graves of their dead—a special ceremony observed every year on the day before the feast of Moses.

But few Arab Christians are taking part in Easter services this week. Because of calendar differences, this week's Easter is purely a holiday for foreigners in Palestine. The Oriental Easter comes a week later.

On Good Friday pilgrims will group according to nationality and carry huge crosses along the Way of The Cross through old Jerusalem. The procession will follow the path of Christ from his trial to Calvary and then to His tomb.

A service representing the burial of Christ will be held in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, where a figure representing Christ will be anointed and placed in a tomb.

Omaha DAV Unit Hosts Vets At State Hospital

Forty-five veterans at the Lincoln State Hospital were entertained by the Douglas McCarthy Chapter 2 of the Disabled American Veterans of Omaha.

Mrs. F. M. McNiel, assistant director of activities at the hospital, introduced Mrs. Lee White, past president, who then introduced Mrs. Frances Harmon, senior vice president; Mrs. Vera Hofer, past chaplain; Mrs. Izetta McGuergain; Lee White, Paul Harmon, and J. L. Stroud of Lincoln.

Games, songfest, and a luncheon were on the program.

March Milk Production Scores Large Increase

OMAHA (AP)—March milk production in the Omaha-Lincoln-Council Bluffs marketing area was nearly five million pounds higher than in March, 1953, it was reported.

Handlers' reports showed 27,490,162 pounds last month compared with a total of 22,697,115 a year ago. The February, 1954, total was 23,735,336 pounds. Total value of producer milk in March of this year was $1,192,556.

S. E. Torgeson Of Kimball Will Seek Senate Short Term As A Republican

KIMBALL, Neb. (AP) — S. E. Torgeson, Kimball attorney and business man, said Thursday he would file as a Republican for the Senate short term created by the recent death of Sen. Dwight P. Griswold.

The short term will run from the November election until the start of the new full term in January.

Torgeson said he telegraphed Secretary of State Frank Marsh for the necessary papers Thursday.

He said he was not interested in the full six-year senate term beginning in January because "I'm going to Europe." He said he had planned the trip for some time.

Torgeson said he made his decision to seek the short term "if one exists" while "down in Lincoln the other day."

In Lincoln, Attorney General C. S. Beck said there was "no reason to question" the existence of the short term, running from November to January.

Torgeson said he also had telegraphed Gov. Robert Crosby "my congratulations" on deciding to seek the full six-year senate term.

This will be the first time Torgeson, who in addition to practicing law operates a farm and oil business "on the side," has actively sought public office.

He recalled Thursday that he had attended every Republican state convention since 1917, except one. His daughter was ill in California at the time of the convention in May of 1936.

A native of South Dakota, he attended the University of Nebraska and was admitted to the Nebraska bar in 1921. He is married and has one daughter, Sonia, who is appearing on the stage in New York.

Maundy Thursday Services Held By Scottish Rite Group

Lincoln Chapter Rose Croix of Scottish Rite observed Maundy Thursday with traditional services Thursday noon.

C. Petrus Peterson explained the origin and meaning of the day, a part of Holy Week.

The day derived its name from the ancient custom of washing the feet of the poor. On the Thursday of Holy Week, Jesus washed the feet of the disciples as a symbolic demonstration of his words:

"A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love another, as I have loved you, that ye also love one another."

Ruffled Tempers Held As Pilgrims Pass From Jerusalem To Israel

By WILTON WYNN

JERUSALEM, Jordan Section (AP)—Israel and Jordan held their ruffled tempers long enough to let Easter Pilgrims—but not their leader—pass from inside the walls of Arab-held old Jerusalem into Israel.

The pilgrimage went through the Mandelbaum Gate in the no-man's-land between the embattled neighbor nations to the spot where Christ ate the Last Supper with his disciples.

The leader had to remain on the Arab side as a presumably suspect old enemy of Israel. Israel security police checking the pilgrims one by one, crossed his name off the list of those who could pass.

"Happily, the Mandelbaum Gate is not the gate of Heaven," said the leader, a brown-robed Francisan monk. He shrugged and turned back toward his home at the foot of the Mount of Olives. The pilgrimage went on without him.

The barred leader is a former Irish rebel named Father Eugene Hood, who fled from Ireland to Palestine a quarter of a century ago He worked here first as a Palestine police inspector and then donned the Franciscan robes.

1948 War

Legends about Father Eugene say he took up arms and fought against Israel in the Palestine War of 1948. He has crusaded militantly to keep the holy places of Jerusalem out of Israeli hands. Presumably, his record in the Palestine conflict kept him out of Israel Thursday.

For Holy Land pilgrims from all over the world Father Eugene is master of ceremonies in Arab-held old Jerusalem on Holy Days. He represents the Roman Catholics on the committee responsible for co-ordinating the Holy Day services of many faiths in Jerusalem. He is looked to from around the world to arrange accommodation and tours for pilgrims.

All day Thursday Father Eugene was besieged by tourists who could find no accommodation in Jerusalem's hotels; most have been booked months in advance. For most of these visitors he found places to sleep — in monasteries, convents, hostels or churches.

The highlight of Thursday's services was in the Church of the Garden of Gethsemane, where Father Eugene lives and works. There, 2,000 Easter pilgrims observed Holy Hour, conducted by Father Eugene's Franciscans, custodians of the garden where Christ agonized.

Eight Olive Trees

Lying at the foot of the Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsemane still contains eight massive olive trees old enough to have been those which sheltered Christ on the night before crucifixion. The church beside the garden covers a massive stone before its altar. This is said to be the stone where Christ prayed and above which an angel appeared to lend Him strength for the ordeal of His arrest, trial and cruxcifixion.

In what Father Eugene calls the most beautiful service of Holy Week, the pilgrims heard the story of Christ's agony read in Latin and Arabic from four gospels while an all-male choir sang the responses.

The pilgrims observed absolute silence for a full hour as the service was conducted by the Franciscans. It was carried around the world by a Voice of America broadcast.

In a nearby garden on the Mount of Olives similar services were conducted by Lutherans and Anglicans.

Across the valley, in the Moslem cemetery near Jerusalem's Golden Gate, throngs of white-caped Moslem women visited the graves of their dead—a special ceremony observed every year on the day before the feast of Moses.

But few Arab Christians are taking part in Easter services this week. Because of calendar differences, this week's Easter is purely a holiday for foreigners in Palestine. The Oriental Easter comes a week later.

On Good Friday pilgrims will group according to nationality and carry huge crosses along the Way of The Cross through old Jerusalem. The procession will follow the path of Christ from his trial to Calvary and then to His tomb.

A service representing the burial of Christ will be held in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, where a figure representing Christ will be anointed and placed in a tomb.

Omaha DAV Unit Hosts Vets At State Hospital

Forty-five veterans at the Lincoln State Hospital were entertained by the Douglas McCarthy Chapter 2 of the Disabled American Veterans of Omaha.

Mrs. F. M. McNiel, assistant director of activities at the hospital, introduced Mrs. Lee White, past president, who then introduced Mrs. Frances Harmon, senior vice president; Mrs. Vera Hofer, past chaplain; Mrs. Izetta McGuergain; Lee White, Paul Harmon, and J. L. Stroud of Lincoln.

Games, songfest, and a luncheon were on the program.

March Milk Production Scores Large Increase

OMAHA (AP) — March milk production in the Omaha-Lincoln-Council Bluffs marketing area was nearly five million pounds higher than in March, 1953, it was reported.

Handlers' reports showed 27,490,162 pounds last month compared with a total of 22,697,115 a year ago. The February, 1954, total was 23,735,336 pounds. Total value of producer milk in March of this year was $1,192,556.

S. E. Torgeson Of Kimball Will Seek Senate Short Term As A Republican

KIMBALL, Neb. (AP) — S. E. Torgeson, Kimball attorney and business man, said Thursday he would file as a Republican for the Senate short term created by the recent death of Sen. Dwight P. Griswold.

The short term will run from the November election until the start of the new full term in January.

Torgeson said he telegraphed Secretary of State Frank Marsh for the necessary papers Thursday.

He said he was not interested in the full six-year senate term beginning in January because "I'm going to Europe." He said he had planned the trip for some time.

Torgeson said he made his decision to seek the short term "if one exists" while "down in Lincoln the other day."

In Lincoln, Attorney General C. S. Beck said there was "no reason to question" the existence of the short term, running from November to January.

Torgeson said he also had telegraphed Gov. Robert Crosby "my congratulations" on deciding to seek the full six-year senate term.

This will be the first time Torgeson, who in addition to practicing law operates a farm and oil business "on the side," has actively sought public office.

He recalled Thursday that he had attended every Republican state convention since 1917, except one. His daughter was ill in California at the time of the convention in May of 1936.

A native of South Dakota, he attended the University of Nebraska and was admitted to the Nebraska bar in 1921. He is married and has one daughter, Sonia, who is appearing on the stage in New York.

Maundy Thursday Services Held By Scottish Rite Group

Lincoln Chapter Rose Croix of Scottish Rite observed Maundy Thursday with traditional services Thursday noon.

C. Petrus Peterson explained the origin and meaning of the day, a part of Holy Week.

The day derived its name from the ancient custom of washing the feet of the poor. On the Thursday of Holy Week, Jesus washed the feet of the disciples as a symbolic demonstration of his words:

"A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love another, as I have loved you, that ye also love one another."

Whip The Tormenting Twins Dandruff And Itchy Scalp

WATERLOO, Iowa—Mrs. John Manross, 2105 Mulberry St., says: "For years I tried everything that came along for dandruff, and had about decided there wasn't any use to try anything else. The money-back offer with Baker's Hair Tonic sounded so fair I got a bottle, and was soon relieved of the misery caused by unsightly dandruff and itchy scalp. You must try Baker's to know how good it really is."

For dandruff and itchy scalp, use Baker's Hair Tonic. For clean scalp and lustrous hair, use Baker's Shampoo. Buy them where you trade. You will like both, or the makers will refund your money.—Adv.

On Good Friday

It may not be amiss during Holy Week to remind Nebraskans of the religious influences which shaped the early settlements in this state.

Before Nebraska became a territory, those early church missions in a relatively primitive, unexplored region were the symbols of coming settlement. For some years before and after Nebraska was given territorial status on May 30, 1954, it was the missions at Bellevue and nearby that were the outposts of the development which was to follow. There to the mission in Bellevue came Nebraska's first territorial governor, terribly ill, never in a physical condition to perform a single act of government, dead 10 days after he set foot on Nebraska soil.

Nebraska started with a strong spiritual faith which has flamed brightly and continuously throughout all the years of statehood.

This Holy Week, with its Good Friday and all the meaning of that day, and its Easter morn yet to dawn, has been unusually meaningful, it has seemed to us. There are few on this earth without faith, without faith of some sort. There are millions who acknowledge the existence of a Superior Power and a Superior Wisdom. Those millions take solace in their faith and draw strength from acknowledging a belief in God.

And these are the years when that faith is the most important force contributing to the decisions made by the hearts and souls of man.

Beckoning To Nebraska

Passage of the Highway Aid Bill calling for the expenditure of just short of $2 billion of federal funds beginning July 1, 1955, poses a real question for Nebraskans.

Do they want to avail themselves of the opportunity to match federal dollars in the fullest sense?

If they do, then they will have to give approval to an additional cent of gasoline tax, State Engineer L. N. Ress says.

Nebraska's share of the increased federal funds made available for highway purposes is $13,939,000. That figure includes $2,165,000 available to counties for matching purposes. If Nebraska's 93 counties and if the state itself takes full advantage to speed up a highway program that has been neglected in many sections of the state, then there would be $27 million of highway and road improvements to get under way in the fiscal year starting in 1956. There is one catch in this good news, Mr. Ress says. Is has been necessary to scrape the bottom of the barrel in order to match available federal funds for the current $18 million-a-year program. To equal that and then to add $5 million to it would require another cent of gasoline tax, which would mean seven cents of state tax on each gallon of gasoline.

There isn't any question involved about Nebraska's need for pushing ahead vigorously in the development of a highway program. We can take pride in the fact that unlike a good many states, including our neighbors, we have been on a pay-as-you-go basis throughout the life of modern highways, reaching into the pocket each year and putting up all of the dollars needed to pay for the roads built or improved that year. We have never financed highway construction by issuing bonds or going into debt.

The fact remains that unless the posibilities of getting the job done in many neglected areas are set forth clearly at this time, however, opposition can be anticipated. What does this stepped-up program mean in terms of the study made under former Highway Engineer Harold Aitken and his staff, a study upon which the Legislature based its action?

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Nebraska Republicans had the assurance Thursday of a much more tumultuous campaign than those to which they have been accustomed in recent years. Gov. Bob Crosby will be a candidate for a seat in the United States Senate, with the promise of a showdown with Sen. Terry Carpenter, his chief critic since Crosby became governor, and Carpenter became a full-fledged Republican. It could develop into a spectacular battle, with one or two other big names in Republican party affairs tossed in for good measure.

Nor can the GOP in the year of 1954, if its leadership has their feet on the ground, reach the conclusion that nomination means election. The real Nebraska, the land of independent thinking men and women, voters of deeply rooted convictions, has had little opportunity for expression, it has seemed. From 1890 through to 1940, a cycle of half a century, Nebraska presented a political etching unlike that found in any other state among the 48. For half a century the pendulum swung with amazing regularity from one major party to the other. Until 1940 neither Republicans nor Democrats remained in power for longer than 10 years at a time in the direction of state government. A Democrat followed a Republican after a brief rule as governor. A Republican took over from a Democrat for a brief exercise of power. Back and forth the pendulum swung—first one and then the other—the perfect symbol of the working of the system of checks and balances—the impressive fruit born of the existence of a strong two-party system. That description in itself is not accurate. For in the swing of the pendulum, it was the independent vote, swinging first to one side and then to the other, that brought about this result.

By No Means Certain

★

Chances are that the next 90 days will contribute greatly to the clarification of Nebraska's 1954 elections. If developments in southeast Asia, if intervention in Indo-China shapes itself, that circumstance in itself will exercise a profound influence in the fall elections. And if in those remaining days of April, May and early June Nebraska continues on the present scanty diet of moisture—while rain is not an issue between the Democrats and the Republicans — write it down that its absence or its presence will have a profound effect upon a people who depend so greatly upon agriculture.

★

Gov. Crosby's decision to seek the Senate is logical, although it does not conform to Nebraska tradition. Many of Nebraska's governors have tried, but the record shows that they have failed in their ambitions to advance from the governor's office to a seat in the United States Senate. It would take the fingers on both hands to count off the names of those who tried and stubbed their toes. In the judgment of this writer, Gov. Crosby could not have been re-elected as governor. He lost nothing by filing for the Senate. Whether he gained anything by his decision remains to be seen. At this hour the outcome of a showdown with Terry Carpenter will hinge to a very great extent upon what other men do. Gov. Crosby could have the solid backing of the party organization, for whatever it is worth, if— and it could be a big "if" — Congressman Carl Curtis, Dave Martin and others stay out. Martin's position was clarified last night. If Curtis has any intention of seeking the senate seat, he surely will not wait until other members of Nebraska's present delegation in the House get in.

Crosby's Choice Is Logical

Nebraskans need a hard-fought campaign. It will be good for this state to have issues presented first with intelligence and next with vigor. There has been far too much claptrap, infinitely too much indifference, a little bit of the sense of frustration on the part of the voter for Nebraska's political good health. This state needs a fighter in Washington. It needs a man who will say what ought to be said, who never for even a single hour will forget the hills and valleys of his homeland. Basically there is nothing wrong with Nebraska. All that is lacking is an articulate representative, understanding it, loving it, devoted to it, speaking for it.

Losing Thrift

An economy-minded House recently slashed to $1.5 million a budgetary request for $7.5 million for the support of America's "exchange of persons" program this coming fiscal year.

It is a well-established program, started in 1938. It has provided the State Department with a facility whereby it could send business, professional and political leaders to other countries on missions of study, counsel and good will. But more important it has provided for an exchange of students and professors. More than 14,000 of them have enjoyed exchange relationships.

In terms of dollars spent the exchange program has returned magnificent benefits. Young American leadership has learned valuable and practical facts about the world we must live and do business in. And there is no question of the great influence for good that has come from entertaining the thousands of foreign students. They have gone home with cherished memories of American hospitality. Equally important, they are remaining in their home land as lifelong teachers of American good will and methods.

The saving of $6 million will not be a drop in the bucket. But the national loss in dropping such a wise and constructive expenditure is incalculable. The House would perform a service to the nation if it reconsidered its action.

The Penultimate

Science has perfected an H-bomb by which any nation can obliterate another nation that happens to be disagreeable. Now it can make a cobalt bomb which not only can destroy the disagreeable nation, but the indignant one which launches it. That's the end of the line. We now have a positive method for ending civilization. We can close up the laboratories. But if there are any scientists around who find retirement tedious we could think up one or two little busy-work projects for them. One would be how to put civilization back together again. We'll need some ideas on that one of these days.

Public Failure

The Denver Post sent out poll takers to sample Colorado opinion on Eisenhower's farm policies. They found that 34 per cent generally approved of them while 20 per cent disapproved. Forty-six per cent held no opinion. Partisans can pretend to make a good deal of those figures. But the significance of the poll is not that a few more favored an agricultural cutback than opposed it. It was that 46 per cent are indifferent to their own political and economic welfare and are not prepared to help one side or the other in resolving the adult question of whither America. This is not a very encouraging example of democracy in action.

Say Scientists Did Not Delay Hydrogen Bomb

WASHINGTON—It is no secret that Joe McCarthy has been nursing as a trump card the charge that Communists held up production of the hydrogen bomb and that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, onetime head of Los Alamos, was responsible. Joe had planned to spring this charge in his Texas speech April 21 so its headlines would blanket the newspapers next day when the Senate probe of the McCarthy-Cohn-Army fracas begins.

It has also been no secret that the H-bomb was delayed—not 18 months as Joe alleged—but for about three months. And the story of the delay was published in this column on Jan. 23, 1950, before Joe made any of his charges about Communism in government.

The backstage story did not involve Communistic motives, but, as Chairman Sterling Cole of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, a Republican, has stated, honest differences of opinion.

Four years have passed since the question of whether or not the U.S.A. should build the hydrogen bomb was debated by the Truman cabinet, and during that time many people have forgotten the doubts and misgivings of that period. They have also forgotten how Henry L. Stimson, a Republican who served in the cabinets of Taft and Hoover, proposed to Truman that the United States share the secret of the atomic bomb with Russia. Elder statesman Stimson, no traitor to his country, was overruled by Truman, but he sincerely believed at that time, 1945, that we could still get along with Russia and should share our most precious secret.

BACKSTAGE STORY

Here are excerpts from the story of the hydrogen-bomb debate, as recorded in this column when the battle was hot. Jan. 23, 1950, four years before McCarthy decided to dig it up as a national issue:

"At a secret meeting with Gen. Bradley, Atomic Energy Chairman Lilienthal made a last ditch, emotional plea against the hydrogen bomb. In effect, he said: 'We must exhaust every means of reaching an agreement with Russia to outlaw atomic warfare before we make this bomb. We should appeal over the heads of the Kremlin to the Russian people. They will force Stalin to come to terms.'

"Lilienthal speaks for a tormented group of scientists who made the atomic bombs used at Hiroshima and Nagasaki and who agreed—somewhat against their better judgment—that the bombs should be dropped on enemy cities.

"It is still a secret in the files of the Manhattan district, but the atomic scientists were sharply divided into three groups. One did not want the bomb used at all. They urged that the President announce that we had the bomb and would use it unless the enemy surrendered.

"Group No. 2 wanted the atomic bomb dropped over an uninhabited area as a warning.

"Group No. 3 approved the action taken at Hiroshima. This included Dr. Robert Oppenheimer and Dr. Harold Urey.

"But when the photographs of seared flesh and the medical reports from Nagasaki and Hiroshima came back, these scientists went through the tortures of the damned. Their souls were on fire, and they started a burning private crusade against the hydrogen bomb that has divided the Atomic Energy Commission.

"The spirit of these scientists was expressed by Dr. Oppenheimer to a congressional hearing as follows: 'Many times we scientists thought the war might end before we had a bomb. But some of us did not stop, because we wanted the world to see the atomic bomb. It was to us the greatest argument for world peace.'

☆ ☆ ☆

STRAUSS STRONGLY BACKED

"These scientists and Lilienthal are planning to organize a lobby of church groups to carry on the 'crusade' after Lilienthal's resignation from the Atomic Commission in February.

"The other side in the hydrogen-bomb argument is championed by a philosopher and ex-banker, Lewis Strauss. Strauss is quoted as saying, 'All hope for international agreement to outlaw the atom bomb was killed when Russia refused to accept the Baruch proposals for inspection. That was the great shock of our times. Now we cannot afford not to make the new hydrogen bomb. We must maintain our superiority over any possible aggressor. That is the chief hope left for peace.'

"From the beginning of the Atomic Energy Commission, Lilienthal and Strauss have been in different corners. During the first year, Strauss was a lone dissenter. He offered to resign, but President Truman refused. Today, Strauss is the majority leader in the commission and his view on the hydrogen bomb is backed by both the National Security Council and the Atomic Energy Committee of Congress.

"The difficult decision of whether to build the dread hydrogen bomb is now up to President Truman."

LOOKING BACK

The above is the basic story of the debate over the H-bomb.

Since then, other basic details have become known, but it doesn't change the basic story. It has become known, for instance, that the debate over building the H-bomb began right after the Russians exploded their first A-bomb on Sept. 23, 1949. During the debate, however, our scientific work on the H-bomb continued, so that little if any time was lost because of the debate.

Scelba Faces Uphill Pull To Win For EDC

ROME—In a talk with this reporter just after he had applied iron discipline to whip his Christian Democratic party into line behind the government's new tax program, Premier Mario Scelba spoke frankly of the difficulties ahead. In his view the question of Trieste must be settled before it will be possible to get a meaningful majority in the parliament behind ratification of the European Defense Community, which is the key to American foreign policy in Europe.

Pointing out that his government is a center coalition, with a nominal majority of only 14 members, Scelba said it is essential to get votes from the right wing Monarchists and even from the Neo-Fascists so that the united army plan will be approved with sufficient votes to impress the country with the support behind this revolutionary step. It is revolutionary, Scelba said, because after it is taken the army can no longer be used as an instrument of foreign policy.

"This means," he went on, "that if the dispute over Trieste should be prolonged into the future after we had surrendered sovereignty over our army, we could not use the army as a last resort in that dispute." This, Scelba explained, is the complaint that the right-wing groups are making, and in order to get their co-operation there must be action on the explosive Trieste question.

On the Communist danger in Italy, which has the largest Communist party in Europe outside the Soviet Union, Scelba said it must be frankly recognized that Communism with its widespread organization and its great resources cannot be eliminated by any sudden arbitrary measures. His government has pledged itself to end many of the privileges the Communist party now enjoys, such as printing its publications in government owned buildings. These arrangements can be ended, according to Scelba, in a fairly short time.

Much more difficult is the business of ousting the Communist from the hundreds, if not thousands, of buildings that formerly belonged to the Fascists. Communist leaders active in the resistance movement took over these structures at the end of the war and they have been one of the big resources of the party. They are occupying those buildings legally and they are paying rent on them, Scelba explained.

"But you must realize," he said, "that we are dealing with only a fraction of the great resources they have at their disposal. We are also moving to end the Communist-controlled trading companies that deal with Russia and the satellites. Our intention is to set up a state monopoly of this trade."

But even the revenue from these companies channeled into the party in one way or another is doubtless small in comparison to the assistance furnished by Moscow. The Italian Communist party is so important to the Kremlin's plans that through many devices, including dummy companies in Switzerland, the Soviet sends gold and dollars into this country.

The premier differed firmly with the policy now being carried out by U.S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce of taking dollar contracts for military material under the American Aid Program away from factories with Communist-dominated unions. He expressed the same view as the big industrialists who insist that this will create more unemployment and, therefore, more social disorder. Such an arbitrary step, in the premier's view, would have a disrupting effect that might undo many of the gains achieved through the spending of three and a half billions of American aid.

An equally tough problem is the effort to get a tax law adopted providing jail sentences for false tax returns. Three years ago the law was changed to provide fines for such practices. But the fines have been nominal or they have not been levied at all and the practice has gone on with the 10 and 20 percenters and quick-money boys getting away with murder.

Some progress has been made in land reform. But Scelba points out how costly it is to drain land, build roads and houses and do everything else that has to be done before peasant farmers can take over their own holdings. He said that the government has expropriated about two and a half million acres of land from large landholders. At least 10 years will be required to make this over. Scelba was frank in stating his hope that further economic aid from America might make it possible to accelerate the process.

The road ahead is rugged indeed for those who are trying to steer a middle course with constant sniping from left to right. If Scelba makes it with ratification of EDC, the really big hurdle ahead, he will have achieved what skeptics and doubters are saying is impossible.

BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

The Life Of Christ

CHAPTER XXIX

Bishop Sheen, in yesterday's installment, points out that the e were among Christ's most r ous followers those who could not comprehend the fact of His Resurrection. Magdalene at first thought "the body had been stolen." His Apostles thought the women "were imagining things." Following His death Christ made many appearances and finally ascends back to His Father.

★

He said God's redemptive purpose was being revealed in the Prophets, and this redemption was to be effective by the death of the God Who became man. Once more there is a total absence of the fact that He was to leave a code or a set of rules. He emphasized the fact that His death made possible the preaching of repentance and the remission of sins to all nations and to all peoples. He said that it behooved Him to suffer. This indeed was true, because when anyone preaches absolute and Divine Truth to a world that believes in pragmatism, He will be crucified. The only way that He could show the evil of sin, was by revealing what sin could do to goodness, namely, pinion Him to a tree. If sin is a debt, that debt can be paid only by someone Who gave His life in ransom. It is very likely that He retold for them the story of God telling Abraham to sacrifice his son Isaac as a burnt offering. From the moment of that command, Isaac was a dead man, but on the third day he was released from his death sentence. He probably told them the Psalms where in it was said of Him:

"Thou shalt not leave my soul in hell,
Nor suffer Thy own Holy One to see corruption."

His death alone would have had no efficacy for the removal of human guilt, if He had not broken the bonds of the grave. Arising from the dead, He showed that the Redemption price paid on Calvary was sufficient, and that it was accepted by His Heavenly Father.

Repentance and Remission

Now He commissions them as His witnesses to bring repentance to all nations. When Our Blessed Lord began His public life one of His first words was 'repent.' It was also the subject of His departing breath. Repentance and the remission of sins are twins; almost siamese twins, for they cannot be separated. Repentance sees the rubbish in the temple of the body, but remission of sins drives out those buyers and sellers and make it truly a house of prayer.

This preaching of the remission of sins was to begin at Jerusalem where He was crucified, in order that not even the place which took His life is to be exempted from His forgiveness. Those who have had great privileges and who have apparently rejected them, are not to be considered beyond the hope of forgiveness. The conversion of the world starts at home, but it only starts there. Then the Saviour said:

"And behold, I am sending down upon you
The Gift which was promised by My Father;
You must wait in the city until you are
Clothed with power from on high."

They were to tarry in Jerusalem until He would send His Spirit. If He had remained on earth, they could have heard His voice, touched His hand, seen His radiant face, but if He left and ascended to His Father and sent His Spirit, then He would be a veritable life to be lived. This Spirit, He said, would recall to their minds all things whatsoever He had told them. The Spirit would not be a code of morality written either on tablets of their minds or on tablets of stone, but would enter into their will and motivate their actions: penetrate the intellect to see truths beyond the power of reason, encourage them to love the things that He loved, and inspire them to enter into their glory as He entered into His, namely, by dying to the evil of the world.

The Spirit would not be long in coming—only ten days hence. They were to keep their eyes in expectation upon the horizon and their hand upon the door: God in His own pleasure would endow them from a power on high. This power would not only awaken the soul of man from the deadly sleep of sin, but it would also be the comforter of the soul and above all, the source of their sanctification.

Christ's Promise

After giving them the promise of the Spirit, Our Blessed Lord led His disciples out as far as Bethany and lifted up His hands and blessed them.

"And even as He blessed them
He parted from them,
And was carried up into heaven."

He had promised His disciples that they would follow Him and be with Him, and that He would go to Heaven to prepare a place for them. Great is the contrast between the unimaginable grandeur of the Ascension, and the sober words with which the record is set down. The night of the Last Supper He told His Apostles that He was soon to enter into the glory with His Father that He had before the foundations of the world were laid. He also told Pilate that He would see the Son of Man coming on the right hand of His power to judge the living and the dead. Now, He becomes the forerunner of Humanity in heaven, for no human foot could ever set itself in any one of the Father's Mansions unless He Himself had prepared the way.

The Apostles must have noticed as He blessed them upon leaving, the great scars of Redemption on His hands. Peter in particular must have recalled that they were the same hands that saved Him from the Galilean waves; Thomas must have lamented that it was the hand that He was bidden to touch to be cured of His doubt; all of the Apostles must have remembered that He showed to them those same sacred hands to remind them that this was the mission for which He came to earth. But now that they were believing, the marks at this time were less the memories of a Crucifixion, than the record of a love of One Who lay down His life for His sheep.

(To Be Continued Tomorrow)

Christ ascends to Heaven where He had promised to prepare a place for His disciples.

Lesson Well Learned

Riverton, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In Wednesday's Star appeared the letter of one Jane Christensen on the farm price situation, on which the editor makes appropriate comments. This woman writes from my own county of Franklin, my own community, and forcibly expresses a pertinent truth. As she well states, this situation of the lowering of farm prices, while corporation monopoly prices are paid for the articles farmers buy, coupled with the raising of salaries for state, national and county officials with higher taxes spell doom for the prosperity of the farmer—and not only the farmer, but a collapse of our national economy.

Pertinent to all this, we ask: Did this lady vote for a change in the last election? Did she as well as a large majority in this county of Franklin vote for Curtis, Eisenhower? If she did, when as a matter of fact she and those who so voted enjoyed the good farm prices and prosperity of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations under the New Deal, we cannot have that warm, sympathetic feeling for them in their now distressful condition. There has always been a difference in feeling for those who willingly accept economic slavery as their lot and vote to accept it, and those who courageously and intelligently fight with fierce resistance against it. While we may weep for their misfortunes, we can but deplore their judgment.

Another interesting letter appeared in The Star from C. E. Herrick. In his letter occurs this statement:

"The world is in rebellion against a system of poverty and riches. The rich like the system and the poor are easily seduced by promises. These promises will lead them to a worse condition of master and slave and perdition."

That is a truth stated "multum in parvo." Fifty years ago Mr. Herrick, then a boy, was a pupil in the district school which I taught. He was an unusually bright boy and I tried to impress upon him love for country and justice to all people, the poor as well as the wealthy. It appears he learned and kept those ideas well. He has been a member of the Legislature from his district, and of course I am very proud of him as a Democrat and patriot.

THE CHILDREN

"They're nice when they're good," say their mother and dad.
"But they get on your nerves when the children are bad.
"At table they force you to coax them to eat,
The home until bedtime is bedlam complete.
They won't stop their noise when you want to be still,
But the quiet is harder to bear when they're ill."

On Good Friday

It may not be amiss during Holy Week to remind Nebraskans of the religious influences which shaped the early settlements in this state.

Before Nebraska became a territory, those early church missions in a relatively primitive, unexplored region were the symbols of coming settlement. For some years before and after Nebraska was given territorial status on May 30, 1954, it was the missions at Bellevue and nearby that were the outposts of the development which was to follow. There to the mission in Bellevue came Nebraska's first territorial governor, terribly ill, never in a physical condition to perform a single act of government, dead 10 days after he set foot on Nebraska soil.

Nebraska started with a strong spiritual faith which has flamed brightly and continuously throughout all the years of statehood.

This Holy Week, with its Good Friday and all the meaning of that day, and its Easter morn yet to dawn, has been unusually meaningful, it has seemed to us. There are few on this earth without faith, without faith of some sort. There are millions who acknowledge the existence of a Superior Power and a Superior Wisdom. Those millions take solace in their faith and draw strength from acknowledging a belief in God.

And these are the years when that faith is the most important force contributing to the decisions made by the hearts and souls of man.

Beckoning To Nebraska

Passage of the Highway Aid Bill calling for the expenditure of just short of $2 billion of federal funds beginning July 1, 1955, poses a real question for Nebraskans.

Do they want to avail themselves of the opportunity to match federal dollars in the fullest sense?

If they do, then they will have to give approval to an additional cent of gasoline tax, State Engineer L. N. Ress says.

Nebraska's share of the increased federal funds made available for highway purposes is $13,939,000. That figure includes $2,185,000 available to counties for matching purposes. If Nebraska's 93 counties and if the state itself takes full advantage to speed up a highway program that has been neglected in many sections of the state, then there would be $27 million of highway and road improvements to get under way in the fiscal year starting in 1956. There is one catch in this good news, Mr. Ress says. Is has been necessary to scrape the bottom of the barrel in order to match available federal funds for the current $18 million-a-year program. To equal that and then to add $5 million to it would require another cent of gasoline tax, which would mean seven cents of state tax on each gallon of gasoline.

There isn't any question involved about Nebraska's need for pushing ahead vigorously in the development of a highway program. We can take pride in the fact that unlike a good many states, including our neighbors, we have been on a pay-as-you-go basis throughout the life of modern highways, reaching into the pocket each year and putting up all of the dollars needed to pay for the roads built or improved that year. We have never financed highway construction by issuing bonds or going into debt.

The fact remains that unless the posibilities of getting the job done in many neglected areas are set forth clearly at this time, however, opposition can be anticipated. What does this stepped-up program mean in terms of the study made under former Highway Engineer Harold Aitken and his staff, a study upon which the Legislature based its action?

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Nebraska Republicans had the assurance Thursday of a much more tumultuous campaign than those to which they have been accustomed in recent years. Gov. Bob Crosby will be a candidate for a seat in the United States Senate, with the promise of a showdown with Sen. Terry Carpenter, his chief critic since Crosby became governor, and Carpenter became a full-fledged Republican. It could develop into a spectacular battle, with one or two other big names in Republican party affairs tossed in for good measure.

★

Nor can the GOP in the year of 1954, if its leadership has their feet on the ground, reach the conclusion that nomination means election. The real Nebraska, the land of independent thinking men and women, voters of deeply rooted convictions, has had little opportunity for expression, it has seemed. From 1890 through to 1940, a cycle of half a century, Nebraska presented a political etching unlike that found in any other state among the 48. For half a century the pendulum swung with amazing regularity from one major party to the other. Until 1940 neither Republicans nor Democrats remained in power for longer than 10 years at a time in the direction of state government. A Democrat followed a Republican after a brief rule as governor. A Republican took over from a Democrat for a brief exercise of power. Back and forth the pendulum swung—first one and then the other—the perfect symbol of the working of the system of checks and balances—the impressive fruit born of the existence of a strong two-party system. That description in itself is not accurate. For in the swing of the pendulum, it was the independent vote, swinging first to one side and then to the other, that brought about this result.

★

Chances are that the next 90 days will contribute greatly to the clarification of Nebraska's 1954 elections. If developments in southeast Asia, if intervention in Indo-China shapes itself, that circumstance in itself will exercise a profound influence in the fall elections. And if in those remaining days of April, May and early June Nebraska continues on the present scanty diet of moisture—while rain is not an issue between the Democrats and the Republicans — write it down that its absence or its presence will have a profound effect upon a people who depend so greatly upon agriculture.

★

Gov. Crosby's decision to seek the Senate is logical, although it does not conform to Nebraska tradition. Many of Nebraska's governors have tried, but the record shows that they have failed in their ambitions to advance from the governor's office to a seat in the United States Senate. It would take the fingers on both hands to count off the names of those who tried and stubbed their toes. In the judgment of this writer, Gov. Crosby could not have been re-elected as governor. He lost nothing by filing for the Senate. Whether he gained anything by his decision remains to be seen. At this hour the outcome of a showdown with Terry Carpenter will hinge to a very great extent upon what other men do. Gov. Crosby could have the solid backing of the party organization, for whatever it is worth, if—and it could be a big "If" — Congressman Carl Curtis, Dave Martin and others stay out. Martin's position was clarified last night. If Curtis has any intention of seeking the senate seat, he surely will not wait until other members of Nebraska's present delegation in the House get in.

Nebraskans need a hard-fought campaign. It will be good for this state to have issues presented first with intelligence and next with vigor. There has been far too much claptrap, infinitely too much indifference, a little bit of the sense of frustration on the part of the voter for Nebraska's political good health. This state needs a fighter in Washington. It needs a man who will say what ought to be said, who never for even a single hour will forget the hills and valleys of his homeland. Basically there is nothing wrong with Nebraska. All that is lacking is an articulate representative, understanding it, loving it, devoted to it, speaking for it.

Losing Thrift

An economy-minded House recently slashed to $1.5 million a budgetary request for $7.5 million for the support of America's "exchange of persons" program this coming fiscal year.

It is a well-established program, started in 1938. It has provided the State Department with a facility whereby it could send business, professional and political leaders to other countries on missions of study, counsel and good will. But more important it has provided for an exchange of students and professors. More than 14,000 of them have enjoyed exchange relationships.

In terms of dollars spent the exchange program has returned magnificent benefits. Young American leadership has learned valuable and practical facts about the world we must live and do business in. And there is no question of the great influence for good that has come from entertaining the thousands of foreign students. They have gone home with cherished memories of American hospitality. Equally important, they are remaining in their home land as lifelong teachers of American good will and methods.

The saving of $6 million will not be a drop in the bucket. But the national loss in dropping such a wise and constructive expenditure is incalculable. The House would perform a service to the nation if it reconsidered its action.

The Penultimate

Science has perfected an H-bomb by which any nation can obliterate another nation that happens to be disagreeable. Now it can make a cobalt bomb which not only can destroy the disagreeable nation, but the indignant one which launches it. That's the end of the line. We now have a positive method for ending civilization. We can close up the laboratories. But if there are any scientists around who find retirement tedious we could think up one or two little busy-work projects for them. One would be how to put civilization back together again. We'll need some ideas on that one of these days.

Public Failure

The Denver Post sent out poll takers to sample Colorado opinion on Eisenhower's farm policies. They found that 34 per cent generally approved of them while 20 per cent disapproved. Forty-six per cent held no opinion. Partisans can pretend to make a good deal of those figures. But the significance of the poll is not that a few more favored an agricultural cutback than opposed it. It was that 46 per cent are indifferent to their own political and economic welfare and are not prepared to help one side or the other in resolving the adult question of whither America. This is not a very encouraging example of democracy in action.

Say Scientists Did Not Delay Hydrogen Bomb

WASHINGTON—It is no secret that Joe McCarthy has been nursing as a trump card the charge that Communists held up production of the hydrogen bomb and that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, onetime head of Los Alamos, was responsible. Joe had planned to spring this charge in his Texas speech April 21 so its headlines would blanket the newspapers next day when the Senate probe of the McCarthy-Cohn-Army fracas begins.

It has also been no secret that the H-bomb was delayed—not 18 months as Joe alleged—but for about three months. And the story of the delay was published in this column on Jan. 23, 1950, before Joe made any of his charges about Communism in government.

The backstage story did not involve Communistic motives, but, as Chairman Sterling Cole of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, a Republican, has stated, honest differences of opinion.

Four years have passed since the question of whether or not the U.S.A. should build the hydrogen bomb was debated by the Truman cabinet, and during that time many people have forgotten the doubts and misgivings of that period. They have also forgotten how Henry L. Stimson, a Republican who served in the cabinets of Taft and Hoover, proposed to Truman that the United States share the secret of the atomic bomb with Russia. Elder statesman Stimson, no traitor to his country, was overruled by Truman, but he sincerely believed at that time, 1945, that we could still get along with Russia and should share our most precious secret.

BACKSTAGE STORY

Here are excerpts from the story of the hydrogen-bomb debate, as recorded in this column when the battle was hot, Jan. 23, 1950, four years before McCarthy decided to dig it up as a national issue:

"At a secret meeting with Gen. Bradley, Atomic Energy Chairman Lilienthal made a last ditch, emotional plea against the hydrogen bomb. In effect, he said: 'We must exhaust every means of reaching an agreement with Russia to outlaw atomic warfare before we make this bomb. We should appeal over the heads of the Kremlin to the Russian people. They will force Stalin to come to terms.'

"Lilienthal speaks for a tormented group of scientists who made the atomic bombs used at Hiroshima and Nagasaki and who agreed—somewhat against their better judgment—that the bombs should be dropped on enemy cities.

"It is still a secret in the files of the Manhattan district, but the atomic scientists were sharply divided into three groups. One did not want the bomb used at all. They urged that the President announce that we had the bomb and would use it unless the enemy surrendered.

"Group No. 2 wanted the atomic bomb dropped over an uninhabited area as a warning.

"Group No. 3 approved the action taken at Hiroshima. This included Dr. Robert Oppenheimer and Dr. Harold Urey.

"But when the photographs of seared flesh and the medical reports from Nagasaki and Hiroshima came back, these scientists went through the tortures of the damned. Their souls were on fire, and they started a burning private crusade against the hydrogen bomb that has divided the Atomic Energy Commission.

"The spirit of these scientists was expressed by Dr. Oppenheimer to a congressional hearing as follows: 'Many times we scientists thought the war might end before we had a bomb. But some of us did not stop, because we wanted the world to see the atomic bomb. It was to us the greatest argument for world peace.'

☆ ☆ ☆

STRAUSS STRONGLY BACKED

"These scientists and Lilienthal are planning to organize a lobby of church groups to carry on the 'crusade' after Lilienthal's resignation from the Atomic Commission in February.

"The other side in the hydrogen-bomb argument is championed by a philosopher and ex-banker, Lewis Strauss. Strauss is quoted as saying, 'All hope for international agreement to outlaw the atom bomb was killed when Russia refused to accept the Baruch proposals for inspection. That was the great shock of our times. Now we cannot afford not to make the new hydrogen bomb. We must maintain our superiority over any possible aggressor. That is the chief hope left for peace.'

"From the beginning of the Atomic Energy Commission, Lilienthal and Strauss have been in different corners. During the first year, Strauss was a lone dissenter. He offered to resign, but President Truman refused. Today, Strauss is the majority leader in the commission and his view on the hydrogen bomb is backed by both the National Security Council and the Atomic Energy Committee of Congress.

"The difficult decision of whether to build the dread hydrogen bomb is now up to President Truman."

LOOKING BACK

The above is the basic story of the debate over the H-bomb. Since then, other basic details have become known, but it doesn't change the basic story. It has become known, for instance, that the debate over building the H-bomb began right after the Russians exploded their first A-bomb on Sept. 23, 1949. During the debate, however, our scientific work on the H-bomb continued, so that little if any time was lost because of the debate.

Scelba Faces Uphill Pull To Win For EDC

ROME—In a talk with this reporter just after he had applied iron discipline to whip his Christian Democratic party into line behind the government's new tax program, Premier Mario Scelba spoke frankly of the difficulties ahead. In his view the question of Trieste must be settled before it will be possible to get a meaningful majority in the parliament behind ratification of the European Defense Community, which is the key to American foreign policy in Europe.

Pointing out that his government is a center coalition, with a nominal majority of only 14 members, Scelba said it is essential to get votes from the right wing Monarchists and even from the Neo-Fascists so that the united army plan will be approved with sufficient votes to impress the country with the support behind this revolutionary step. It is revolutionary, Scelba said, because after it is taken the army can no longer be used as an instrument of foreign policy.

"This means," he went on, "that if the dispute over Trieste should be prolonged into the future after we had surrendered sovereignty over our army, we could not use the army as a last resort in that dispute." This, Scelba explained, is the complaint that the right-wing groups are making, and in order to get their co-operation there must be action on the explosive Trieste question.

On the Communist danger in Italy, which has the largest Communist party in Europe outside the Soviet Union, Scelba said it must be frankly recognized that Communism with tis widespread organization and its great resources cannot be eliminated by any sudden arbitrary measures. His government has pledged itself to end many of the privileges the Communist party now enjoys, such as printing its publications in government owned buildings. These arrangements can be ended, according to Scelba, in a fairly short time.

Much more difficult is the business of ousting the Communist from the hundreds, if not thousands, of buildings that formerly belonged to the Fascists. Communist leaders active in the resistance movement took over these structures at the end of the war and they have been one of the big resources of the party. They are occupying those buildings legally and they are paying rent on them, Scelba explained.

"But you must realize," he said, "that we are dealing with only a fraction of the great resources they have at their disposal. We are also moving to end the Communist-controlled trading companies that deal with Russia and the satellites. Our intention is to set up a state monopoly of this trade."

But even the revenue from these companies channeled into the party in one way or another is doubtless small in comparison to the assistance furnished by Moscow. The Italian Communist party is so important to the Kremlin's plans that through many devices, including dummy companies in Switzerland, the Soviet sends gold and dollars into this country.

The premier differed firmly with the policy now being carried out by U.S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce of taking dollar contracts for military material under the American Aid Program away from factories with Communist-dominated unions. He expressed the same view as the big industrialists who insist that this will create more unemployment and, therefore, more social disorder. Such an arbitrary step, in the premier's view, would have a disrupting effect that might undo many of the gains achieved through the spending of three and a half billions of American aid.

An equally tough problem is the effort to get a tax law adopted providing jail sentences for false tax returns. Three years ago the law was changed to provide fines for such practices. But the fines have been nominal or they have not been levied at all and the practice has gone on with the 10 and 20 percenters and quick-money boys getting away with murder.

Some progress has been made in land reform. But Scelba points out how costly it is to drain land, build roads and houses and do everything else that has to be done before peasant farmers can take over their own holdings. He said that the government has expropriated about two and a half million acres of land from large landholders. At least 10 years will be required to make this over, Scelba was frank in stating his hope that further economic aid from America might make it possible to accelerate the process.

BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

CHAPTER XXIX

Bishop Sheen, in yesterday's installment, points out that the e were among Christ's most ?ous followers those who could not comprehend the fact of His Resurrection. Magdalene at first thought "the body had been stolen." His Apostles thought the women "were imagining things." Following His death Christ made many appearances and finally ascends back to His Father.

★

He said God's redemptive purpose was being revealed in the Prophets, and this redemption was to be effective by the death of the God Who became man. Once more there is a total absence of the fact that He was to leave a code or a set of rules. He emphasized the fact that His death made possible the preaching of repentance and the remission of sins to all nations and to all peoples. He said that it behooved Him to suffer. This indeed was true, because when anyone preaches absolute and Divine Truth to a world that believes in pragmatism, He will be crucified. The only way that He could show the evil of sin, was by revealing what sin could do to goodness, namely, pinion Him to a tree. If sin is a debt, that debt can be paid only by someone Who gave His life in ransom. It is very likely that He retold for them the story of God telling Abraham to sacrifice his son Isaac as a burnt offering. From the moment of that command, Isaac was a dead man, but on the third day he was released from his death sentence. He probably told them the Psalms where in it was said of Him:

"Thou shalt not leave my soul in hell,
Nor suffer Thy own Holy One to see corruption."

His death alone would have had no efficacy for the removal of human guilt, if He had not broken the bonds of the grave. Arising from the dead, He showed that the Redemption price paid on Calvary was sufficient, and that it was accepted by His Heavenly Father.

Repentance and Remission

Now He commissions them as His witnesses to bring repentance to all nations. When Our Blessed Lord began His public life one of His first words was 'repent.' It was also the subject of His departing breath. Repentance and the remission of sins are twins; almost siamese twins, for they cannot be separated. Repentance sees the rubbish in the temple of the body, but remission of sins drives out those buyers and sellers and make it truly a house of prayer.

This preaching of the remission of sins was to begin at Jerusalem where He was crucified, in order that not even the place which took His life is to be exempted from His forgiveness. Those who have had great privileges and who have apparently rejected them, are not to be considered beyond the hope of forgiveness. The conversion of the world starts at home, but it only starts there. Then the Saviour said:

"And behold, I am sending down upon you
The Gift which was promised by My Father;
You must wait in the city until you are
Clothed with power from on high."

They were to tarry in Jerusalem until He would send His Spirit. If He had remained on earth, they could have heard His voice, touched His hand, seen His radiant face, but if He left and ascended to His Father and sent His Spirit, then He would be a veritable life to be lived. This Spirit, He said, would recall to their minds all things whatsoever He had told them. The Spirit would not be a code of morality written either on tablets of their minds or on tablets of stone, but would enter into their will and motivate their actions; penetrate the intellect to see truths beyond the power of reason, encourage them to love the things that He loved, and inspire them to enter into their glory as He entered into His, namely, by dying to the evil of the world.

The Spirit would not be long in coming—only ten days hence. They were to keep their eyes in expectation upon the horizon and their hand upon the door; God in His own pleasure would endow them from a power on high. This power would not only awaken the soul of man from the deadly sleep of sin, but it would also be the comforter of the soul and above all, the source of their sanctification.

Christ's Promise

After giving them the promise of the Spirit, Our Blessed Lord led His disciples out as far as Bethany and lifted up His hands and blessed them.

"And even as He blessed them
He parted from them,
And was carried up into heaven."

He had promised His disciples that they would follow Him and be with Him, and that He would go to Heaven to prepare a place for them. Great is the contrast between the unimaginable grandeur of the Ascension, and the sober words with which the record is set down. The night of the Last Supper He told His Apostles that He was soon to enter into the glory with His Father that He had before the foundations of the world were laid. He also told Pilate that He would see the Son of Man coming on the right hand of His power to judge the living and the dead. Now, He becomes the forerunner of Humanity in heaven, for no human foot could ever set itself in any one of the Father's Mansions unless He Himself had prepared the way.

Christ ascends to Heaven where He had promised to prepare a place for His disciples.

The Apostles must have noticed as He blessed them upon leaving, the great scars of Redemption on His hands. Peter in particular must have recalled that they were the same hands that saved Him from the Galilean waves; Thomas must have lamented that it was the hand that He was bidden to touch to be cured of His doubt; all of the Apostles must have remembered that He showed to them those same sacred hands to remind them that this was the mission for which He came to earth. But now that they were believing, the marks at this time were less the memories of a Crucifixion, than the record of a love of One Who lay down His life for His sheep.

THE CHILDREN

"They're nice when they're good," say their mother and dad,
"But they get on your nerves when the children are bad.
"At table they force you to coax them to eat.
The home until bedtime is bedlam complete.
They won't stop their noise when you want to be still,
But the quiet is harder to bear when they're ill."

Lesson Well Learned

Riverton, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In Wednesday's Star appeared the letter of one Jane Christensen on the farm price situation, on which the editor makes appropriate comments. This woman writes from my own county of Franklin, my own community, and forcibly expresses a pertinent truth. As she well states, this situation of the lowering of farm prices, while corporation monopoly prices are paid for the articles farmers buy, coupled with the raising of salaries for state, national and county officials with higher taxes spell doom for the prosperity of the farmer—and not only the farmer, but a collapse of our national economy.

Pertinent to all this, we ask: Did this lady vote for a change in the last election? Did she as well as a large majority in this county of Franklin vote for Curtis, Eisenhower? If she did, when as a matter of fact she and those who so voted enjoyed the good farm prices and prosperity of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations under the New Deal, we cannot have that warm, sympathetic feeling for them in their now distressful condition. There has always been a difference in feeling for those who willingly accept economic slavery as their lot and vote to accept it, and those who courageously and intelligently fight with fierce resistance against it. While we may weep for their misfortunes, we can but deplore their judgment.

Another interesting letter appeared in The Star from C. E. Herrick. In his letter occurs this statement:

"The world is in rebellion against a system of poverty and riches. The rich like the system and the poor are easily seduced by promises. These promises will lead them to a worse condition of master and slave and perdition."

That is a truth stated "multum in parvo." Fifty years ago Mr. Herrick, then a boy, was a pupil in the district school which I taught. He was an unusually bright boy and I tried to impress upon him love for country and justice to all people, the poor as well as the wealthy. It appears he learned and kept those ideas well. He has been a member of the Legislature from his district, and of course I am very proud of him as a Democrat and patriot.

Hospital 'Well Suited' For CD Decision On Office Is Pending

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—The new 200-bed Veterans Administration hospital here was described Thursday as being "very well suited" for use as a headquarters for the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Val Peterson, civil defense administrator, said after inspecting the building, that if it is not being used effectively as a hospital, "then it would lend itself well to such purposes as ours." He explained that Civil Defense headquarters will have to be moved from Washington within a few weeks, and that a new site has not been located as yet.

Peterson toured the hospital with its manager, Dr. J. Ralston Wells, during a brief visit here Thursday. Consideration of the hospital as a Civil Defense headquarters has been asked by local groups. The former Nebraska governor did not commit himself to the choice of locating here, pointing out that there are "innumerable proposals" for location of the headquarters throughout the nation.

Other prospects, he said, included government installations at Indiantown Gap, Pa, the Percy Jones Hospital at Battle Creek, Mich., Fort Des Moines, Ia., and Hot Springs, Ark. A headquarters, he said, would have to provide space for a 500-person administrative staff, communications center and a staff college and rescue school which would be operated in connection with the headquarters.

"In my judgment, space is adequate at this hospital for all four of these," he said. "We would also need space for a rescue street." This is an area in which evacuation and survival methods are taught under simulated disaster conditions, he explained.

"The hospital here is a beautiful building. Obviously, it would be better if such a well-planned and equipped building should be used as a hospital, but if it is not being used effectively as a hospital, then it would lend itself well to such purposes as ours."

Backers of the headquarters location here have said that the hospital is not filled with patients at the present time. Dr. Wells pointed out, however, that "We now have all the patients here that we can handle." He declined to give the proportion of beds which are presently occupied.

Peterson estimated that the annual payroll of the Civil Defense headquarters would be about $3,000,000. He explained that the President has ordered that no new administrative office space be constructed until all space now used by the government is utilized. For many reasons, Peterson said, a headquarters location in the Midwest would be desirable. Since such a headquarters would have to be at least 30 miles from a probable "aiming point" of enemy bombers, he said. "Grand Island is A-one from that point of view."

He qualified his approval of several features of locating in Grand Island, by saying many factors will have to be considered in choosing a site. "But," he added, "the door isn't closed on this location."

Peterson attended funeral services for Sen. Griswold in Scottsbluff before going to Grand Island. He arrived in Lincoln Thursday night and said he planned to return to Washington on Saturday.

Chamber Contact Club Meets Today

Contact Club members of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, currently engaged in a two weeks' quickie campaign to secure 100 new applications, expect to reach the half-way mark when they meet for breakfast Friday morning at the Chamber, according to Chairman Howard Doty.

"While we work the year-round, this is a special spurt and those who show up the best will be rewarded with tickets to see the Lincoln Chiefs play baseball," Doty said.

The total goal for 1954 is 500 new members in all categories of membership. With less than one-third of the year gone, the 175 applications turned in up to April 9 represent more than one-third of the goal.

For the current drive, which will end with a report breakfast on Friday morning, April 23, four special captains were appointed. They are Harold Muffly, Harold Sorensen, Don Hennessey and Bill Borgaard.

After this contest, the teams will revert respectively to the leadership of Charles Fowler, M. H. Pollard, Sam Chesnin and Howard Spahnle. Gordon McKinney and Ben Norris, co-chairmen with Doty, function throughout.

Emerald Couple's Domestic Quarrel Results In $50 District Court Fine

An Emerald couple, Henry A. Debus, Jr., 43, and his wife, Jacquline, 36, were each fined $50 in Lancaster County Court after they pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace charges.

Both the husband and wife were agreed that there had been a fight, but differed in their stories as to who started it, and each claimed the other had picked up a knife first.

The husband, his arm in a sling, told the court he received a knife-slashed wound on his left arm, requiring 30 stitches, and a fractured right hand.

The wife said she suffered a few bruises and a couple of small cuts on her hand.

Mrs. Debus, claiming he husband was the first to pick up a knife, said she knocked her husband down, and kicked away the knife.

She said she picked up the knife, allegedly a "butcher knife", after her husband got another knife.

Asked by the court if it was true his wife had knocked him down, Mr. Debus said she "knocked me down several times—she's bigger than I am."

Mrs. Debus, claiming he husband was the first to pick up a knife, said she knocked her husband down, and kicked away the knife.

She said she picked up the knife, allegedly a "butcher knife", after her husband got another knife.

Asked by the court if it was true his wife had knocked him down, Mr. Debus said she "knocked me down several times—she's bigger than I am."

Dairy Support Level Of 85 Per Cent Parity Urged

Limit On Drop Also Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen Thye (R-Minn) has proposed legislation to establish a support level of 85 per cent of parity on dairy products for the year ending next March 31 and to limit any future drop to no more than five per cent in any year.

He offered his proposal on behalf of himself and Sen Ives (R-NY) as an amendment to the wool bill which probably will come up in the Senate next week.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson on April 1 cut the dairy support level from 90 to 75 per cent of parity.

Thye told the Senate that Benson announced that he was following the law and that he had no alternative but to make the sharp cut.

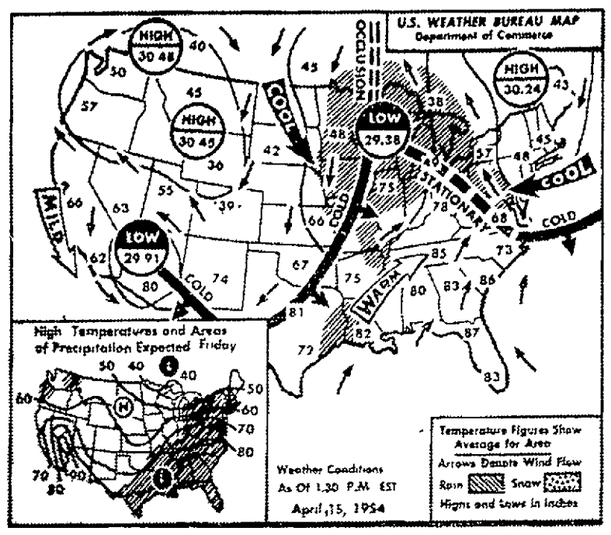

"If that be true," Thye said, "then it is squarely up to this Congress to modify the law . . ."

Thye said the 75 per cent level will cost dairy farmers of the nation 600 million dollars a year and that Minnesota farmers alone will lose 45 million.

The extra cost of the government in supporting dairy products at 90 per cent of parity is estimated to be 40 million dollars a year he said.

"Frankly I do not know where this government could better spend 40 million dollars than in a way that would return its own citizens 600 million dollars," Thye said.

He said if his proposal for an 85 per cent support level is approved it would cost the government only an additional 26 million dollars.

Clear Skies On Tap For Friday

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast Friday from the Gulf coast northward through the Ohio valley to the eastern Great Lakes. Some rain is expected in the Middle and North Atlantic states. The rest of the country will have clear skies except for a few showers in the Pacific northwest. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Pair Hurt In Fremont Blast Recovering

FREMONT, Neb (AP)—Two persons, injured in an explosion in the basement of the men's dormitory at Midland College, were reported recovering in a hospital here Thursday night.

Marshall Farley, 20, Missouri Valley Ia., college basketball star, who was badly burned about the face, arms and hands, was reported in "fair" condition.

Ralph Scott, 64, Fremont, custodian, was in "satisfactory" condition. He suffered a deep head laceration and a fractured kneecap when the blast occurred.

Firemen said Thursday they had been unable to determine the cause of the blast, but the investigation was continuing.

They said when they got to the building they found flames pouring from a steam pipe. The heating plant that serves the dormitory is a short distance away in another building, they said and the boiler there was "red hot." Firemen extinguished the flames.

State FHA Files Said 'Clean As A Whistle'

No Cases Of 'Wealth' Are Known

OMAHA (AP)—Robert C. Hastings, Nebraska director for the Federal Housing Administration, said an inspection of FHA-insured Section 608 project files here revealed them "clean as a whistle."

Hastings has been made custodian of the files for rental-housing projects, now under investigation nationally by the Senate administration and banking committee. There are 44 Section 608 projects in the state.

In some parts of the country, it has been alleged that builders and promoters obtained FHA-insured loans far in excess of the cost of their projects.

"In Nebraska the 608 program has been wholesome providing badly needed housing," Hastings told the University of Omaha-Nebraska Real Estate Association seminar.

"I don't know an instance where some one has been made wealthy," he went on. "In fact, there are some who wish they never had heard of the program."

He was referring to builders who reportedly may lose money on their projects.

Hastings said the title I (home improvement and repair loans) complaint file also has been put in his personal custody. In 20 years of FHA operation, he said, it contains about 20 complaints of overcharges to home owners.

Title I loans, he explained, are handled between banks and Washington FHA headquarters. The state FHA office enters in only if there is a complaint.

Hastings said a board appointed by him has been examining the 608 files. Its first findings have been reported to Washington. The next step, if any, he said, may be an examination by the Senate Banking Committee.

Widow's Home Gets Coat Of Paint

'Controversial' Hordville Home Painted By Lincoln Goodwillers

Lincoln Star Special

HORDVILLE, Neb.—The home of Mrs. Levina Campbell, center of considerable controversy for about 25 years, has taken on a new look.

The controversy started about 25 years ago when the Hordville Lumber Co. went bankrupt. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were part owners of the Lumber Co. At the bankrupt sale, all accounts receivable were purchased by an Omaha attorney.

Mrs. Campbell, at that time, lost all her savings and was unable to pay a small coal bill. Through court actions, an Omaha attorney has been trying all these years to obtain judgment and sell her home. Mrs. Campbell, in an effort to keep her home, fought back and only recently received the ruling that the house remain hers. Her husband died before the Hordville Lumber Co. went bankrupt.

Reading of Mrs. Campbell's trying years, members of the Exchange Club of Lincoln saw an opportunity to assist Mrs. Campbell in redecorating her small, modest home in Hordeville.

An advance party of Leon Donley, president of the Exchange Club, and George Bastian, treasurer of the group, came out to Hordville to inspect the house, check the circumstances and saw that the idea of helping Mrs. Campbell redecorate her home was among the purposes of the club.

Service work is one of the primary aims of the Exchange Club. All the material and supplies for the project at Hordville were furnished by the club.

Club members taking part in the painting and redecorating were Marvin Shrout, Charles H. Roper, Robert McUerney, Maurice E. Logan, Douglas M. Dort, Russell H. Fults, Harold Sorensen, Don E. Edmund, Donald L. Woodford and Andy H. Loats.

Club members plan to return to Hordville in the near future to give the house a second coat of paint and to repair some broken windows.

Mrs. Campbell, who has just turned 89 years old, came to northern Hamilton County when she was five years old, before there was a town of Hordville. She resides by herself in Hordville, and is exceptionally alert to present events and enjoys keeping well posted on current happenings.

Sunrise Ceremonies At Seward On Easter

SEWARD, Neb.— Dr. Paul Zimmerman of Concordia Teachers College will be the speaker at the annual Easter sunrise service at the Seward band shell at 6 a.m. on Easter Sunday.

In case of bad weather, the service will be held in St. John's Lutheran Church.

Air Academy Site Members Tour Omaha

OMAHA (AP)—The 5-man Air Academy Site Commission left Omaha Thursday morning after an overnight stop at Offutt Air Force Base where they were guests of Gen. Curtis LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air Command.

As their C-121 Constellation took off it circled Omaha to give the commission members an aerial view of the city and its environs, which they had been asked to consider as a possible site for the proposed West Point of the Air.

Met By Omaha Group

A few minutes before their take-off a group of Omaha businessmen addressed them briefly on the advantages of Omaha and other sites in Nebraska for the proposed academy.

Included in the Omaha group were Ed Pettis, Harold La Mar, Arthur Storz, Harry Byrne and William Holz.

A commission aide said the commission would not make further site inspections in Nebraska but would go directly to the Sedalia Mo., Air Base.

The Omaha group re-submitted a site in the Elkhorn River valley which originally was proposed as a desirable location by the Chamber in 1950.

Kearney and Grand Island sites were viewed earlier this week.

The commission did not inspect the Mead Ordnance Plant site, backed by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, nor the former Bruning Air Force Field, which is favored by Bruning and Fairbury interests for location of the proposed West Point of the Air.

$120,000 Fund Drive Launched

GERING, Neb. — Members of the Gering Methodist church have launched a $120,000 fund drive to complete the sanctuary wing of the new church building.

The Rev. A. J. Rich, pastor, announced that 65 members of the church men's organization would canvass members in their home. The drive will close April 21 with a victory dinner.

T. H. McCosh, chairman of the building committee, announced that contractors had promised that the structure will be ready for use in November.

Demonstration On Irrigation Slated On Franklin Farm

FRANKLIN, Neb. — The first public demonstration will be held Friday at 10 a.m. on the University of Nebraska "Irrigation Development Farm" near here, says Cliff Ashburn, Franklin County agent.

The demonstration is slated for the Orlin Scheuneman farm, located one mile west of the Franklin County Fairgrounds on old Highway 3, Ashburn says.

There will be a number of types of machinery in operation including land floaters, ditchers, and corrugators. Several specialists will be on hand to explain the use of the machinery and to explain the operations.

Pump System Will Drain Water From Land Behind Levee

RULO, Neb. (AP)—Three farmers owning land in the lower Nemaha River levee system have installed a pump system to drain water from land behind the levees.

The system will go into operation to remove local rainfall excesses at times when the floodgates in the levee system are closed against high water in the Nemaha or Missouri Rivers.

The pump has a 10-inch intake and a six-inch outlet, which goes through the levee about three feet from the top of the 10-foot earthen embankment. The pump is designed to throw 2,200 gallons of water a minute out of the ditch in which it is installed. The ditch drains water from 600 acres of land belonging to the three landowners.

The three are Willard Lewis Sr., Eliad Bachman and Newt Hosford.

Rites Friday For Victim Of Tractor Crash

HILDRETH, Neb. — Funeral services for Kenneth Grotehoos, 18, crushed to death in a tractor mishap, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Ash Grove Church here.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Grotehoos, he lost his life when the tractor he was driving overturned and crushed him.

In addition to his parents, the youth is survived by six brothers.

State FHA Files Said 'Clean As A Whistle'

No Cases Of 'Wealth' Are Known

OMAHA (AP)—Robert C. Hastings, Nebraska director for the Federal Housing Administration, said an inspection of FHA-insured Section 608 project files here revealed them "clean as a whistle."

Hastings has been made custodian of the files for rental-housing projects, now under investigation nationally by the Senate administration and banking committee. There are 44 Section 608 projects in the state.

In some parts of the country, it has been alleged that builders and promoters obtained FHA-insured loans far in excess of the cost of their projects.

"In Nebraska the 608 program has been wholesome providing badly needed housing," Hastings told the University of Omaha-Nebraska Real Estate Association seminar.

"I don't know an instance where some one has been made wealthy," he went on. "In fact, there are some who wish they never had heard of the program."

He was referring to builders who reportedly may lose money on their projects.

Hastings said the title I (home improvement and repair loans) complaint file also has been put in his personal custody. In 20 years of FHA operation, he said, it contains about 20 complaints of overcharges to home owners.

Title I loans, he explained, are handled between banks and Washington FHA headquarters. The state FHA office enters in only if there is a complaint.

Hastings said a board appointed by him has been examining the 608 files. Its first findings have been reported to Washington. The next step, if any, he said, may be an examination by the Senate Banking Committee.

Widow's Home Gets Coat Of Paint

Lincoln Star Special

HORDVILLE, Neb.—The home of Mrs. Levina Campbell, center of considerable controversy for about 25 years, has taken on a new look.

The controversy started about 25 years ago when the Hordville Lumber Co. went bankrupt. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were part owners of the Lumber Co. At the bankrupt sale, all accounts receivable were purchased by an Omaha attorney.

Mrs. Campbell, at that time, lost all her savings and was unable to pay a small coal bill. Through court actions, an Omaha attorney has been trying all these years to obtain judgment and sell her home. Mrs. Campbell, in an effort to keep her home, fought back and only recently received the ruling that the house remain hers. Her husband died before the Hordville Lumber Co. went bankrupt.

Reading of Mrs. Campbell's trying years, members of the Exchange Club of Lincoln saw an opportunity to assist Mrs. Campbell in redecorating her small, modest home in Hordeville.

An advance party of Leon Donley, president of the Exchange Club, and George Bastian, treasurer of the group, came out to Hordville to inspect the house, check the circumstances and saw that the idea of helping Mrs. Campbell redecorate her home was among the purposes of the club.

Service work is one of the primary aims of the Exchange Club. All the material and supplies for the project at Hordville were furnished by the club.

Club members taking part in the painting and redecorating were Marvin Shrout, Charles H. Roper, Robert McUerney, Maurice E. Logan, Douglas M. Dort, Russell H. Fults, Harold Sorensen, Don E. Edmund, Donald L. Woodford and Andy H. Loats.

Club members plan to return to Hordville in the near future to give the house a second coat of paint and to repair some broken windows.

Mrs. Campbell, who has just turned 89 years old, came to northern Hamilton County when she was five years old, before there was a town of Hordville. She resides by herself in Hordville, and is exceptionally alert to present events and enjoys keeping well posted on current happenings.

Barbecue Planned At Norfolk July 1

NORFOLK, Neb. — July 1 has been set at the date for Norfolk's first Farmers' Day Barbecue.

The event, for farmers and their wives in northeast Nebraska, will take the place of the annual Farmer-Businessman banquet and the Rural Homemakers Recognition Luncheon. Sponsors are the Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee and the retail trade committee.

Entertainment will be provided by the Koshare Indians, Scout Explorer Troop 2330 of LaJunta, Colo.

POSTCARD

On leisurely days, I do business with my village banker. We discuss council meetings and street repairs. The weather and the state of the nation.

There are times, however, when I do business with the Bank of America.

The Bank of America is the world's largest bank. It has revolving funds and sinking funds and rising funds and reserve funds. What I mean, this piggy is really loaded.

It has many vice-presidents. One vice-president, I think, is in charge of my money. Each night he goes downstairs and counts it. When he is sure it is all there, he gives the wave off.

The president takes a big gold key out of his waistcoat pocket. And he locks the big front door.

That is surely a fine way to keep money.

I went down to the Bank of America office in San Francisco the other day. I have a window all to myself. Marked "D." And if I should go to any other window, they simply would not speak to me. This is efficient and keeps out the peasants

"Ma'am," I said. "I would like to draw out 2000 skins, ma'am. If you please ma'am."

"Do you have an account?" she said politely.

Well, do I have an account? She should talk to my vice-president. But maybe she was new.

"Yes, ma'am," I said. "I have an account. I have just put 2000 skins in this account. Now I wish to pull out the 2000."

"In cash?" she said. She would have been mighty surprised if I had drawn it in prime beaver. But I told her.

"In that case," she said, "you do not wish cash. You wish a check. You make the check to us. We give you the travelers' checks."

"I want to look at my money," I said suspiciously.

"Don't be greedy," she said. "Always give your friends the first bite at the apple. Sign here."

"And where do I take this ma'am?" I said, scuffing my boots on the marble

"Why you do not take it anywhere," she said laughing. "We have a man takes it for you. First I must check your signature against our files. There are so many rascals loose in the world these days we must be careful.

"Then," she said. "I must take a look in the books to see whether you really have 2000 skins. Or maybe you are fibbing."

"You could just look at my money," I said. "Ask the vice-president—."

"That is not the way we do it," she said sharply.

☆ ☆ ☆

After awhile she came back with my check, stamped, Oked, inked and official. The man took my check to another window. He had a star and a bulge over his pistol pocket. He looked like my old truant officer.

"Have you ever used travelers' check?" said the new lady.

"Yes, ma'am," I said "Can I look at my money, please ma'am?"

"Why you are getting your money in nice clean travelers' checks," she said smiling. "Isn't that nicer? You will have no trouble with these. You can cash them anywhere"

"Can I cash them here, now?" I said eagerly.

"That would be silly wouldn't it?" she said. "Sign these, please."

I signed a lot of checks. Signed and signed. I tell you I never saw a red cent in action all the time I was in there. I think they have a vice-president in charge of sitting on it during the daytime.

It is a good deal different in the village. My village banker lets me look at it sometimes. Through bars, of course.

I guess that is how you get to to be world's largest bank though. And I am happy to do business with them. If it is that hard for me to get it out, it must be even harder for someone else. I haven't seen my vice-president lately. I do hope he isn't ill.

JOSH BROWN RESIGNS:

Cretsinger Is Named To State Legislature

CRETSINGER

BROWN

The Nebraska Legislature lost a member Thursday and almost immediately got a replacement.

Gov. Robert Crosby announced the resignation of Josh L. Brown of Brule as legistator from the 39th District, and the appointment of former Sen. Clyde F. Cretsinger of Paxton to replace him.

Brown said ill health prompted the resignation.

The letter containing the resignation was dated earlier this week but arrived while the governor was absent to attend funeral services at Scottsbluff for U.S. Sen. Dwight P. Griswold (R-Neb.).

Big District

Cretsinger represented the district in the 1947 and 1949 sessions and then was succeeded by Brown, whom Cretsinger, in turn, now succeeds.

The 39th District, one of the largest in the state from the standpoint of area, embraces Garden, Deuel, Grant, Arthur, Keith, Hooker, McPherson, Thomas, Logan and Blaine Counties.

Cretsinger, 58, was born in Coon Rapids, Ia., and came to Nebraska in 1919. He is a farmer and livestock man, and a veteran of World War I.

Beck Says 'Straw Vote' On Changes Is Not Necessary

A so-called "straw" vote at the primaries on constitutional amendments to be submitted at the November election is not necessary, Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck ruled.

Beck held that the 1920 Constitution rendered the old 1907 Act inoperative. And the 1943 revision of the statutes and the codification of the election laws in 1951 did not restore the validity of the old act, he added.

The old act was a relic of the early years when constitutional amendments were printed on party ballots. Under present procedure, constitutional proposals appear on a separate ballot.

Gov. Crosby had requested the attorney general's opinion on the question in connection with proposed constitutional tax reforms which he recommends for consideration at the November election.

The special session of the Legislature which opens next Tuesday will be asked to put these proposals on the ballot.

TOKYO (AP) — The famed "Gate of Heavenly Peace," built 537 years ago at Peiping for grand ceremonies of emperors, has been redecorated and now serves as the rostrum for Mao Tse-tung, Red China's boss, when he views parades. The 530-year-old Imperial Palace there has been turned by the Communists into a museum. The hilltop summer palace, with its temple of 5,000 Buddhas, where empress dowagers of the Ching dynasty, once held court, now is a tourist center, Peiping broadcasts boast.

Broken Bow School Head To State Post

C. H. Hare, superintendent of schools at Broken Bow, was named assistant director of certification in the State Department of Public Instruction.

When W. A. Rosene retires from the directorship next January, Hare will succeed him, State Supt. F. B. Decker said.

Hare's appointment as assistant is effective Sept. 1.

Hare holds degrees from Nebraska Wesleyan University and the University of Nebraska, and has attended summer sessions at the University of Illinois and Denver University.

He was at Arnold 19 years before going to Broken Bow, and taught one year at Blair and two in Lincoln.

Rosene has been director of certification for 20 years. Before coming to the state department he was superintendent at Callaway and Mason City.

Bids On Two Cuming County Projects Asked

The Highway Department has called for bids to be opened May 13 on two projects in Cuming County.

One is a half-mile of paving on Highway 32 west of West Point; and the other is a half mile of paving on Grove Street in West Point.

Estimated cost of the two is $128,000, with the federal government putting up half of the amount and the city and state putting up $38,200 and $26,100, respectively.

Crosby Files For 6-Year Senate Term

Carpenter 'Challenge' Picked Up

Gov. Robert Crosby promptly picked up the challenge thrown down in the announcement of State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff that he would file for the six-year term in the U.S. Senate.

Shortly after 10 a.m. Thursday Gov. Crosby completed his filing for the same post with the secretary of state, having stopped off in his home town of North Platte and picked up his filing receipt enroute back to Lincoln from the funeral of Sen. Dwight Griswold. The $50 fee had been paid by his father, M. E. Crosby.

A few hours later, the filing of Carpenter arrived by mail at the secretary of state's office.

Crosby announced his intention to file for the Senate seat at his news conference and immediately afterward made the filing official.

The announcement of his future political plans came in the form of a prepared typewritten statement in which he said:

"I am submitting myself as a candidate for the United States Senate.

"As I stated Wednesday, I shall not accept the present appointment to the Senate. I shall appoint some qualified person who can faithfully represent the interests of Nebraska between now and the fall election.

'Full Attention'

"This procedure permits me to continue to give a full measure of attention to the problems of state government. I am intensely interested in carrying toward completion the many programs that have been started during my term as governor. I am thinking of the special legislative session that lies just ahead—the people must be given a full opportunity in the November election to express their desires regarding the tax system.

"The highway department is entering upon a record construction program with many attendant problems. We are in the midst of the war against traffic deaths, the preparation of a program by the Governor's Lay Leadership Educational Conference. The Human Relations Committee and the Murals Commission are in the midst of their work.

"Preparations are being made for an attack on problems of juvenile delinquency. Steps toward greater resource developments will be taking place during the balance of this year.

"I cannot in good conscience turn away from these responsibilities that remain in my term of office.

"Beginning next year I would be proud to serve my state in the Senate, following the fine traditions of the Nebraska senators who have preceded me."

The governor, in answer to questions, said that he had no statement on his campaign plans or when he would state his position on national issues. He likewise refused to comment on whether he was given any promise of support by party leaders attending the funeral services for Griswold.

The governor said he present plans call for his attendance at a conference of governors beginning April 26. At that time, he said he expected to discuss national affairs with leaders.

Dairy Calf Sale Will Include More Than 120 Animals

Over 120 purebred dairy calves will go on the auction block Saturday, April 24, at the State Fairgrounds during the 1954 Cooper Foundation dairy calf sale says Chris Sanders, field man for the Foundation.

A group of Brown Swiss, Guernsey and Holstein calves have been obtained, Sanders said. Nearly all of the animals are from herds doing dairy herd improvement association testing in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The calves will be auctioned only to 4-H club and FFA members and will actually cost the price paid at the farms where they were obtained. The Cooper Foundation stands all expenses of bringing the calves to the sale as a service to 4-H club and FFA members.

State Postmaster Nominations OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has sent to the Senate these postmaster nominations for Nebraska:

Dale F. Fattig, Brady; John C. Horner, Friend; Elizabeth R. Olson, Lindsay; Donald R. Shipman, Sidney; Gerhardt Wiard, Sutton; Jean A. Boyd, Winside.

Tractor Spill Kills Weston Farmer, 44

WESTON, Neb. (AP)—Joseph T. Benes, 44, Weston farmer, was killed Thursday when his tractor upset on a country road about 5 miles southeast of here.

Benes had just turned from the driveway leading from his farm onto a county road when the machine upset on the side of the road and fell on him in a shallow ditch.

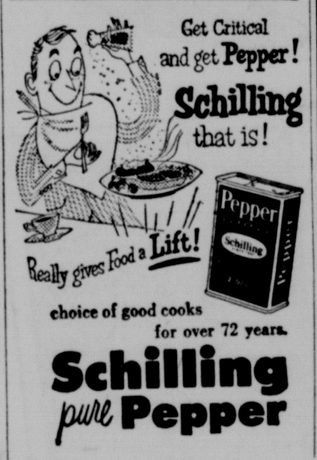

Sanders County Sheriff Joe Divis, who acted as coroner, said apparently the tractor developed brake trouble, causing the accident. He attributed the death to a broken neck.

Mrs. Benes was a witness to the accident.

Survivors in addition to his widow, Lillan, include a daughter, Nordine, 13, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Benes of Weston.

The death was the 78th from a traffic accident in Nebraska this year. A year ago at this time, 51 persons had died in traffic mishaps in the state.

Crosby Files For 6-Year Senate Term

Carpenter 'Challenge' Picked Up

Gov. Robert Crosby promptly picked up the challenge thrown down in the announcement of State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff that he would file for the six-year term in the U.S. Senate.

Shortly after 10 a.m. Thursday Gov. Crosby completed his filing for the same post with the secretary of state, having stopped off in his home town of North Platte and picked up his filing receipt enroute back to Lincoln from the funeral of Sen. Dwight Griswold. The $50 fee had been paid by his father, M. E. Crosby.

A few hours later, the filing of Carpenter arrived by mail at the secretary of state's office.

Crosby announced his intention to file for the Senate seat at his news conference and immediately afterward made the filing official.

The announcement of his future political plans came in the form of a prepared typewritten statement in which he said:

"I am submitting myself as a candidate for the United States Senate.

"As I stated Wednesday, I shall not accept the present appointment to the Senate. I shall appoint some qualified person who can faithfully represent the interests of Nebraska between now and the fall election.

'Full Attention'

"This procedure permits me to continue to give a full measure of attention to the problems of state government. I am intensely interested in carrying toward completion the many programs that have been started during my term as governor. I am thinking of the special legislative session that lies just ahead—the people must be given a full opportunity in the November election to express their desires regarding the tax system.

"The highway department is entering upon a record construction program with many attendant problems. We are in the midst of the war against traffic deaths, the preparation of a program by the Governor's Lay Leadership Educational Conference. The Human Relations Committee and the Murals Commission are in the midst of their work.

"Preparations are being made for an attack on problems of juvenile delinquency. Steps toward greater resource developments will be taking place during the balance of this year.

"I cannot in good conscience turn away from these responsibilities that remain in my term of office.

"Beginning next year I would be proud to serve my state in the Senate, following the fine traditions of the Nebraska senators who have preceded me."

The governor, in answer to questions, said that he had no statement on his campaign plans or when he would state his position on national issues. He likewise refused to comment on whether he was given any promise of support by party leaders attending the funeral services for Griswold.

The governor said he present plans call for his attendance at a conference of governors beginning April 26. At that time, he said he expected to discuss national affairs with leaders.

Dairy Calf Sale Will Include More Than 120 Animals

Over 120 purebred dairy calves will go on the auction block Saturday, April 24, at the State Fairgrounds during the 1954 Cooper Foundation dairy calf sale says Chris Sanders, field man for the Foundation.

A group of Brown Swiss, Guernsey and Holstein calves have been obtained, Sanders said. Nearly all of the animals are from herds doing dairy herd improvement association testing in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The calves will be auctioned only to 4-H club and FFA members and will actually cost the price paid at the farms where they were obtained. The Cooper Foundation stands all expenses of bringing the calves to the sale as a service to 4-H club and FFA members.

Tractor Spill Kills Weston Farmer, 44

WESTON, Neb. (AP)—Joseph T. Benes, 44, Weston farmer, was killed Thursday when his tractor upset on a country road about 5 miles southeast of here.

Benes had just turned from the driveway leading from his farm onto a county road when the machine upset on the side of the road and fell on him in a shallow ditch.

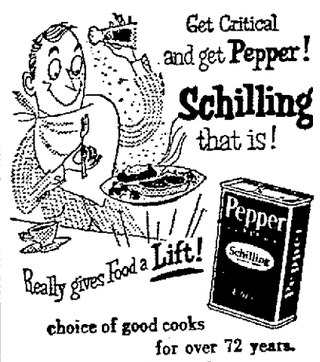

Sanders County Sheriff Joe Divis, who acted as coroner, said apparently the tractor developed brake trouble, causing the accident. He attributed the death to a broken neck.

Mrs. Benes was a witness to the accident.

Survivors in addition to his widow, Lillan, include a daughter, Nordine, 13, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Benes of Weston.

Citizens Council Neither OKs, Disapproves Sales, Income Tax

Members of the Nebraska Citizens Council went on record as neither approving nor disapproving enactment of a sales or an income tax or both.

The council adopted five resolutions which reflect its position on Gov. Robert Crosby's proposed tax amendments which will be submitted to the Legislature in the special session opening April 20.

In regard to new taxes, the Council only proposed what disposition should be made of the new tax revenue in the event sales and an income tax are approved by Nebraska voters, Executive Director R. M. Armstrong said.

The resolutions as written and approved by the members of the advisory council and board of trustees are as follows:

"1. The appointment rather than the election of county assessors.

"2. The appointment of a tax commission to replace the present State Board of Equalization composed of four elected state officials and the tax commissioner. We further recommend that the Legislature give serious consideration to abolishing the office of state tax commissioner so that those functions be performed by the tax commission.

"3. The exemption of household furnishings and personal effects from taxation.

"4. We believe that all classes of tangible property should be taxed uniformly and proportionately. Therefore, we oppose eliminating the uniformity clause of the constitution. We do favor any amendment which may be so worded that it will enable the Legislature to enact laws to permit different methods of arriving at the value of property but without removing the uniformity now required among all classes.

"5. The property tax should be eliminated as a source of state tax revenues for general fund purposes if a 2 per cent retail sales tax and a state income tax should be provided to replace the revenues from property tax. This action should be by constitutional amendment and should provide for return of all revenues in excess of administrative costs and budgetary appropriations to the various counties for the uses of local governments."

YOUR BAKING can rival the baking in America's finest eating places with

NEW Duncan Hines Flour

"In famous restaurants, I learned how important the choice of flour is to fine baking"... says Duncan Hines
AMERICA'S FOREMOST AUTHORITY ON GOOD EATING

"I decided that since home baking is done under varying conditions, my own flour should be specially milled to adjust to these conditions.

"Naturally, this special kind of flour demands highly skilled milling knowledge. That's why I chose the same millers who make all my cake mixes, buttermilk pancake mix and blueberry muffin mix to make my flour, too."

perfected for home baking

Yes, the kind of baking that has made reputations for many a fine restaurant can make you famous in your circle of friends...because Duncan Hines' own flour guarantees perfect results under the conditions that arise in home kitchens. For instance:

When you're interrupted by doorbell or telephone, an ordinary flour is apt to "let you down"; your baking suffers in texture and lightness.

When your oven temperature isn't perfectly accurate, your baking may fail to rise right, or may rise and then fall.

New Duncan Hines Flour adjusts to these variations in time and temperature. It's skillfully made of selected wheats, the kinds that perform best in the oven. Sifted through silk to make it fine enough for the most delicate baking, yet it has the "body" needed for easy mixing and handling. That's why a little overmixing or undermixing won't matter...and why even tricky recipes are easy to handle.

Automobile Industry Under Investigation

—Entire Field Being Eyed—

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Justice Department said Thursday it is engaged in a four-prong investigation of the nation's automotive industry, and a spokesman predicted court action may follow within 60 days.

The widespread investigations were said to be concerned primarily with possible violations of the anti-trust and monopoly laws.

Assistant Attorney General Stanley Barnes confirmed that the investigations have been unday way for some time. He said they involve manufacturers, suppliers and the entire automotive distribution field.

Barnes refused to comment directly on reports that his agents are looking into a possible monopoly position in the industry by Ford and General Motors. He declared: "Naturally we are interested in any facts which show a shift to GM and Ford and away from other segments of the industry."

Department officials said they have taken no stand on the question of "bootlegging" new cars through used car dealers. A spokesman said there have been visits to the anti-trust division by one of the major manufacturers, and by representatives of the National Association of Automobile Dealers, and a used car dealers group. Each, the spokesman said, had a different view of the problem.

An official pointed out that there have been charges that GM and Ford are gaining a dominant role in the automotive industry. But he said the courts have not yet passed on the question whether such domination by two or more companies can be considered illegal.

The department refused to specify in what fields the four separate investigations are going forth. It was learned, however, that at least one case, which does not involve monopoly charges, would probably reach the court prosecution stage within the next 60 days.

Automobile Industry Under Investigation

—Entire Field Being Eyed—

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Justice Department said Thursday it is engaged in a four-prong investigation of the nation's automotive industry, and a spokesman predicted court action may follow within 60 days

The widespread investigations were said to be concerned primarily with possible violations of the anti-trust and monopoly laws

Assistant Attorney General Stanley Barnes confirmed that the investigations have been under way for some time. He said they involve manufacturers suppliers and the entire automotive distribution field

Barnes refused to comment directly on reports that his agents are looking into a possible monopoly position in the industry by Ford and General Motors He declared "Naturally we are interested in any facts which show a shift to GM and Ford and away from other segments of the industry."

Department officials said they have taken no stand on the question of "bootlegging" new cars through used car dealers. A spokesman said there have been visits to the anti-trust division by one of the major manufacturers, and by representatives of the National Association of Automobile Dealers, and a used car dealers group Each, the spokesman said, had a different view of the problem

An official pointed out that there have been charges that GM and Ford are gaining a dominant role in the automotive industry But he said the courts have not yet passed on the question whether such domination by two or more companies can be considered illegal

The department refused to specify in what fields the four separate investigations are going forth. It was learned, however, that at least one case, which does not involve monopoly charges, would probably reach the court prosecution stage within the next 60 days.

The Brides' Book Says:

Miss Mary Ann Lauer, who will become the bride of Dean Buckingham at a 4 o'clock ceremony on Monday, June 7, at St. Paul Methodist Church, names the members of her bridal party this morning.

Mrs. Chalmers Seymour has been chosen as the matron of honor, and the bride's only attendant, and Miss Vivian Schwerre will light the candles.

Roger Buckingham of Minneapolis will be his brother's best man and the ushers are Richard Lauer and John Lauer, brothers of the bride-elect.

Miss Alice Pike, who will marry Ronald D. Vosika at a 4 o'clock ceremony on Sunday, June 6, at the College View Community Church, has chosen her sisters as her wedding attendants.

Miss Laurice Pike will be the maid of honor and the bridesmaid is Miss Mary Pike. Barbara Pike will be the junior bridesmaid and Betty Jo Pike will be the flower girl.

Richard Vosika will serve his brother as best man and the ushers include Robert Terpsma and Loren Lahn.

Another bride of Sunday, June 6 is Miss Patricia Russell, whose marriage to James L. Peters of Wahoo will be solemnized at a 2 o'clock ceremony at Warren Methodist Church.

Mrs. Jerry Peterson of Wahoo will be Miss Russell's matron of honor and only attendant. Warner Houfek, Wahoo, will be best man and the ushers, also from Wahoo, will be Jack Stewart and Jack Lindley.

Miss Donna Schnieber, who is to wed Paul S. Ayer on Saturday, June 5, at the First Presbyterian Church, has chosen Miss Marcia Ayer, sister of the bridegroom, as her maid of honor.

The bridesmaids include Miss Janis Jones, Miss Sharon Smith, Miss Anna Rosenberg, and Miss Jane Pierce. Miss Janet Schnieber, cousin of the bride-elect, will be the junior bridesmaid.

Jerome Moorberg, Grand Island, and Vonda Bottcher will light the candles. Brenda Beck and Stephen Jones will be the ringbearers and Kathy Baker will be the flower girl.

John Gates Minnick will serve Mr. Ayer as best man.

Another bride of early June is Miss Lois Duer who will marry Warren Whitney of Ceresco, at the St. Marys Church in Davey on Saturday, June 12.

The sister of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. Francis Shannahan, Prague, will be matron of honor for Miss Duer. The bridesmaids are Miss Mary Jo Brayman, Mrs. Ted Hansen, Ceresco, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Muriel Whitney, Central City, the bridegroom's cousin.

Patty Whitney, another sister of the bridegroom will be the flower girl.

Jack Walter will serve Mr. Whitney as best man and the ushers include Ted Hansen, Ceresco; and Tom and Phillip Whitney, younger brothers of the bridegroom, from Ceresco.

Autumn Bride-To-Be

MISS HARRIET SEIDEL

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Paul Edward Seidel of Wahoo are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Harriet, to Jess Conrad Nielsen of North Platte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anders Nielsen of Dannebrog.

An autumn wedding is planned.

Miss Seidel is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Theta sorority, and of Pi Lambda Theta.

Mr. Nielsen was graduated from the University of Nebraska College of Law where he was a member of the board of editors of the Nebraska Law Review, and where he is a member of Phi Alpha Delta, law fraternity.

Fidelia Lyceum Meets

Following the regular dinner o Fidelia Lyceum Tuesday evening at the YWCA, Mrs. C. M. Stewart presided at a short business meeting when Miss Ena Lind was named chairman of the nominating committee to select a slate of candidates for the club's election of officers in May. Members of her committee are Miss Delpha Taylor and Mrs. Paul Burklund.

The program, "Nature in Song and Verse," was presented by Mrs. Marian Gillen, vocalist; Mrs. George Grubb, narrator, and Mrs. Louis Babst, accompanist. Spring flowers and miniature Easter baskets appointed the dinner tables, and in charge of the arrangements were Mrs. Carrie Rische and Miss Freda Schmale.

TOWN TALK

WE'LL have to do some fast talking to tell all of our news about homecomers, guests and our spring brides-elect this morning—so we'll hurry along—

Among other things we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Thompson have just returned from California where they spent their spring holiday and where, at Corona del Mar, they had a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stewart, formerly of Lincoln. The Stewarts, by the way, have had the most interesting mail from their daughter, Miss Barbara Stewart—Theta at the University of Nebraska—who is secretary to the American Ambassador in Australia—and who is having an exciting time meeting all of the interesting people who arrive at the Embassy or for whom the ambassador and his family must entertain—and pay their respects. Her letters during Queen Elizabeth's visit in Australia were filled with the activities that went on—and Miss Stewart also received an invitation to a tea given in Queen Elizabeth's honor.

* * *

BACK home, also, is Mrs. George A. Lee who has been in California, too—helping her daughter, Virginia Lee Poteet and her small daughter, Mary Lee, to become settled in their new home at San Mateo, Calif.

* * *

HAD a glimpse of Miss Eleanor Nefsky who is home from the University of Oklahoma, where she is a sophomore, to spend the spring holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Nefsky. Miss Nefsky returns to Norman on Monday.

* * *

ONE of our popular spring brides is Miss Donna Borgaard whose marriage to Thomas Tobin will be solemnized on May 1—and who is being kept busy with prenuptial courtesies—

Next Wednesday evening the soon-to-be bride will be complimented when Miss Rita Angel is hostess at a 7:30 o'clock dessert supper at her home. Twelve guests have been invited for the supper.

On April 7 the bride-elect was an honoree when Miss Mitzie Marquesen, Miss Joan Hawthorne and Miss Dixie Borgaard were hostesses at an evening party at the Alpha Chi Omega house when members of the chapter presented Miss Borgaard with a bathroom shower.

Also honoring Miss Borgaard were Miss Shirley Laghus and Miss Beverly Davis who entertained last Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Davis. The guests were invited for a dessert supper after which the bride-to-be was presented with a personal shower.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Baumgart announce the engagement of their daughter, Waunita Baumgart Franz, to Loy Reed Rhoades, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ehler J. Rhoades.

A summer wedding is planned.

Diamond Family Has Reunion

A family reunion is being held this week at the home of Mrs. David Diamond whose five daughters are together for the first time in many years.

Pictured above with Mrs. Diamond, who celebrated her 80th birthday anniversary last week, are her daughters and grandchildren: (standing, left to right) Mrs. Harry Levenson (Ruth Diamond), Lincoln; Mrs. Milton Wittman (Evelyn Diamond), Bethesda, Md.; Mrs. William Frank (Shirley Diamond), Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. Edwin Katskee (Berniece Diamond), Lincoln; Mrs. Samuel F. Bergen (Dorothy Diamond), San Leandro, Calif.; and Miss Gail Katskee.

THE STAR WELCOMES:

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Bish, and their five months old daughter, Musa, who are new residents in Lincoln at 4553 Hill Drive. Mr. Bish is the new Lancaster County extension agent, and served in Hastings in the same position for eight years.

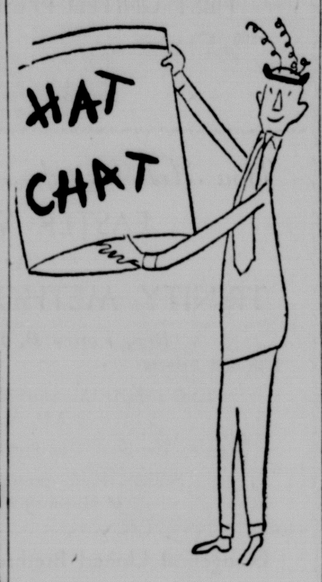

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Mr. Bish was delighted to re-visit Lincoln for what he hopes will be a permanent time.

This morning we also are welcoming Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Crear—their son Michael, who is two years old, and one year-old daughter, Janet. Mr. and Mrs. Crear and their son and daughter, recently arrived from Bown, Ill.,—and maybe someday they may be returning to Bowen—after Mr. Crear has completed construction work in Lincoln. On the other hand they may like Lincoln well enough to remain permanently. At any rate, the Crear family is residing at 3042 No. 48th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Challis L. Vodra and their two children, Grace Ann, and Don, have come a long way in order to be residents—But in reality the family has just returned to their home state from Glendale, Calif., where they resided until homesickness for Nebraska brought them back. Mr. and Mrs. Vodra and their family now are all settled in their new home at 4217 E St.

Trying her hands at unmitigated homemaking is Mrs. Kenneth W. Gatchell, who, with Mr. Gatchell, has moved to Lincoln from the former family stead at Topeka, Kas. Since she has been a career wife, Mrs. Gatchell formerly had little opportunity for concentrated cooking, sewing and gardening, but is happily awork with such mundane chores at their new house, 320 So. 29th.

After his graduation from Washburn University at Topeka, Mr. Gatchell was the manager of an automotive supply company in that city. He is the wholesale representative for the same concern in Lincoln. Both he and his charming wife are lovers of the outdoors and next on the list of how-to-dos are some golf lessons for the distaff member of the Gatchell clan.

The Brides' Book Says:

Miss Mary Ann Lauer, who will become the bride of Dean Buckingham at a 4 o'clock ceremony on Monday, June 7, at St. Paul Methodist Church, names the members of her bridal party this morning.

Mrs. Chalmers Seymour has been chosen as the matron of honor, and the bride's only attendant, and Miss Vivian Schwerre will light the candles.

Roger Buckingham of Minneapolis will be his brother's best man and the ushers are Richard Lauer and John Lauer, brothers of the bride-elect.

Miss Alice Pike, who will marry Ronald D. Vosika at a 4 o'clock ceremony on Sunday, June 6, at the College View Community Church, has chosen her sisters as her wedding attendants.

Miss Laurice Pike will be the maid of honor and the bridesmaid is Miss Mary Pike. Barbara Pike will be the junior bridesmaid and Betty Jo Pike will be the flower girl.

Richard Vosika will serve his brother as best man and the ushers include Robert Terpsma and Loren Lahn.

Another bride of Sunday, June 6 is Miss Patricia Russell, whose marriage to James L. Peters of Wahoo will be solemnized at a 2 o'clock ceremony at Warren Methodist Church.

Mrs. Jerry Peterson of Wahoo will be Miss Russell's matron of honor and only attendant. Warner Houtek, Wahoo, will be best man and the ushers, also from Wahoo, will be Jack Stewart and Jack Lindley.

Miss Donna Schnieber, who is to wed Paul S. Ayer on Saturday, June 5, at the First Presbyterian Church, has chosen Miss Marcia Ayer, sister of the bridegroom, as her maid of honor.

The bridesmaids include Miss Janis Jones, Miss Sharon Smith, Miss Anna Rosenberg, and Miss Jane Pierce. Miss Janet Schnieber, cousin of the bride-elect, will be the junior bridesmaid.

Jerome Moorberg, Grand Island, and Vonda Bottcher will light the candles. Brenda Beck and Stephen Jones will be the ringbearers and Kathy Baker will be the flower girl.

John Gates Minnick will serve Mr. Ayer as best man.

Another bride of early June is Miss Lois Duer who will marry Warren Whitney of Ceresco, at the St. Marys Church in Davey on Saturday, June 12.

The sister of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. Francis Shannahan, Prague, will be matron of honor for Miss Duer. The bridesmaids are Miss Mary Jo Brayman, Mrs. Ted Hansen, Ceresco, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Muriel Whitney, Central City, the bridegroom's cousin.

Patty Whitney, another sister of the bridegroom will be the flower girl.

Jack Walter will serve Mr. Whitney as best man and the ushers include Ted Hansen, Ceresco; and Tom and Phillip Whitney, younger brothers of the bridegroom, from Ceresco.

WOMAN'S EXCHANGE

For Easter Brunch

The very best thing you could do when you come across a recipe for a delicious peach preserve coffee ring (such as the one below) is to get out your clipping scissors—and then put it in your file marked "extra special." For this recipe is just that, and if you have been looking for a gourmet's touch on your Easter brunch menu — you've found it. A sweet, finely textured yeast bread always is a treat, and when you find a recipe for one that is simple—and yet has an extra something that gives it a heavenly taste, you have everything.

Your shopping needs are minimum, too. At your grocer's you can pick up a quick hot roll mix (with yeast), along with a few tumblers of peach or apricot preserves, and some nut meats. That's all the recipe needs.

And here is how you put the ring together:

Peach Preserve Coffee Ring
(Makes 1 8-inch ring)

- 1 package hot roll mix (with yeast)
- ⅔ cup peach preserves or apricot preserves
- 1½ cups of finely chopped walnuts or pecans

Prepare dough according to package directions. When dough is ready to shape, cut into pieces about the size of walnuts. Form into balls. Carefully roll each ball of dough in peach or apricot preserves, being sure that it is thoroughly coated. Then roll lightly in chopped nuts. In a greased 8-inch ring mold pan, arrange the balls so that they barely touch. Add another layer of balls alternately over the first layer. Cover and let rise until double in size, about 30 to 45 minutes in a warm place. (Make dinner rolls using the remaining dough.) Bake coffee ring in a moderate oven, 375 F, 35 to 45 minutes, or until done. Loosen from pan. Invert on a cake rack. Serve the coffee ring right side up on a heated plate.

Note: A small angel food cake pan or tube pan may be substituted for the ring mold pan.

THE AYEM POST

There's good news for D.W. this morning, for in the mail is a reply to her request for a Fruit Cocktail Cake recipe On behalf of D.W., and the Ayem Post, we extend our grateful thanks to L.W. Here is the recipe:

Beat 1 egg—and add the contents of a No. 2½ can of fruit cocktail, drained. Add 1 cup of sugar, 1 cup of flour, 1 teaspoon of soda, and stir.

Pour in greased pan and sprinkle with ½ cup of brown sugar and nuts on the top. Bake 1 hour and 20 minutes in a 320-degree oven.

* * *

And why does aluminum, no matter how well scrubbed, leave black marks on a tea towel, J. K. wants to know. She adds that she really isn't so interested in the cause as the cure. Have any of the readers had the same trouble, and if so, what did you do about it, other than just letting the black marks remain undisciplined?

We're quite anxious for answers—so please write to us, won't you?

Dinner Is Served

When you buy your Easter ham this week-end, corner the butcher and have him cut off a slice about 1" thick for broiling. You are now ready for Broiled Ham Slice with Mustard, with which it would be mete to serve Creamed New Potatoes and fresh Asparagus, a green salad, and Apple Cream or Strawberry-Rhubarb with unfrosted pound or sponge cake bought from the baker-man.

All there is to do to the ham slice is to slather it with prepared mustard after you have broiled it on one side and turned it. Please invest in those new foil-ware liners for the broiling pan and save yourself half a television-program's-worth scouring.

APPLE CREAM

Into 1 small can baby food applesauce, fold ½c heavy cream, whipped. Add 3 T. sugar, a little grated lemon rind, and a goodly dash of Nutmeg. Mix well and serve over/with plain cake wedges.

****

STRAWBERRY RHUBARB

Dice 2 c. fresh rhubarb in the top of double boiler. Add 1 T. lemon juice, ½c. strawberry jam, ⅓ c. sugar, and 2 T. water. Cover and cook over hot water until rhubarb is tender. Do not stir. Pour into bowl in which you plan to serve it and cool in refrigerator while you prepare rest of dinner.

WHAT NEXT?

Please—don't anyone forget can-opener week— We're not just sure what is to be done by way of honoring the can opener, but along with chewing gum, candy, and popcorn—it has a week all of its own. Or maybe we misread the blurbs—maybe it's the tin can that has its week—but then, what good would a tin can be without a can opener—so perhaps we were right the first time.

All of this leads up to the fact we received a sealed tin can in the ayem mail. The rattle led us to believe there was something inside— So, we ran back to the wall opener, opened the can, and took out—guess what? A can opener.

Has Home Wedding

MRS. STANLEY HUGHES

The marriage of Miss Pauline Carlisle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Carlisle, and Airman 2 C Stanley Hughes, son of Mrs. Clarence Capellan of Thedford, took place Wednesday afternoon, April 14, at the home of the bride's parents. In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, the Rev. J. G. Jacobson, minister of Trinity Lutheran Church, read the lines of the service.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. Willard Parsons who wore a plaid wool suit in the brown and beige tones with light green accessories. Mr. Parsons served Mr. Hughes as best man.

The bride wore for her wedding a softly tailored suit of navy blue wool. Her accessories were in navy and white and she wore a shoulder corsage of white blossoms.

Singer-Swinger

The Singer-Swinger Square Dance Club will meet at 8 o'clock, Friday evening, in the auditorium of Park School. Dances for the annual Spring Folk Dance Festival will be reviewed.

In charge of arrangements for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. John Maddux, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Camp and Mr. and Mrs. George Ramsey.

Learn Basic Standing

By JOHN POWERS

I hope you have been following my suggestions for perfecting your walk and your walking posture, so that you will step out prettily in Sunday's Easter parade, or on any other occasion.

The smile on your face—the tilt of your hat—the fit of your suit—the accessories that accent your costume—all are noticed as you walk down the street. But nothing shows off a girl as well as her carriage, and that applies to the tall as well as to the petite.

If you have a decided posture problem, you will learn how to remedy it in "Your Posture," a booklet which you may obtain via the directions in the box below. If you feel, however, that your body is correctly aligned and your posture good, you are ready for a finishing touch.

The Powers Girls have their own name for the initiation in grace that you are about to have. They term it "Basic Standing"—a combination of alignment and a lovely-to-look-at arrangement of the hands and feet that is the basis of other graceful poses.

Imagine a silken cord attached to the top of your head. Imagine it pulling you gently, but firmly, upward. Feel it draw your neck out of your shoulders and align your chin parallel to the floor.

Now relax your shoulders, raise your chest and consciously pull your waist up out of your hips. Tuck your hips under your body and relax your knees.

With your body in this easily erect position, fit your right instep around the left heel, pointing the right toes at a forty-five degree angle. Your weight should be distributed evenly on the balls of your feet.

Place your left hand slightly behind your body and rest the back of it against your hips in a comfortable position that leaves space between your elbows and your waistline. Rest your right hand diagonally along your right hip bone, thumb outward, curving the wrist upward and keeping the elbow well extended to the side.

Try to fall into this graceful stance every time you rise from a chair or come to a halt in walking. It takes practice, but soon "Basic Standing" will become second nature to you, and you'll know you are standing up with the best of them!

* * *

YOUR POSTURE

To achieve grace of the highest degree—to make yours the posture ideal—to improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes as well, read the informative, easy-to-follow booklet "YOUR POSTURE". For a copy, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10c in coin to help cover cost.

THE AYEM POST

There's good news for D.W. this morning, for in the mail is a reply to her request for a Fruit Cocktail Cake recipe On behalf of D.W., and the Ayem Post, we extend our grateful thanks to L.W. Here is the recipe:

Beat 1 egg—and add the contents of a No. 2½ can of fruit cocktail, drained. Add 1 cup of sugar, 1 cup of flour, 1 teaspoon of soda, and stir.

Pour in greased pan and sprinkle with ½ cup of brown sugar and nuts on the top. Bake 1 hour and 20 minutes in a 320-degree oven.

And why does aluminum, no matter how well scrubbed, leave black marks on a tea towel, J. K. wants to know. She adds that she really isn't so interested in the cause as the cure. Have any of the readers had the same trouble, and if so, what did you do about it, other than just letting the black marks remain undisciplined?

We're quite anxious for answers—so please write to us, won't you?

Learn Basic Standing

By JOHN POWERS

I hope you have been following my suggestions for perfecting your walk and your walking posture, so that you will step out prettily in Sunday's Easter parade, or on any other occasion.

The smile on your face—the tilt of your hat—the fit of your suit—the accessories that accent your costume—all are noticed as you walk down the street. But nothing shows off a girl as well as her carriage, and that applies to the tall as well as to the petite.

If you have a decided posture problem, you will learn how to remedy it in "Your Posture," a booklet which you may obtain via the directions in the box below. If you feel, however, that your body is correctly aligned and your posture good, you are ready for a finishing touch.

The Powers Girls have their own name for the initiation in grace that you are about to have. They term it "Basic Standing"—a combination of alignment and a lovely-to-look-at arrangement of the hands and feet that is the basis of other graceful poses.

Imagine a silken cord attached to the top of your head. Imagine it pulling you gently, but firmly, upward. Feel it draw your neck out of your shoulders and align your chin parallel to the floor.

Now relax your shoulders, raise your chest and consciously pull your waist up out of your hips. Tuck your hips under your body and relax your knees.

With your body in this easily erect position, fit your right instep around the left heel, pointing the right toes at a forty-five degree angle. Your weight should be distributed evenly on the balls of your feet.

Place your left hand slightly behind your body and rest the back of it against your hips in a comfortable position that leaves space between your elbows and your waistline. Rest your right hand diagonally along your right hip bone, thumb outward, curving the wrist upward and keeping the elbow well extended to the side.

Try to fall into this graceful stance every time you rise from a chair or come to a halt in walking. It takes practice, but soon "Basic Standing" will become second nature to you, and you'll know you are standing up with the best of them!

* * *

YOUR POSTURE

To achieve grace of the highest degree—to make yours the posture ideal—to improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes as well, read the informative, easy-to-follow booklet "YOUR POSTURE". For a copy, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10c in coin to help cover cost.

Dinner Is Served

When you buy your Easter ham this week-end, corner the butcher and have him cut off a slice about 1" thick for broiling. You are now ready for Broiled Ham Slice with Mustard, with which it would be mete to serve Creamed New Potatoes and fresh Asparagus, a green salad, and Apple Cream or Strawberry-Rhubarb with unfrosted pound or sponge cake bought from the baker-man.

All there is to do to the ham slice is to slather it with prepared mustard after you have broiled it on one side and turned it. Please invest in those new foil-ware liners for the broiling pan and save yourself half a television-program's-worth scouring.

APPLE CREAM

Into 1 small can baby food applesauce, fold ½c heavy cream, whipped. Add 3 T. sugar, a little grated lemon rind, and a goodly dash of Nutmeg. Mix well and serve over/with plain cake wedges.

****

STRAWBERRY RHUBARB

Dice 2 c. fresh rhubarb in the top of double boiler. Add 1 T. lemon juice, ½c. strawberry jam, ½ c. sugar, and 2 T. water. Cover and cook over hot water until rhubarb is tender. Do not stir. Pour into bowl in which you plan to serve it and cool in refrigerator while you prepare rest of dinner.

WHAT NEXT?

Please—don't anyone forget can-opener week— We're not just sure what is to be done by way of honoring the can opener, but along with chewing gum, candy, and popcorn—it has a week all of its own. Or maybe we misread the blurbs—maybe it's the tin can that has its week—but then, what good would a tin can be without a can opener—so perhaps we were right the first time.

All of this leads up to the fact we received a sealed tin can in the ayem mail. The rattle led us to believe there was something inside— So, we ran back to the wall opener, opened the can, and took out—guess what? A can opener.

Has Home Wedding

MRS. STANLEY HUGHES

The marriage of Miss Pauline Carlisle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Carlisle, and Airman 2 C Stanley Hughes, son of Mrs. Clarence Capellan of Thedford, took place Wednesday afternoon, April 14, at the home of the bride's parents. In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, the Rev. J. G. Jacobson, minister of Trinity Lutheran Church, read the lines of the service.

The matron of honor and bride's only attendant was Mrs. Willard Parsons who wore a plaid wool suit in the brown and beige tones with light green accessories. Mr. Parsons served Mr. Hughes as best man.

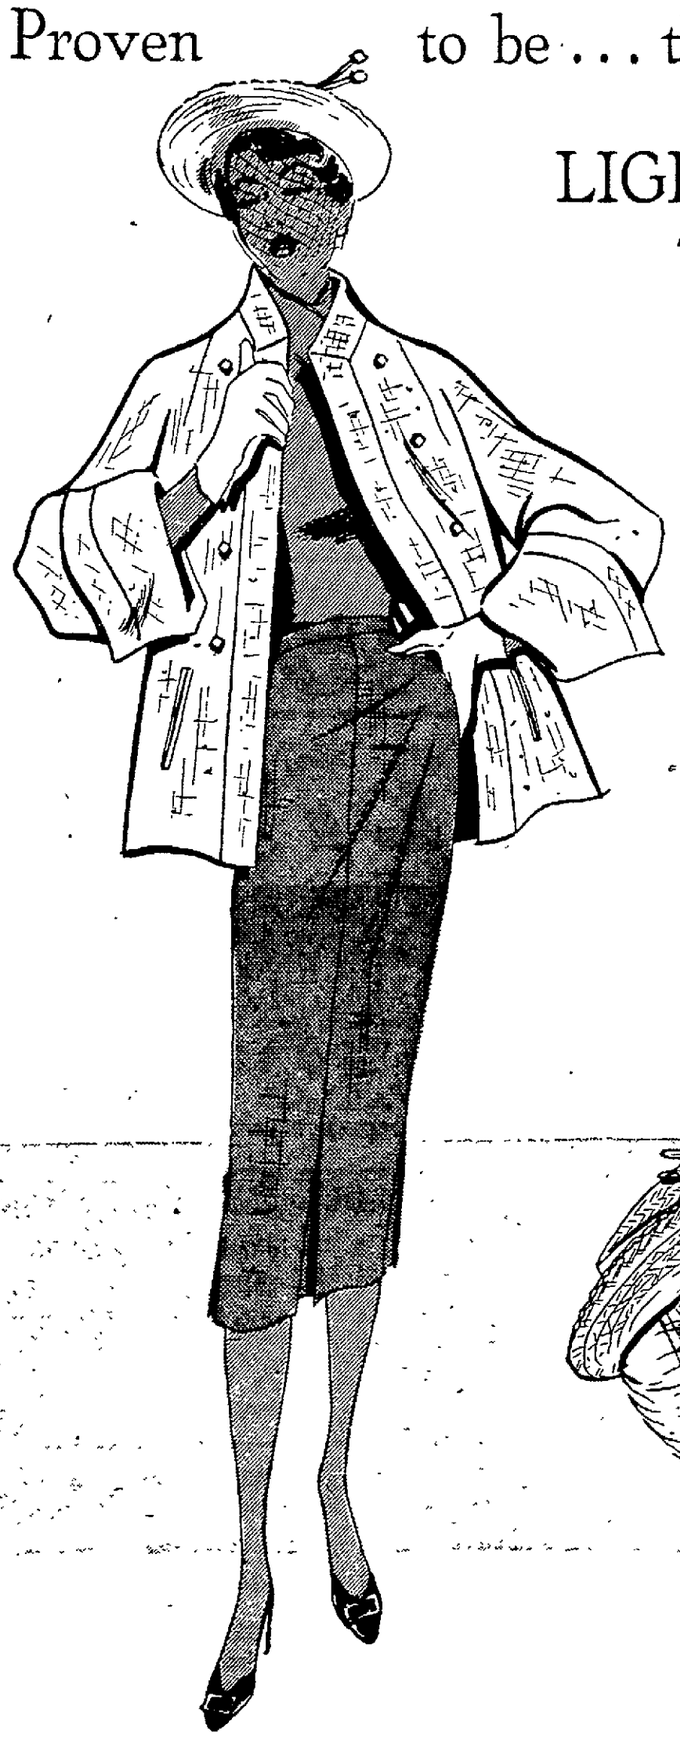

The bride wore for her wedding a softly tailored suit of navy blue wool. Her accessories were in navy and white and she wore a shoulder corsage of white blossoms.

Singer-Swinger

The Singer-Swinger Square Dance Club will meet at 8 o'clock, Friday evening, in the auditorium of Park School. Dances for the annual Spring Folk Dance Festival will be reviewed.

In charge of arrangements for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. John Maddux, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Camp and Mr. and Mrs. George Ramsey.

Weathered Out, Chiefs Will Try Again Tonight

Baltimore Sees First Oriole Home Win Since 1902 As Chisox Fall 3-1

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP)—Home runs by Clint Courtney and Vern Stephens backed up the speedball pitching of Bob Turley Thursday to bring 46,354 grateful Baltimore fans their first American League victory at home since 1902, 3-1, over the Chicago White Sox.

The transplanted St. Louis Browns jumped off to a 2-0 lead on homers by Courtney, the scrappy catcher, in the third inning and Stephens, the veteran third baseman, in the fourth.

The White Sox were held at bay by the 23-year-old Turley's righthanded bullets until the seventh when Bob Boyd singled home Chico Carrasquel.

The new Orioles, eager to please the sellout crowd, bounced back with another run in their half of the seventh. Vic Wertz, after fanning his first six times at bat this season, singled to right field to score Eddie Waitkus.

Virgil Trucks was the victim of the Baltimore homers and he was removed in the seventh after Bobby Young doubled. Bill Pierce replaced him only long enough for Waitkus to lay down a safe bunt and Harry Dorish finished for the Sox.

Turley was in trouble, outside of the seventh, only in the second and last innings. With Sherman Lollar on third and John Groth on first, he sent the crowd into an uproar in the second by fanning Trucks and Chico Carrasquel to retire the side unscathed.

A's Shut Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Morgan, sweating out his terminal leave from the Army, shut out the Philadelphia A's "Yankee Jayvees" with eight hits Thursday while the New York Yanks rode to a 3-0 victory with the help of homers by Hank Bauer and Rookie Bill Skowron.

The 24-year-old righthander pitched his way out of tight jams in the first, sixth and eighth to defeat Alex Kellner, the husky lefthander who blanked the Yanks twice in a row early last season.

Until the eighth it was a 1-0 game on a scrawny run in the second that resulted from a single by Yogi Berra, a force out, an infield out and Gerry Coleman's scoring single to right.

Debut Spoiled

BOSTON (AP)—Boston spoiled the 1954 debut of Washington's Bob Porterfield — winningest pitcher in the American League last season—as Red Sox Lefty Bill Henry pitched a three-hit 6-1 victory Thursday before a chilled crowd of 17,272 in the opening game at Fenway Park.

Roy Sievers' fourth-inning homer was the lone tally off Henry, who boosted his fifth victory in six decisions against Washington in three seasons. Henry struck out six and walked six.

Indians Lose First

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Detroit Tigers put two walks and Bill Tuttle's scratch infield single together in the ninth inning Thursday to hand the Cleveland Indians their first defeat of the season, 3-2. Rain delayed the home opener an hour and a half after the eighth inning ended with the score tied 2-2.

After the 90-minute delay Garcia walked Ray Boone and Walt Dropo to start the ninth. In the previous eight innings the Big Bear had issued only one pass.

Grand Slam Wins

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim Greengrass' grand slam home run during a six-run seventh spearheaded the Cincinnati Redlegs' 11-5 victory over Chicago in the Cubs' home opener before 17,271 Thursday. The Cubs paraded five pitchers into the game, which was delayed 29 minutes at the start due to rain.

Ted Kluszewski's leadoff single and Johnny Temple's triple gave Cincinnati a 1-0 lead off starter and loser Bob Rush in the second. The Redlegs soared to a 3-0 bulge in the third when Gus Bell homered behind Bobby Adams' one-out single.

Bum Homers Win

BROOKLYN (AP)—There was no band to help Brooklyn celebrate its home opener Thursday but the Dodgers furnished their own music with three resounding home runs to pound out a 7-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

All but the final run came as a direct result of home runs.

Roy Campanella clouted his third of the season; Junior Gilliam his second, and Jackie Robinson his first. Campanella's circuit clout came in the third inning with two runners aboard. Robinson hit his in the first with a man on base, a few moments after Gilliam had opened the Dodger attack with a blast into the left center field stands.

Hofmaier Pitches Three-Hitter

Huskers Divide Pair, 10-5, 4-0

Lincoln Star Special

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas University and the University of Nebraska split a doubleheader here Thursday with Texas winning the opener 10-5 and Nebraska the nightcap 4-0.

After Texas slammed out 13 hits in the first tilt, Fran Hofmaier came on for the Cornhuskers in the second game and shut the Longhorns out on three hits.

The Cornhuskers picked all their runs in the first inning of the nightcap on singles by Jim Brown, Fred Seger, Ray Novak, Don Becker and a double by Bill Giles.

Texas picked up singles in the second, fifth and sixth innings but only one runner reached third.

Texas jumped off to a four-run lead in the opening inning of the first game.

An error by Fred Seger on Travis Eckert's grounder and a double by Bill Brock led to the big inning.

The Longhorns iced the game in the seventh when they combined a walk, four singles and two Cornhusker errors for four runs.

The doubleheader ended the Huskers' spring tour in Texas and the split gave Tony Sharpe's crew a 4-2 record in the south.

Wietelmann Plans Same Lineup For Offutt Fray

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

All is in readiness for the Lincoln Chiefs to launch the baseball season at Sherman Field.

Manager Whitey Wietelmann has his athletes honed to a fine playing edge. All of the hubbahubba of the Chiefs' return from the spring training wars has whetted the appetite of the most casual baseball fan.

The only citizen not co-operating is that temperamental cuss known as Mr. Disagreeable Weather. His windy, cold and rainy breath fell across Sherman Field Thursday and postponed a scheduled exhibition game between the Chiefs and the Offutt Air Base team of Omaha.

Hoping to draw a warm smile from the skies, the Chiefs will attempt to meet the Offutt nine tonight at 8 o'clock.

Wietelmann, a bit disappointed in the weather, said he would use the same lineup that was scheduled for Thursday night. Vance Carlson will start on the mound against the airmen with Wietelmann himself slated for an appearance in the late innings.

Remainder of the lineup, in batting order, includes: Joe Rivich, third base; Fred Hancock, second base; Johnny Jones, first base; Andy Anderson, centerfield; Tom Neill, leftfield; Red McQuillen, rightfield; Larry Neal, shortstop and Ralph Kennedy, catcher.

Norm Brown (21-11) will start in the Western League opener against Omaha at Sherman Field Saturday night. Andy Bush and Roger Wright will be the moundsmen during a split double bill at Sioux City Sunday with Charley Griffith being a likely choice to face the Soos Monday night.

The Chiefs received their first official welcome Thursday noon during a luncheon tossed in their honor at the Chamber by the Lions and Sertoma clubs.

Over 200 club members and fans attended the public gathering and applauded wildly as Wietelmann, General Manager Bill Herring and the players, were introduced.

Wietelmann, pleased by the reception, told, the group that Lincoln "might have won all of the exhibition games (instead of 6-6) had we played our nine best men in each game.

"But we had a 27-man squad that had to be trimmed, so we had to see each boy in action. Our squad has fine spirit and the boys really put out."

Herring predicted that Wietelmann would "be the most popular manager in Sherman Field history."

Mayor Clark Jeary, in giving the Chiefs an oral key to the city, told the group that Lincoln wouldn't expect the Lincoln club to win all of its games.

"If they just win 80 percent of them, that will be sufficient," he added, with a smile. "The community is proud of the Chiefs and the mayor's office will always be open to each and every one of them."

Emmett Junge was toastmaster and introduced Dick White, Sertoma president, and Herb Walt, Lions president. Arch Baley, President A. Q. Schimmel of the Lincoln Baseball Club and J. Vaulx Risser were introduced and spoke briefly.

It was announced that the Chiefs now have over 2,400 stockholders after certificates from the complete stock sale were prepared for mailing. Baley, who is secretary of the Lincoln Civic Baseball Association, said that the stockholders should receive their certificates by Friday.

There were about 1,000 stock sales this year, netting over $25,000. Of these about 450 were to persons who had not subscribed last year. Since there were about 1,950 on the books before, the new total is around 2,400.

Questions regarding stock should be directed to Mrs. Martha Rebensdorf at the Chamber office, who handles all records for the Lincoln Chiefs and the Lincoln Civic Baseball Association.

Weathered Out, Chiefs Will Try Again Tonight

Baltimore Sees First Oriole Home Win Since 1902 As Chisox Fall 3-1

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP)—Home runs by Clint Courtney and Vern Stephens backed up the speedball pitching of Bob Turley Thursday to bring 46,354 grateful Baltimore fans their first American League victory at home since 1902, 3-1, over the Chicago White Sox.

The transplanted St. Louis Browns jumped off to a 2-0 lead on homers by Courtney, the scrappy catcher, in the third inning and Stephens, the veteran third baseman, in the fourth.

The White Sox were held at bay by the 23-year-old Turley's righthanded bullets until the seventh when Bob Boyd singled home Chico Carrasquel.

The new Orioles, eager to please the sellout crowd, bounced back with another run in their half of the seventh. Vic Wertz, after fanning his first six times at bat this season, singled to right field to score Eddie Waitkus.

Virgil Trucks was the victim of the Baltimore homers and he was removed in the seventh after Bobby Young doubled. Bill Pierce replaced him only long enough for Waitkus to lay down a safe bunt and Harry Dorish finished for the Sox.

Turley was in trouble, outside of the seventh, only in the second and last innings. With Sherman Lollar on third and John Groth on first, he sent the crowd into an uproar in the second by fanning Trucks and Chico Carrasquel to retire the side unscathed.

A's Shut Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Morgan, sweating out his terminal leave from the Army, shut out the Philadelphia A's "Yankee Jayvees" with eight hits Thursday while the New York Yanks rode to a 3-0 victory with the help of homers by Hank Bauer and Rookie Bill Skowron.

The 24-year-old righthander pitched his way out of tight jams in the first, sixth and eighth to defeat Alex Kellner, the husky lefthander who blanked the Yanks twice in a row early last season.

Until the eighth it was a 1-0 game on a scrawny run in the second that resulted from a single by Yogi Berra, a force out, an infield out and Gerry Coleman's scoring single to right.

Debut Spoiled

BOSTON (AP)—Boston spoiled the 1954 debut of Washington's Bob Porterfield — winningest pitcher in the American League last season—as Red Sox Lefty Bill Henry pitched a three-hit 6-1 victory Thursday before a chilled crowd of 17,272 in the opening game at Fenway Park.

Roy Sievers' fourth-inning homer was the lone tally off Henry, who boosted his fifth victory in six decisions against Washington in three seasons. Henry struck out six and walked six.

Indians Lose First

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Detroit Tigers put two walks and Bill Tuttle's scratch infield single together in the ninth inning Thursday to hand the Cleveland Indians their first defeat of the season, 3-2. Rain delayed the home opener an hour and a half after the eighth inning ended with the score tied 2-2.

After the 90-minute delay Garcia walked Ray Boone and Walt Dropo to start the ninth. In the previous eight innings the Big Bear had issued only one pass.

Grand Slam Wins

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim Greengrass' grand slam home run during a six-run seventh spearheaded the Cincinnati Redlegs' 11-5 victory over Chicago in the Cubs' home opener before 17,271 Thursday. The Cubs paraded five pitchers into the game, which was delayed 29 minutes at the start due to rain.

Ted Kluszewski's leadoff single and Johnny Temple's triple gave Cincinnati a 1-0 lead off starter and loser Bob Rush in the second. The Redlegs soared to a 3-0 bulge in the third when Gus Bell homered behind Bobby Adams' one-out single.

Bum Homers Win

BROOKLYN (AP)—There was no band to help Brooklyn celebrate its home opener Thursday but the Dodgers furnished their own music with three resounding home runs to pound out a 7-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

All but the final run came as a direct result of home runs.

Roy Campanella clouted his third of the season; Junior Gilliam his second, and Jackie Robinson his first. Campanella's circuit clout came in the third inning with two runners aboard. Robinson hit his in the first with a man on base, a few moments after Gilliam had opened the Dodger attack with a blast into the left center field stands.

Hofmaier Pitches Three-Hitter

Huskers Divide Pair, 10-5, 4-0

Lincoln Star Special

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas University and the University of Nebraska split a doubleheader here Thursday with Texas winning the opener 10-5 and Nebraska the nightcap 4-0.

After Texas slammed out 13 hits in the first tilt, Fran Hofmaier came on for the Cornhuskers in the second game and shut the Longhorns out on three hits.

The Cornhuskers picked all their runs in the first inning of the nightcap on singles by Jim Brown, Fred Seger, Ray Novak, Don Becker and a double by Bill Giles.

Texas picked up singles in the second, fifth and sixth innings but only one runner reached third.

Texas jumped off to a four-run lead in the opening inning of the first game.

An error by Fred Seger on Travis Eckert's grounder and a double by Bill Brock led to the big inning.

The Longhorns iced the game in the seventh when they combined a walk, four singles and two Cornhusker errors for four runs.

The doubleheader ended the Huskers' spring tour in Texas and the split gave Tony Sharpe's crew a 4-2 record in the south.

Wietelmann Plans Same Lineup For Offutt Fray

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

All is in readiness for the Lincoln Chiefs to launch the baseball season at Sherman Field.

Manager Whitey Wietelmann has his athletes honed to a fine playing edge. All of the hubbahubba of the Chiefs' return from the spring training wars has whetted the appetite of the most casual baseball fan.

The only citizen not co-operating is that temperamental cuss known as Mr. Disagreeable Weather. His windy, cold and rainy breath fell across Sherman Field Thursday and postponed a scheduled exhibition game between the Chiefs and the Offutt Air Base team of Omaha.

Hoping to draw a warm smile from the skies, the Chiefs will attempt to meet the Offutt nine tonight at 8 o'clock.

Wietelmann, a bit disappointed in the weather, said he would use the same lineup that was scheduled for Thursday night. Vance Carlson will start on the mound against the airmen with Wietelmann himself slated for an appearance in the late innings.

Remainder of the lineup, in batting order, includes: Joe Rivich, third base; Fred Hancock, second base; Johnny Jones, first base; Andy Anderson, centerfield; Tom Neill, leftfield; Red McQuillen, rightfield; Larry Neal, shortstop and Ralph Kennedy, catcher.

Norm Brown (21-11) will start in the Western League opener against Omaha at Sherman Field Saturday night. Andy Bush and Roger Wright will be the moundsmen during a split double bill at Sioux City Sunday with Charley Griffith being a likely choice to face the Soos Monday night.

The Chiefs received their first official welcome Thursday noon during a luncheon tossed in their honor at the Chamber by the Lions and Sertoma clubs.

Over 200 club members and fans attended the public gathering and applauded wildly as Wietelmann, General Manager Bill Herring and the players, were introduced.

Wietelmann, pleased by the reception, told, the group that Lincoln "might have won all of the exhibition games (instead of 6-6) had we played our nine best men in each game.

"But we had a 27-man squad that had to be trimmed, so we had to see each boy in action. Our squad has fine spirit and the boys really put out."

Herring predicted that Wietelmann would "be the most popular manager in Sherman Field history."

Mayor Clark Jeary, in giving the Chiefs an oral key to the city, told the group that Lincoln wouldn't expect the Lincoln club to win all of its games.

"If they just win 80 percent of them, that will be sufficient," he added, with a smile. "The community is proud of the Chiefs and the mayor's office will always be open to each and every one of them."

Emmett Junge was toastmaster and introduced Dick White, Sertoma president, and Herb Walt, Lions president. Arch Baley, President A. Q. Schimmel of the Lincoln Baseball Club and J. Vaulx Risser were introduced and spoke briefly.

It was announced that the Chiefs now have over 2,400 stockholders after certificates from the complete stock sale were prepared for mailing. Baley, who is secretary of the Lincoln Civic Baseball Association, said that the stockholders should receive their certificates by Friday.

There were about 1,000 stock sales this year, netting over $25,000. Of these about 450 were to persons who had not subscribed last year. Since there were about 1,950 on the books before, the new total is around 2,400.

Questions regarding stock should be directed to Mrs. Martha Rebensdorf at the Chamber office, who handles all records for the Lincoln Chiefs and the Lincoln Civic Baseball Association.

HASTINGS — Grand Island, the big name in track in this part of the state, rushed to its fourth straight championship in the Central Nebraska Invitational track and field meet here Thursday, but small Ken Nelson of Northeast stole the show from the Islanders.

Nelson, a junior who has beaten everyone in three meets on eastern Nebraska tracks this spring, pulled away from Grand Island's Darrell Pinkston in the sprints and became the only double winner in this 13th annual meet.

Nelson scored 17 points for the individual championship, beating Pinkston's 15½. Pinkston won the broad jump with Nelson second.

Don Martin, a slim Hastings pole vaulter, cleared 11 feet 7¾ inches, against a terrific wind and almost set a new record at 12-3. He toppled the cross bar at the last instant when it seemed he was going over for a record.

Gaylord Bellamy of Cambridge beat the 180-yard low hurdles record of :21.4 set by Hoppy McCue of Arapahoe, but his time was disallowed because of the strong wind. Bellamy was clocked in :20.8.

Nelson tied the 25-year-old record in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10 seconds, but the mark was not entered in the books because of the high wind.

The team race was between Grand Island and Hastings until the relays, when the Islanders won both baton events and the Tigers were shut out.

Duane Eversoll of Grand Island won the half mile in 2:05.2, the best time recorded in Nebraska prep circles this spring. The previous best was Eversoll's own 2:05.6.

York's Duane Smith got over the high-jump bar at 6 feet ⅛ inch, the second best leap in the state thus far.

The Lincoln Optimist Club will sponsor the Capital City's only American Legion junior baseball team this summer, Jim Exon, chairman of the Optimist boys work committee, announced Thursday.

Recently the Elks Club, which had sponsored the Legion team for several years, decided to withdraw its support from the program.

Exon also announced the Dick Cecil, assistant coach of the Elks under Fran Nagle last year, would take over as manager this year.

The Optimists are now in the process of purchasing new uniforms for the team. Tryout dates and schedules will be announced later.

Under American Legion rules, each team is "assigned" high schools from which the team members may be drawn. The total enrollment of the high schools assigned to one team cannot exceed 2,500.

The club is awaiting a Legion announcement regarding the assignments of schools for the 1954 season. Also forthcoming will be the announcement of the league which the Optimists will be in.

Ten Husker Gymnasts Earn 1953-54 Letters

Coach J. G. Jake Geier said Thursday 10 letters have been awarded to members of his 1953-54 University of Nebraska gymnastics team.

They went to:

Danny Fogel of Omaha; Donald Hodge of Beatrice; Max Kennedy of Beatrice; Thomas Kidd of Lincoln; Burwell McMaster of Beatrice; Bruce Riley of Omaha; Charles Sprague of Grand Island; Bert Linn of Kimball; Ray Fallstead of Beatrice; and Robert Bevington of Beatrice, student manager.

Saddler Commended

NEW YORK (AP) — Corporal Sandy Saddler, the featherweight boxing champion, will be presented with a letter of commendation by his commanding officer at St. Nicholas Arena this Friday night.

Col. John S. Roosma, deputy post commander of Fort Jay, where Saddler now is stationed, will make the presentation preceding the semifinal bout of the professional fight card.

30 Years Drought?

Scientific detectives have discovered the Southwest has suffered droughts lasting as long as 30 years, with the last of these dry blights occuring 200 years ago. Is the present drought the start of another? The scientists are not sure, yet, however, you can read this interesting story in the Sunday, April 18th, Sunday Journal and Star.

The Tombs of Christ

Easter visitors in Jerusalem this year, as in years past, will worship at two sites, both believed by theologians and pilgrims of different faiths to be the actual site of the Crucifixion and Tomb of Christ. Here is a first-hand account of what you would see if you could visit both of them on this Easter day.

The Lincoln Optimist Club will sponsor the Capital City's only American Legion junior baseball team this summer, Jim Exon, chairman of the Optimist boys work committee, announced Thursday.

Recently the Elks Club, which had sponsored the Legion team for several years, decided to withdraw its support from the program.

Exon also announced the Dick Cecil, assistant coach of the Elks under Fran Nagle last year, would take over as manager this year.

The Optimists are now in the process of purchasing new uniforms for the team. Tryout dates and schedules will be announced later.

Under American Legion rules, each team is "assigned" high schools from which the team members may be drawn. The total enrollment of the high schools assigned to one team cannot exceed 2,500.

The club is awaiting a Legion announcement regarding the assignments of schools for the 1954 season. Also forthcoming will be the announcement of the league which the Optimists will be in.

30 Years Drought?
Scientific detectives have discovered the Southwest has suffered droughts lasting as long as 30 years, with the last of these dry blights occuring 200 years ago. Is the present drought the start of another? The scientists are not sure, yet, however, you can read this interesting story in the Sunday, April 18th, Sunday Journal and Star.

The Tombs of Christ

Easter visitors in Jerusalem this year, as in years past, will worship at two sites, both believed by theologians and pilgrims of different faiths to be the actual site of the Crucifixion and Tomb of Christ. Here is a first-hand account of what you would see if you could visit both of them on this Easter day.

Kansas Relays To Attract Nine Husker Cindermen

A squad of nine track and field men has been named to represent the University of Nebraska at the 29th running of the Kansas Relays in Lawrence, Kan., Saturday.

Coach Ed Weir has named the following Cornhuskers to make the trip with Assistant Coach Ray Prochaska:

Cliff Dale, Falls City, shot put and discus; Ken Reiners, Indianola, shot put; Leonard Rosen, Omaha, shot put and discus; Jim Tangdall, Superior, discus; Jim Hofstetter, Kearney, pole vault; Phil Heldelk, Fairbury, high jump; Merle Brestal, Chappell, high jump; Charles Hunley, Falls City, javelin; Warner Olson, Holdrege, high hurdles.

Top Husker outdoor performance this season include Reiner's shot put heave of 50 ft. 4½ in. against Oklahoma last Saturday; Dale's 155 ft. 7⅛ in. discus throw in the same meet; Huntley's javelin throw of 184 ft.-7 in. for fifth place in the Texas Relays, and Olson's winning high hurdles effort of :15.6 against Oklahoma.

In indoor competition both Reiners and Dale pushed the 16-pound ball past the 51- foot mark—Reiners hitting 51 ft.-2½ in. against the Sooners. Heidelk high jumped 6 ft.-4⅞ in. against Iowa State and 6 ft.-4¾ in. against Okklahoma. His best leap outdoors, however, has been 6 ft.-1 in at Oklahoma Saturday.

Brestal jumped 6 ft.-2 in. outdoors against the Sooners, but had gone a half inch higher indoors against Kansas State. Hofstetter's best pole vault effort of the year was 12 ft.-6¼ in. against Kansas State in Nebraska's indoor arena. He tied for sixth place in the Texas Relays at 12 ft.-6 in.

While the Cornhuskers compete at Lawrence, Weir will be attending two high school meets in this area.

Lone Nebraska record-holder in the Relays in Don Cooper who soared over the bar at 15 ft.-⅛ in. in the pole vault during the 1951 carnival.

Glen Beerline covered 48 ft. -4¾ in. in the hop, step and jump last spring, but his new record was disallowed because of the wind.

Nebraska has had one triple winner in the Mt. Oread classis —Hugh Rhea who copped the shot put title in 1930, 1931 and 1932.

Entries close April 19 for the Cornhusker Kennel Club's Ninth Annual Dog Show. Assistance for Lincoln persons wishing to enter their dogs will be available at the Lincoln Hotel Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 8 p.m.

Free classes in obediance brush up and handling of dogs will be given each Wednesday night at the F St. park.

The dog show this year will be held in the 4-H building at the Fairgrounds, Sunday, May 2.

The club expects approximately 200 dogs to be entered from Lincoln and other cities.

Orwig Takes Over; To Begin Search For New Coaches

Hiring two and possibly three new coaches comes first on the agenda for Bill Orwig, the University of Nebraska's new athletic director who took office Thursday.

"I haven't had much time to give thought to the problems confronting the athletic department although I realize that we must hire a new basketball and a new wrestling mentor," Orwig said.

Orwig said these tasks would be handled "as soon as possible," emphasizing the need for a replacement for Harry Good, who retired as NU basketball coach last week.

"I plan to get this done just as soon as possible," Orwig added. "I know that we have received many applications since Harry Good's resignation.

Orwig intimated that he would talk to Coach Bill Glassford before hiring a wrestling coach.

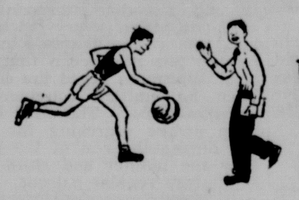

"I know that Al Partin assisted in football as well as holding the wrestling job," Orwig pointed out," and I'll have to find out if Glassford would like the same sort of an arrangement.

"I've been told unofficially that Hollie Lepley may devote full time to his phys ed job which would mean that we will have to hire a varsity swimming coach. That means that we shall have to line up three replacements in our athletic staff."

"I fully realize the responsibilities of my position and I will need the full co-operation of everyone—the fans, the alumni, the press and the radio. If we all pull together I believe we can look forward to a brighter future."

Mrs. Orwig was house hunting Thursday but will return to Ann Arbor until the schools are out.

Kansas Relays To Attract Nine Husker Cindermen

A squad of nine track and field men has been named to represent the University of Nebraska at the 29th running of the Kansas Relays in Lawrence, Kan., Saturday.

Coach Ed Weir has named the following Cornhuskers to make the trip with Assistant Coach Ray Prochaska:

Cliff Dale, Falls City, shot put and discus; Ken Reiners, Indianola, shot put; Leonard Rosen, Omaha, shot put and discus; Jim Tangdall, Superior, discus; Jim Hofstetter, Kearney, pole vault; Phil .Heidelk, Fairbury, high jump; Merle Brestal, Chappell, high jump; Charles Hunley, Falls City, javelin; .Warner .Olson, Holdrege, high hurdles.

Top Husker outdoor performance this season include Reiner's shot put heave of 50 ft. 4½ in. against Oklahoma last Saturday; Dale's 155 ft. 7⅛ in. discus throw in the same meet; Huntley's javelin throw of 184 ft.-7 in. for fifth place in the Texas Relays, and Olson's winning high hurdles effort of :15.6 against Oklahoma.

In indoor competition both Reiners and Dale pushed the 16-pound ball past the 51- foot mark—Reiners hitting 51 ft.-2½ in. against the Sooners. Heidelk high jumped 6 ft.-4⅞ in. against Iowa State and 6 ft.-4¾ in. against Okklahoma. His best leap outdoors, however, has been 6 ft.-1 in at Oklahoma Saturday.

Brestal jumped 6 ft.-2 in. outdoors against the Sooners, but had gone a half inch higher indoors against Kansas State. Hofstetter's best pole vault effort of the year was 12 ft.-6¼ in. against Kansas State in Nebraska's indoor arena. He tied for sixth place in the Texas Relays at 12 ft.-6 in.

While the Cornhuskers compete at Lawrence, Weir will be attending two high school meets in this area.

Lone Nebraska record-holder in the Relays in Don Cooper who soared over the bar at 15 ft.-⅛ in. in the pole vault during the 1951 carnival.

Glen Beerline covered 48 ft. -4¾ in. in the hop, step and jump last spring, but his new record was disallowed because of the wind.

Nebraska has had one triple winner in the Mt. Oread classis —Hugh Rhea who copped the shot put title in 1930, 1931 and 1932.

Entries close April 19 for the Cornhusker Kennel Club's Ninth Annual Dog Show. Assistance for Lincoln persons wishing to enter their dogs will be available at the Lincoln Hotel Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 8 p.m.

Free classes in obediance brush up and handling of dogs will be given each Wednesday night at the F St. park.

The dog show this year will be held in the 4-H building at the Fairgrounds, Sunday, May 2.

The club expects approximately 200 dogs to be entered from Lincoln and other cities.

Orwig Takes Over; To Begin Search For New Coaches

Hiring two and possibly three new coaches comes first on the agenda for Bill Orwig, the University of Nebraska's new athletic director who took office Thursday.

"I haven't had much time to give thought to the problems confronting the athletic department although I realize that we must hire a new basketball and a new wrestling mentor," Orwig said.

Orwig said these tasks would be handled "as soon as possible," emphasizing the need for a replacement for Harry Good, who retired as NU basketball coach last week.

"I plan to get this done just as soon as possible," Orwig added. "I know that we have received many applications since Harry Good's resignation.

Orwig intimated that he would talk to Coach Bill Glassford before hiring a wrestling coach.

"I know that Al Partin assisted in football as well as holding the wrestling job," Orwig pointed out," and I'll have to find out if Glassford would like the same sort of an arrangement.

"I've been told unofficially that Hollie Lepley may devote full time to his phys ed job which would mean that we will have to hire a varsity swimming coach. That means that we shall have to line up three replacements in our athletic staff."

"I fully realize the responsibilities of my position and I will need the full co-operation of everyone—the fans, the alumni, the press and the radio. If we all pull together I believe we can look forward to a brighter future."

Mrs. Orwig was house hunting Thursday but will return to Ann Arbor until the schools are out.

Conservation Groups 'Concerned' By Hope Bill Delay

"Great disappointment and concern" at the delay in passage by the Senate of the so-called Hope watershed bill was voiced here by representatives of national conservation organizations in a joint statement.

The group, which met in Lincoln Wednesday and Thursday, called for immediate passage of the bill without amendments.

According to the statement, the Hope bill is "stalled" in the Senate committee on agriculture and forestry.

"The only objection to it (the bill) has been by the Army Corps of Engineers. But millions of conservationists do not see where the Army legitimately enters this upstream picture. This bill is an agricultural program in which small upstream structures are developed as integral parts of a watershed conservation plan," the statement read.

Army engineers have contended that the bill would set up still another flood control agency within the government.

The legislation, carrying the name of Rep. Clifford Hope (R-Kan), calls for establishment of a permanent national program of upstream watershed flood prevention and related soil and moisture conservation.

The joint statement pointed out that the bill passed the House without a dissenting vote and has the endorsement of President Eisenhower, leaders in both parties, and conservation organizations.

"It is a must that our soil and water resources are to be conserved and developed on an orderly, economical basis with a large degree of local participation and cost-sharing," the joint statement said.

Waters S. Davis Jr. of League City, Tex., president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts, called the meeting which was hosted by Otto Liebers, co-chairman of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed Association, and Raymond McConnell Jr., editor of the Lincoln Journal.

National conservation organizations, other than the NASCD, joining in the statement included the following:

Izaak Walton League of America.
National Wildlife Federation.
Wildlife Management Institute.
North American Wildlife Foundation.
American Nature Association.
Wilderness Society.
Society of American Foresters.
National Parks Association.
Nature Conservancy.
International Association of State Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners.
Sport Fishing Institute.
Soil Conservation Society of America.
Wildlife Society.
Forest Conservation Society of America.
Emergency Committee on Natural Resources.
Natural Resources Council.

The National Grange and the CIO also joined in issuing the statement.

Schweppe To Talk At Congress Of Freedom Meeting

OMAHA (AP)—Alfred J. Schweppe of Seattle, former dean of the University of Washington law school, will be keynote speaker at the Congress of Freedom convention here April 22-24.

George Thomas of Omaha, local sponsor of the meeting, said the Congress will organize its role in the 1954 congressional elections but will not indorse individual candidates.

A special patriot's award will be made to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) but Thomas said he does not expect the Senator to be here to receive it.

The Congress was founded in Omaha last October with Arnold Kruckman of Washington as president. Its organizers described it as "anti-Communist, pro-Constitution."

Bark Is Useful

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—A woman carried her weary little son aboard driver J. L. Whitmire's bus. The youngster wanted to sleep. The mother, knowing that sleep would ruin the child's regular afternoon nap at home, tried every trick to keep him awake. It was a losing battle. "See if you can find the dog," Whitmore urged the child. Then he emitted convincingly dog-like "yips." The child kept wide awake searching for the dog during the rest of the trip. Now the mother and child are Whitmire's regular patrons.

Repentance

DETROIT (AP)—A robber surrendered at the scene of his crime—a week after the holdup. It was at the box office of a midtown movie where he got $35. "Right away," he said, "my conscience started to bother me. I didn't need the money. It was just an impulse." The startled ticket seller called police.

New Brake Big Aid To Jet Landing

NEW YORK (AP)—A new jet engine "brake" was described with a claim that it will make it possible for all kinds of jets to land at existing major airports.

The device was developed by the Boeing Airplane Co. Attached near the engine tailpipe, it can be used to deflect forward the powerful thrust of fast moving jet gases.

Throwing the thrust forward after the airplane is on the ground will slow up the plane. The action is similar to that of widely-used reversible propellers.

Tested 5 Designs

The development was described to the national aeronautic meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers by Joseph F. Sutter, a Boeing aerodynamics engineer.

He said it will permit jet transports, bombers and fighters to make safe landings at major airports under all runway conditions.

Sutter said Boeing has been studying jet reverse thrust since 1951, testing five designs. The one it found best is called a "clamshell 'W'," in effect, a cap over the roaring jet exhaust.

Sutter said a "clamshell" that will reasonably fit into the space available near the engine tailpipe will give up to a 45 per cent thrust reversal.

"It is inherently safe and reliable, does not affect engine economy when not in operation and is highly satisfactory from the standpoints of mechanical simplicity, installed weight and airplane stowage."

Kimball Is Named To Real Estate Unit

New Brake Big Aid To Jet Landing

NEW YORK (AP)—A new jet engine "brake" was described with a claim that it will make it possible for all kinds of jets to land at existing major airports.

The device was developed by the Boeing Airplane Co. Attached near the engine tailpipe, it can be used to deflect forward the powerful thrust of fast moving jet gases.

Throwing the thrust forward after the airplane is on the ground will slow up the plane. The action is similar to that of widely-used reversible propellers.

Tested 5 Designs

The development was described to the national aeronautic meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers by Joseph F. Sutter, a Boeing aerodynamics engineer.

He said it will permit jet transports, bombers and fighters to make safe landings at major airports under all runway conditions.

Sutter said Boeing has been studying jet reverse thrust since 1951, testing five designs. The one it found best is called a "clamshell 'W'," in effect, a cap over the roaring jet exhaust.

Sutter said a "clamshell" that will reasonably fit into the space available near the engine tailpipe will give up to a 45 per cent thrust reversal.

"It is inherently safe and reliable, does not affect engine economy when not in operation and is highly satisfactory from the standpoints of mechanical simplicity, installed weight and airplane stowage."

Kimball Is Named To Real Estate Unit

Gov. Robert Crosby Thursday appointed Richard L. Kimball of Lincoln to the State Real Estate Commission to fill the unexpired term of Harry J. Bull, who resigned.

Bull, also from Lincoln, left the commission to become secretary of Nebraska Real Estate Association.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

(Distributed by International News Service)

Got my first chance to buy stock in a uranium mine yesterday. Fellow said it was so rich you could boil coffee on the Geiger counter.

☆ ☆ ☆

Bugs Baer

The customer's man offered it to me at four-bits per certificate. Also offered to put me on the board of directors with four wax dummies from Yucca Flat.

☆ ☆ ☆

This is new business in the investment capers. And takes the place of the old time doorknob mines and the caviar El Dorados. There wasn't a family in my home town that didn't have its parlor papered with gilt-edged coupons in a deep-dish bonanza.

☆ ☆ ☆

If this atomizing competition aggravates itself there's no doubt that America will snap the biggest bon-bon at the party.

☆ ☆ ☆

It will be gift-wrapped in testimonial uranium. Which means the stock will triple itself like Stan Musial getting hold of a slow curve.

☆ ☆ ☆

It probably goes into the H-bomb which is also stuffed with a portable earthquake. They tamp it down with a volcano and fuse it with a tornado. If you go shopping for TNT they direct you to the boys' department.

☆ ☆ ☆

Don't talk to me about juvenile delinquency when the world's doddering chemists are making clouds out of islands.

☆ ☆ ☆

I was looking at a wall map yesterday with a jiggadier-brindle. He said, "See that crack in the plaster? That used to be an archipelago."

☆ ☆ ☆

That's where we made a strategic mistake with our second H-bomb. We should have knocked off a peninsula.

☆ ☆ ☆

Anyway, radium-activated dust is the talcum of doom. It's comforting to know that we have the most powerful slag-heaps in the world. If anyone gets funny with us they'll find it's the clowns that start the circus.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

B L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

(Distributed by International News Service)

Got my first chance to buy stock in a uranium mine yesterday. Fellow said it was so rich you could boil coffee on the Geiger counter.

☆ ☆ ☆

Bugs Baer

The customer's man offered it to me at four-bits per certificate. Also offered to put me on the board of directors with four wax dummies from Yucca Flat.

☆ ☆ ☆

This is new business in the investment capers. And takes the place of the old time doorknob mines and the caviar El Dorados. There wasn't a family in my home town that didn't have its parlor papered with gilt-edged coupons in a deep-dish bonanza.

☆ ☆ ☆

If this atomizing competition aggravates itself there's no doubt that America will snap the biggest bon-bon at the party.

☆ ☆

It will be gift-wrapped a testimonial uranium. Which means the stock will triple itself like Stan Musial getting hold of a slow curve.

☆ ☆ ☆

It probably goes into the H-bomb which is also stuffed with a portable earthquake. They tamp it down with a volcano and fuse it with a tornado. If you go shopping for TNT they direct you to the boys' department.

☆ ☆ ☆

Don't talk to me about juvenile delinquency when the world's doddering chemists are making clouds out of islands.

☆ ☆ ☆

I was looking at a wall map yesterday with a jiggadier-brindle. He said, "See that crack in the plaster? That used to be an archipelago."

☆ ☆ ☆

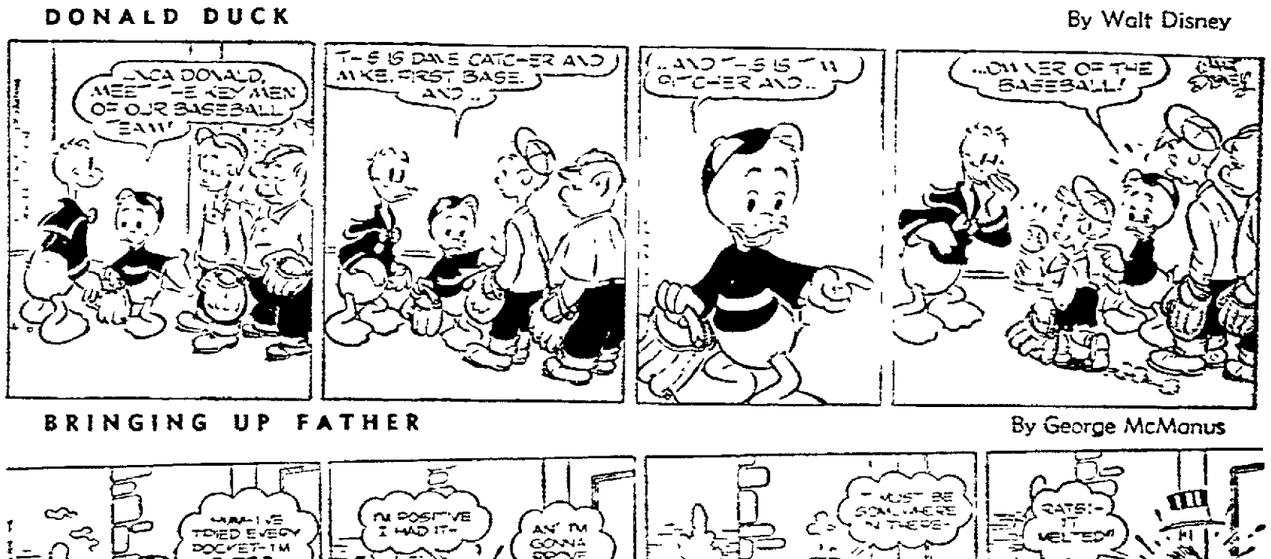

That's where we made a strategic mistake with our second H-bomb. We should have knocked off a peninsula.

☆ ☆ ☆

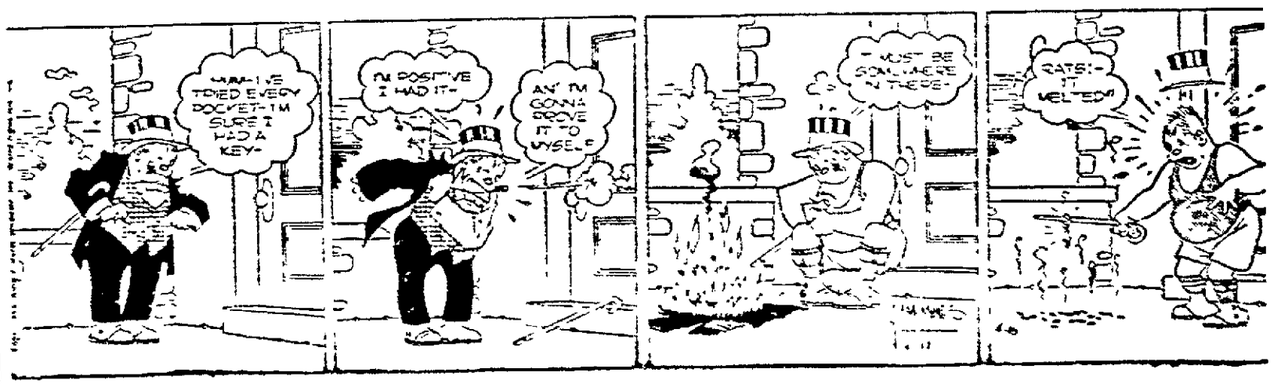

Anyway, radium-activated dust is the talcum of doom. It's comforting to know that we have the most powerful slag-heaps in the world. If anyone gets funny with us they'll find it's the clowns that start the circus.

Soyas Score Gain As Wheat Drops

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans spurted for gains running to more than nine cents while wheat dropped for losses extending to more than three cents in active dealings on the Board of Trade Thursday.

These two cereals monopolized trade attention. Corn and oats wound up practically unchanged after spending most of the day below the previous close. Lard displayed considerable strength, particularly the near-by contracts.

Wheat closed 1⅜-3¼ lower, corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, rye unchanged to ½ higher, soybeans 2 to 9½ higher and lard 20 to 73 cents a hundred pounds higher.

It was the old, familiar story in old crop soybeans. Both May and July soared to new seasonal peaks and the top for May, $3.88, was the best price for any soybean future since 1948. Both May and July finished at the day's highs after a late rally.

Trading was active and nervous in soybeans throughout the day.

To a great extent, the market's action reflected nervousness on the part of those on the short side of the market. They apparently were fearful of being unable to obtain cash beans at attractive prices to make deliveries on the May future.

Wheat was distinctly weak. Weather was given as the main reason for wheat's drop. Only scattered showers fell in sections of the winter wheat belt and no moisture was received in the severe drought area.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. government bonds bounced upward Thursday as the New York and San Francisco Federal Reserve Banks lowered their discount rate from 1¾ to 1½ per cent. The corporate bond market held steady.

The action of the two federal banks follows a similar move by the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank Tuesday. The discount rate is the interest charge at which commercial banks may borrow from the Federal Reserve and, in turn, make loans to business or individuals.

An official of the New York bank said the action definitely establishes an "easy money" policy by the Federal Reserve. Such a policy is generally regarded in financial circles as inflationary, tending to lower interest rates and raise bond prices.

Volume climbed to $3,920,000 par value from $3,650,000 Wednesday. But the corporate list steered a steady course. Railroads were the most active part of the list, but prices were a jumble of small gains and losses. Industrials and utilities were calm.

Markets To Close

All major security and commodity markets will be closed Friday in observance of Good Friday. A few livestock and produce markets will remain open.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK (AP)—
Stocks—Higher; late strength.
Bonds — Mixed; governments firm.
Cotton—Mixed; liquidation and hedging.
CHICAGO:
Wheat—Weak, scattered showers in winter wheat belt.
Corn—Steady; small price changes.
Oats—Steady; small price changes.
Hogs—Up 15 to 25 cents on butchers; top $28.40, new April record.
Cattle—Steers, heifers strong; top $27.

Stocks Irregular; Most Move Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Considerable irregularity developed in the stock market Thursday as a result of unusual areas of strength and weakness, but prices on the whole ended slightly higher.

It was the fifth time in the last six sessions that the market moved into new high ground for the year.

Basis for the continued rise has been highly favorable earnings reports by key companies and forecasts of good business ahead.

All security and commodity markets will be closed Friday in observance of Good Friday. The approach of that three-day holiday undoubtedly was a contributing factor in the irregularity.

Price changes went from around a point lower to about two points higher.

Performing well were the oils, chemicals, steels, electrical equipments, and building materials.

Showing signs of softness were the motors, rubbers, aircrafts, distillers, coppers, and textiles.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 40 cents at $120.00. It was up 80 cents Wednesday.

The average now stands at a new high for the year and the best mark since April 26, 1930, when it was at $122.

The industrial component of the average was up $1 at a new high of $162.50 while both the rails and the utilities remained unchanged at their 1954 high marks.

Volume was heavy at 2,200,000 shares. That compares with 2,330,000 shares traded Wednesday in the third heaviest session of the year.

Boy, 5, Is Struck By Car; Suffers Mild Concussion

Five-year-old Dickie Olesen of 3419 Washington was reported improving Thursday after suffering a mild brain concussion when he was struck by a car just east of 33rd and A Sts.

Dickie, who had just gotten a haircut, reportedly dashed in front of the car which was headed east on A. Driver of the car was Nurse Edith Crabtree, 52, of Lincoln General Hospital. She lives at 2544 Lafayette.

Dickie was treated for head bruises at Lincoln General.

Cops Pick Up Man Before Finding Out He's Wanted

Lincoln police made a possible record pickup Thursday of a man wanted in Wichita, Kan.

The man, Robert E. Delaney, 53, of North Bend, was brought to headquarters early Thursday morning for questioning by Det. Frank Robbins. It wasn't until Robbins got Delaney to the station, however, that it was discovered Delaney was wanted by Wichita police.

Delaney signed a waiver of extradition after questioning by police. He told them he didn't know anything about an alleged embezzlement, but that he'd return to Wichita to find out what police there wanted him for.

Robert M. Snider, city court marshall at Wichita, told police here Delaney was wanted for questioning in connection with $287 reported missing from a motor court where Delaney had been working.

Union College To Host 250 Prep Students

Union College will be host to 250 academy and high school seniors starting next Sunday.

Students are expected from Oak Park, Nevada, Ia.; Maplewood, Hutchinson, Minn.; Plainview, Redfield, S.D.; Cheyenne River, Harvey, N.D.; Platte Valley, Shelton, Neb.; Campion, Loveland, Colo.; Enterprise, Abilene, Kan.; Sunnydale, Centralia, Mo., and the Union College Academy here.

Activities planned for Sunday and Monday include sports activities, campus tour, class visitation, an orchestra concert, a band concert and a smorgasbord.

Robert E. Cleveland is chairman of the committee which planned the activities for the seniors and will be master of ceremonies at the smorgasbord Monday night. President Harvey C. Hartman will speak, and Ralph Watts, president of the Student Association for next year, will welcome the students.

Other members of the faculty committee that are assisting in the preparation and execution of the plans are: M. S. Culver, J. J. Williamson, Hilda Fern Remley, Margaret Pederson, V. S. Dunn, and George Lewis.

Oak Creek Drainage Vote Possible Soon

The fate of the Oak Creek drainage district may be placed in the hands of the district's voters in the near future.

Possible dissolution of the district is expected to be considered soon by the district's board, which would submit the issue to special election.

Government acquistion of a great deal of land in the center of the drainage district for the Lincoln Air Force base has pointed up the question as to the future necessity of maintaining the district, according to T. F. A. Williams, attorney for the district.

The district, organized in 1907 and extending from approximately West Lincoln to Woodlawn, has not had a levy for more than 20 years, Williams said.

The first meeting of the board, following the election of two new directors, will probably be held in two or three weeks.

At a district election, City Engineer D. L. Erickson was elected to a full term on the board and Floyd Flader was named to the unexpired director's term of Joseph Arrigo.

A total of 4,476 votes (based on acreage) was cast in the drainage district election conducted by the Lancaster County Clerk's office.

Nude Snarls Traffic

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (INS)—A 40-year-old woman who walked nude down busy Ventura Boulevard during the noon hour rush was hustled off to the psychopathic ward of General Hospital for observation. Police, who untangled the king-sized traffic jam, identified the woman as Dorothy Fox.

Soyas Score Gain As Wheat Drops

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans spurted for gains running to more than nine cents while wheat dropped for losses extending to more than three cents in active dealings on the Board of Trade Thursday.

These two cereals monopolized trade attention. Corn and oats wound up practically unchanged after spending most of the day below the previous close. Lard displayed considerable strength, particularly the near-by contracts.

Wheat closed 1⅞-3¼ lower, corn ½ lower to ⅛ higher, oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, rye unchanged to ½ higher, soybeans 2 to 9½ higher and lard 20 to 73 cents a hundred pounds higher.

It was the old, familiar story in old crop soybeans. Both May and July soared to new seasonal peaks and the top for May, $3.88, was the best price for any soybean future since 1948. Both May and July finished at the day's highs after a late rally.

Tradinx was active and nervous in soybeans throughout the day.

To a great extent, the market's action reflected nervousness on the part of those on the short side of the market. They apparently were fearful of being unable to obtain cash beans at attractive prices to make deliveries on the May future.

Wheat was distinctly weak. Weather was given as the main reason for wheat's drop. Only scattered showers fell in sections of the winter wheat belt and no moisture was received in the severe drought area.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. government bonds bounced upward Thursday as the New York and San Francisco Federal Reserve Banks lowered their discount rate from 1¾ to 1½ per cent. The corporate bond market held steady.

The action of the two federal banks follows a similar move by the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank Tuesday. The discount rate is the interest charge at which commercial banks may borrow from the Federal Reserve and, in turn, make loans to business or individuals.

An official of the New York bank said the action definitely establishes an "easy money" policy by the Federal Reserve. Such a policy is generally regarded in financial circles as inflationary, tending to lower interest rates and raise bond prices.

Volume climbed to $3,920,000 par value from $3,650,000 Wednesday. But the corporate list steered a steady course. Railroads were the most active part of the list, but prices were a jumble of small gains and losses. Industrials and utilities were calm.

Markets To Close

All major security and commodity markets will be closed Friday in observance of Good Friday. A few livestock and produce markets will remain open.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK (AP)—

Stocks—Higher; late strength.

Bonds — Mixed; governments firm.

Cotton—Mixed; liquidation and hedging.

CHICAGO:

Wheat—Weak, scattered showers in winter wheat belt.

Corn—Steady; small price changes.

Oats—Steady; small price changes.

Hogs—Up 15 to 25 cents on butchers; top $28.40, new April record.

Cattle—Steers, heifers strong; top $27.

Stocks Irregular; Most Move Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Considerable irregularity developed in the stock market Thursday as a result of unusual areas of strength and weakness, but prices on the whole ended slightly higher.

It was the fifth time in the last six sessions that the market moved into new high ground for the year.

Basis for the continued rise has been highly favorable earnings reports by key companies and forecasts of good business ahead.

All security and commodity markets will be closed Friday in observance of Good Friday. The approach of that three-day holiday undoubtedly was a contributing factor in the irregularity.

Price changes went from around a point lower to about two points higher.

Performing well were the oils, chemicals, steels, electrical equipments, and building materials.

Showing signs of softness were the motors, rubbers, aircrafts, distillers, coppers, and textiles.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 40 cents at $120.00. It was up 80 cents Wednesday.

The average now stands at a new high for the year and the best mark since April 26, 1930, when it was at $122.

The industrial component of the average was up $1 at a new high of $162.50 while both the rails and the utilities remained unchanged at their 1954 high marks.

Volume was heavy at 2,200,000 shares. That compares with 2,330,000 shares traded Wednesday in the third heaviest session of the year.

Boy, 5, Is Struck By Car; Suffers Mild Concussion

Five-year-old Dickie Olesen of 3419 Washington was reported improving Thursday after suffering a mild brain concussion when he was struck by a car just east of 33rd and A Sts.

Dickie, who had just gotten a haircut, reportedly dashed in front of the car which was headed east on A. Driver of the car was Nurse Edith Crabtree, 52, of Lincoln General Hospital. She lives at 2544 Lafayette.

Dickie was treated for head bruises at Lincoln General.

Cops Pick Up Man Before Finding Out He's Wanted

Lincoln police made a possible record pickup Thursday of a man wanted in Wichita, Kan.

The man, Robert E. Delaney, 53, of North Bend, was brought to headquarters early Thursday morning for questioning by Det. Frank Robbins. It wasn't until Robbins got Delaney to the station, however, that it was discovered Delaney was wanted by Wichita police.

Delaney signed a waiver of extradition after questioning by police. He told them he didn't know anything about an alleged embezzlement, but that he'd return to Wichita to find out what police there wanted him for.

Robert M. Snider, city court marshall at Wichita, told police here Delaney was wanted for questioning in connection with $287 reported missing from a motor court where Delaney had been working.

Union College To Host 250 Prep Students

Union College will be host to 250 academy and high school seniors starting next Sunday.

Students are expected from Oak Park, Nevada, Ia.; Maplewood, Hutchinson, Minn.; Plainview, Redfield, S.D.; Cheyenne River, Harvey, N.D.; Platte Valley, Shelton, Neb.; Campion, Loveland, Colo.; Enterprise, Abilene, Kan.; Sunnydale, Centralia, Mo., and the Union College Academy here.

Activities planned for Sunday and Monday include sports activities, campus tour, class visitation, an orchestra concert, a band concert and a smorgasbord.

Robert E. Cleveland is chairman of the committee which planned the activities for the seniors and will be master of ceremonies at the smorgasbord Monday night. President Harvey C. Hartman will speak, and Ralph Watts, president of the Student Association for next year, will welcome the students.

Other members of the faculty committee that are assisting in the preparation and execution of the plans are: M. S. Culver, J. J. Williamson, Hilda Fern Remley, Margaret Pederson, V. S. Dunn, and George Lewis.

Oak Creek Drainage Vote Possible Soon

The fate of the Oak Creek drainage district may be placed in the hands of the district's voters in the near future.

Possible dissolution of the district is expected to be considered soon by the district's board, which would submit the issue to special election.

Government acquistion of a great deal of land in the center of the drainage district for the Lincoln Air Force base has pointed up the question as to the future necessity of maintaining the district, according to T. F. A. Williams, attorney for the district.

The district, organized in 1907 and extending from approximately West Lincoln to Woodlawn, has not had a levy for more than 20 years, Williams said.

The first meeting of the board, following the election of two new directors, will probably be held in two or three weeks.

At a district election, City Engineer D. L. Erickson was elected to a full term on the board and Floyd Flader was named to the unexpired director's term of Joseph Arrigo.

A total of 4,476 votes (based on acreage) was cast in the drainage district election conducted by the Lancaster County Clerk's office.

Defense Is Split

Reds Drive Closer To Heart Of Fortress

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—Red-led Vietminh troops smashed to within 2,400 feet of the heart of Dien Bien Phu Thursday and split the battered bastion's east-west defenses. The move was been as a prelude to another mass rebel assault on the northwest Indo-China fortress.

A French union spokesman said the rebels had managed to dig in along the north part of the fortress' main air strip after blowing up part of the runway under cover of darkness.

The thrust faced the beleaguered garrison with its gravest threat since rebels mounted their assault on Dien Bien Phu March 13. It appeared the opening move for a third rebel try to smash the bastion and score a major victory that would catch the attention of the Geneva conference set to begin April 26.

Long Section Held

The French spokesman said counter-attacking French infantry had succeeded in filling in part of the trenches, but that the Vietminh still held a long section of the vital strip.

The French plastered the shell-pocked strip with tank and artillery fire in a desperate effort to dislodge the rebels who had dug in after blowing up the northern sector of the runway.

The Vietminh gained their foothold on the scarred air strip by planting nitroglycerine charges on the runway during the night.

Services Permitted

BERLIN (INS)—East German authorities have lifted occupation border regulations to allow Easter church services to be held in the so-called Communist "security zone" along the East-West frontier.

Reds Drive Closer To Heart Of Fortress

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—Red-led Vietminh troops smashed to within 2,400 feet of the heart of Dien Bien Phu Thursday and split the battered bastion's east-west defenses. The move was been as a prelude to another mass rebel assault on the northwest Indo-China fortress.

A French union spokesman said the rebels had managed to dig in along the north part of the fortress' main air strip after blowing up part of the runway under cover of darkness.

The thrust faced the beleaguered garrison with its gravest threat since rebels mounted their assault on Dien Bien Phu March 13. It appeared the opening move for a third rebel try to smash the bastion and score a major victory that would catch the attention of the Geneva conference set to begin April 26.

Long Section Held

The French spokesman said counter-attacking French infantry had succeeded in filling in part of the trenches, but that the Vietminh still held a long section of the vital strip.

The French plastered the shell-pocked strip with tank and artillery fire in a desperate effort to dislodge the rebels who had dug in after blowing up the northern sector of the runway.

The Vietminh gained their foothold on the scarred air strip by planting nitroglycerine charges on the runway during the night.

Services Permitted

BERLIN (INS)—East German authorities have lifted occupation border regulations to allow Easter church services to be held in the so-called Communist "security zone" along the East-West frontier.

Mysterious Windshield Pock Marks Bring An Appeal To Ike

Seattle Residents Baffled By Blobs On Automobiles

SEATTLE (AP)—Residents complained by the hundreds about a mysterious rash pock-marking their automobile windshields and a baffled Mayor Allan Pomeroy appealed to President Eisenhower for aid.

Reports of pock-marked windshields rolled in from all corners of the city. Some owners said the marks appeared while they watched their cars—and all over town people were bobbing in and out of offices to check the parked vehicles.

The mayor's telegram, which also went to Gov. Arthur B. Langlie, urged that "appropriate agencies be instructed to co-operate with local authorities on an emergency basis."

"Chemical analysis of mysterious powder adhering to damaged windshields indicates the material may be spread by wind and not be a police matter at all," his wire said.

Resembles Cinders

Several persons reported finding a metallic substance in small blobs on windshields and car tops. The U.S. Army engineers examined it under a microscope and said it resembled cinders. Some blobs were attracted by a magnet; others repelled.

Scientists at the University of Washington said many chemicals which would disfigure glass also would affect the automobile paint, which so far has defied the gremlins. Hydrofluoric acid is used in etching glass, but no industrial plant in this area uses enough to account for such widespread damage.

The mystery started in Bellingham, near the Canadian border, three weeks ago and spread full scale this week southward 100 miles through Seattle, where the first reports started Wednesday night and flourished many-fold Thursday.

Geiger Counter

The incidents were blamed on will-o-the-wisp vandals with some sort of noiseless pellet thrower when Bellingham motorists first started reporting the damage.

Some investigators voiced the theory that mysterious atmospheric conditions might be responsible. At the Widbey Island Naval Air Station, after a flurry of pitted windshield reports, a geiger counter was used to check on the possibility of H-bomb after-effects. But there was no sign of any radioactive elements.

The search for B-B shooting vandals resulted in roadblocks being set up in a couple of points north of Seattle in the past two days. They didn't produce any results—and the windshield reports continued to mount.

Lincoln Newspaper Carriers Are Guests At Movie

He is on the job every day but it is not all work and no play for Lincoln newspaper carrier boys.

They make a profit from their work and gain valuable business experience but their is a lot of fun thrown in with it. And every one of the approximate 900 carrier salesmen and their substitutes who attended the special Stuart Theater showing of "Prince Valiant" will agree that the daily covering of their routes is worth it in many respects.

The carrieds saw the exciting cinemascope showing of the fabulous comic page Viking as guests of the theater and the Cooper Foundation.

Attending were all Lincoln Star and Lincoln Journal carriers and their substitutes.

The showing was just one of the many contests, parties and other advantages of being a carrier in addition to the profits made.

DDT 'Dangerous' Story Not True, According To Hill

R. E. Hill, chairman of the department of entomology at the University of Nebraska said Thursday night that the dangers of DDT increasing human ailments when sprayed on food "are not based on fact."

Hill said that DDT was a "man saver rather than a man killer."

More than 5,000,000 lives have been saved since 1942 because of DDT, he said.

The insecicide has aided the control of malaria, typhus, and dysentery, the NU professor stated.

He also said that "there has been a correlating increase in crops with the appearance of DDT on the civilian market since 1945."

"Insecticide control has resulted in a tremendous increase in crops," he said.

Hill spoke to the Lincoln Farmer's Club at the YWCA.

Two-Car Crash Injures Man, 67

Henry J. Klein, 67, of 1536 Charleston, was reported in fair condition early Thursday evening after suffering head injuries in a two-car accident at 9th and Charleston.

Klein's car was involved in a collision with a car driven by Robert G. Blades, 35, of 6635 Y. Klein, the driver, was headed east and Blade south when the accident occurred.

Klein was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for possible brain concussion. Blade suffered a bruised left knee.

Police reported that Klein's car was knocked to the southeast curb of the intersection by the impact and that it flipped over on its back when it struck the curb. Police had to right the car before Klein could get out.

Resembles Cinders

Several persons reported finding a metallic substance in small blobs on windshields and car tops. The U.S. Army engineers examined it under a microscope and said it resembled cinders. Some blobs were attracted by a magnet; others repelled.

Scientists at the University of Washington said many chemicals which would disfigure glass also would affect the automobile paint, which so far has defied the gremlins. Hydrofluoric acid is used in etching glass, but no industrial plant in this area uses enough to account for such widespread damage.

The mystery started in Bellingham, near the Canadian border, three weeks ago and spread full scale this week southward 100 miles through Seattle, where the first reports started Wednesday night and flourished many-fold Thursday.

Geiger Counter

The incidents were blamed on will-o-the-wisp vandals with some sort of noiseless pellet thrower when Bellingham motorists first started reporting the damage.

Some investigators voiced the theory that mysterious atmospheric conditions might be responsible. At the Widbey Island Naval Air Station, after a flurry of pitted windshield reports, a geiger counter was used to check on the possibility of H-bomb after-effects. But there was no sign of any radioactive elements.

The search for B-B shooting vandals resulted in roadblocks being set up in a couple of points north of Seattle in the past two days. They didn't produce any results—and the windshield reports continued to mount.

Lincoln Newspaper Carriers Are Guests At Movie

He is on the job every day but it is not all work and no play for Lincoln newspaper carrier boys.

They make a profit from their work and gain valuable business experience but their daily covering of their routes is worth it in many respects.

is a lot of fun thrown in with it. And every one of the approximate 900 carrier salesmen and their substitutes who attended the special Stuart Theater showing of "Prince Valiant" will agree that the

The carrieds saw the exciting cinemascope showing of the fabulous comic page Viking as guests of the theater and the Cooper Foundation.

Attending were all Lincoln Star and Lincoln Journal carriers and their substitutes.

The showing was just one of the many contests, parties and other advantages of being a carrier in addition to the profits made.

DDT 'Dangerous' Story Not True, According To Hill

R. E. Hill, chairman of the department of entomology at the University of Nebraska said Thursday night that the dangers of DDT increasing human ailments when sprayed on food "are not based on fact."

Hill said that DDT was a "man saver rather than a man killer."

More than 5,000,000 lives have been saved since 1942 because of DDT, he said.

The insecicide has aided the control of malaria, typhus, and dysentery, the NU professor stated.

He also said that "there has been a correlating increase in crops with the appearance of DDT on the civilian market since 1945."

"Insecticide control has resulted in a tremendous increase in crops," he said.

Hill spoke to the Lincoln Farmer's Club at the YWCA.
